LORD GRANVILLE MAKES HIS OBEISANCE TO BISMARCK.

The Brittsh Foreign Secretary Acknowl-

LONDON, March 6.-Earl Granville de ivered a long speech in the lords this even. ing about the Bismarck controversy. He said it was now more than ever before to the interests of Germany and England that the relations between the two governments should be good because it was at a time when both powers were about to meet each other in all parts of the world. "Whilst each power will maintain its rights both ought to advance," continued the speaker, "in their common work of extending commerce and civilization in a spirit of candid co-operation." "All my efforts," said Earl Constitution of the control of co operation." "All my efforts," said Pari Granville, "will be exerted in favor of the conciliatory policy which Prince Bismarck has sketched out." He denied that he had published confidential matter communicated by Prince Bismarck, who, he said must have misunderstood him, for England beyond any other nation was gratified at Germany's greatness and would spare no efforts to retain the friendship spare no efforts to retain the friendship now existing between the two nations. "I hope," said Earl Granville, "to make such a statement in the regular way to Prince Bismarck as shall show him that the points raised by him concerning the publication of communications may bear a very different color. I sincerely regret that the speech I made in the house of lords under pressure of a severe party attack should have annoyed Prince Bismarck. The duke of Richmond had attacked the government, saying a great foreign statesman condemns it. I retorted that the duke of Richmond had no occasion to complain of Prince Bismarck's disapproval because we failed to follow the very friendly advice Prince Bismarck gave to the previous government to take to the previous government to take Egypt. I added that I presumed he did not expect us to abandon all liberty of not expect us to abandon all liberty of action in our foreign and colonial policy. The thrust was aimed at the duke of Richmond, not at Prince Bismarck. The latter, to my great regret, construed this as having a meaning, which I positively assert does not attach to it. Regarding the words! 'take Egypt,' I ought probably to have used the better phrase, although the words were certainly applicable to annexation, a protectorate, or even to occupation. tion, a protectorate, or even to occupation.

Nobody would regret more, and nobody would be in jured more by a breach of confidence, than myself. I did not mean to refer to those private and friendly communications described by Prince Bismarck in the cations described by Prince Bismarck in the reichstag, but to the subsequent declarations which were not confidential, and which appeared to me to express Germany's former, if not her present, hope that England would represent Europe's in terests in Egypt. No country more fully and cheerfully appreciates Germany's imand cheerfully appreciates Germany's im-mensely important position in Europe than does England."

Earl Northbrook maintained that the British navy was superior to that of France or any other nation. He said it was the intention of the government to build thirty torpedo boats. Ten had already been ordered. He gave assurance that the government would gladly assist the various British colonies in improving

Bismarck's Good Offices. LONDON, March 6 .- Count Herbert Bis. marck visited the Prince of Wales to-day. He was charged with a special communication to the effect that the emperor was desirous of maintaining friendly relations between the statesmen of England and Germany. The German ambassador had a conference with Earl Granville, at which he is reported to have given assurance that Bismarck was exerting his influence to in-duce the Russian minister of foreign affairs to agree to the simultaneous withdrawal of Russians and Afghans from the disputed

PORTLAND, March 3, 1885. With great reluctance I have abandoned the republican party finally. I have no longer any doubt that it has deliberately made an alliance—offensive and defensive—with the beer and whisky interests of the country. It is not possible on any other hypothes s to account for the attitude of the party in Maine of offensive and insulting, antagonism to prohibition and active sympathy with the low, vile, secret grog shops which infest our large towns, "Carthage must be destroyed."

He denies that fould still managed the Union Facific and declares that he (Adams) is alone responsible for the management of the company.

Working a Boom. NEW YORK, March 6 .- There are rumors that every iron ship yard in the United States will soon be taxed to the utmost to fill orders for steamers for war service under a foreign flag. It is said that parties at New York are now engaged setting up plans and specifications for this new fleet and that already quite a number of American built steamers have been selected for cruising purposes by an European power in the event of hostilities on the other side of the water. A Mg boom is also expected in the provision market.

Too Good for this World. ALBION, N.Y., March 6 .- The accounts of Charles S. King, teller of the Orleans county national bank, who shot himself yesterday, have been found correct. The impulse which led to King's self-destruction was a morbid sense of his obligation which, as a christian, he owed to his fellow men. He was wont to say: "No man can do business and do right" He leaves an invalid wife and two children.

OTTAWA, March 6 .- Mr. Roberts (Hamilton) presented petitions from ankers, liquor dealers and others praying for the appointment of a commission to enquire into the working of the Canada temperance act and that no further action be taken under that law until the commission has reported; also asking for compensation. On account of several irregularities the speaker ruled that the petitions could not be received. Mr. White (Cardwell) resumed the budget debate. He dealt with Sir Richard

Cartwright's figures of population, and claimed that the people of Canada could not be made to believe the population less now than six or eight years ago. The increase of population had been 36 per cent. in Canada in a decade against 18 per cent. in Massachusetts and 30 per cent. in New York. He instanced the peculiar nature of the Ontario school statistics used by Sir Richard Cartwright. The Belleville and London school population had remained exactly stationary for a number of years. The figures were wholly unreliable. While the debt had been largely increased it was the debt had been largely increased it was all incurred for useful purposes. Ontario, which, according to Sir Richard Cartwright, was decreasing in population, had increased her expenditure 46 per cent. He claimed that Canada's credit had been largely improved in England. Canadian securities had increased 17 per cent. while the United States had increased 19 per cent. He pointed to the growth of manufactures as shown by the increased imports of raw materials, which corroboimports of raw materials, which corrobo-rated the report of the commissioners. In

DOWN ON THE CHANGES

THE DRY GOODS IMPORTERS SENI PROTESTS TO SIR LEONARD.

Pointed Out — What the Aggrieve Dealers Request from the Governmen The changes announced in the Canadian tariff by Sir Leonard Tilley Tuesday last have given rise to discontent in sever quarters. The dry goods importers Toronto who are members of the board of trade (and they include nearly the whole of the city firms) are the first to show their disapproval. These gentlemen have held two meetings in the board room and prepared a memorial or resolution embodying their grievances. This document was forwarded to Sir Leonard Tilley last night, and copies were also sent to the different boards of trade in Canada. It is expected that the board of trade as a body will take the tariff changes up, discuss them, pass resolutions and send a deputation to Ottawa. The resolution forwarded to Ottawa last evening read as follows: ***

That it is the opinion of the dry goods trade that the change proposed in sec. I, clause 4. relating to costume cloths, serges and similar fabrics under 25 inches wide, is objectionable, owing to the difficulties that are likely to arise as to classification, especially in the smaller ports.

This particular class of goods has always Toronto who are members of the board of Miss McGuinness was removed to the jail hospital last night and when she recovers will be placed on trial on the charge of causing the death of her child through culpable negligence. smaller ports.

This particular class of goods has always been troublesome, and the trade has good reason to believe that goods are often entered at small ports at irregular and lower rates, also that the present classification being well established and known by both importers and appraisers, any change therein is unadvisable. SALVATION ARMY WORK.

Large Increase in Soldiers Buring the Past Seven Months.

The Canadian Advance, a pamphlet got out by the salvation army commissioner for Canada, i Major T. B. Coombs, is to hand. The commissioner commenced his work June 1, 1884, when there were 41 corps 30 out posts and 120 officers. On December 31, the corps had increased to 80, the outposts to 35, and the officers to 265, but a still further increase is announced to March 1 when the corps numbered 96, the outposts 47 and the officers 293. The amount received on account of the headquarters on the way to fill orderstaken by the trade on the basis of the present rate of duty, and should the increased rate of duty be enforced the extra 5 per cent will be a clear loss to the importers without any chance for them to recoup themselves.

That the proposed change in the clause relating to costs of inland transportation, etc., are, in the opinion of the dry good trade, extremely objectionable, causing much labor without producing any appreciable result, and would open the door to fraud, as we believe it has been the experience of the United States government that it was practically impossible to enforce such a clause with justice to the honest importer, and as far as the interests of our own trade is concerned we would prefer an increase in the rate of duty if such should be deemed necessary.

Resolutions of condolence were passed with the retiring master, Jabel Robinson; Wm. Brock, I. S. MoLeod and Jesse Trill, on account of family afflictions.

The committee on agriculture and education congratulated the grange on the continued improvement in the various grades of stock in the dominion. Underdrainage was strongly advocated, as was fertilizing the soil with clover. Farmers were urged to secure a good education, so that the saying "only a farmer" would become obsolete. Agricultural education in the public schools was also suggested.

The prize for the best essay on Pomona was awarded to Mrs. C. Moffatt of Edgehill. The thanks of the grange were tenhill. The thanks of the grange were ten-dered to the city council for the use of the xecutive chamber.

fearing the Agricultural College to Pic--A Naive Reply by the Pr Against Sunday Excursions.

In the local legislature yester lay a bill was introduced by Mr. Wood to prov for the better observance of the Lord's day by prohibiting Sunday excursions. The premier created great amusement by his naive reply to an interpellation by Mr Meredith, who asked what was the cau of the delay in appointing a registrar for north and east Middlesex, whether it was proposed to fill the vacancy, and if so when? "The cause of the delay," said the premier, "is that the government have not decided whom to appoint." He added that it was proposed to fill the vacancy before decided whom to appoint." He added that it was proposed to fill the vacancy before long. Mr. Hardy, in reply to Mr. Meredith, stated that no selection had been made of a site for the new asylum buildings at Orillia, though there had been negotiations looking to the purchase of the Markham farm at $45 an acre.

Mr. Carnegie moved that a select committee of seven members be appointed to enquire into the working of the Ontario agricultural college and farm, especially with regard to the financial management. He contended that the college was not answering the purpose for which it was instituted, and gave a number of figures showing that the attendance was diminishing while the cost per head was steadily increasing. The expense last year, exclusive of the stock imported, was $28,464, the revenue only $6293. During the last five years the total outlay was $89,220 and the revenue $32,000, being an annual average deficit of $13,000. He went on to compare the working of the college with that of similar institutions in the States to the disadvantage of the former. For two mortal hours and a half he whanged the house with his red right jaw, going into a variety of petry details of the management of the college. It was an awful infliction, and most of the members weakened under the monotonous flow of words interspersed with quotations from the public accounts and sbught refuge in the smoking-room, the "social club" and the library. The reporters' galleries were almost deserted and the game of nap in the reporters' room, which had been interrupted by the announcement "prayers are over," was vigorously resumed. And still Carneigie talked on of students and professors, barns and subsoiling, cattle, sheep, ewes, calves, blooded stock, dollars, dollars, 1880, 1884, public accounts, Prof. Brown, more dollars, expenditure, revenue, creamery, experimental farm, lambs, laboratory, bulls, etc., until 6 o'clock arrived. Mr. A. M. Ross moved the adjournment of the debate.
