CATARRE

HOME TREATMENT

FOR THE CURE OF

CATARRH,

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS. AND HAY FEVER.

The microscope has proved that these diseases are contagious and that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the upper air passages and eustachian tubes, and as a result of this discovery it is now made easy to PERMANENTLY cure this curse of our country by a few simple applications made ONCE IN TWO WEEKS by the patient at home. Cases of twenty years' standing were cured by this new treatment during the first year of its introduction to the public, now seven years ago, and THEY ARE CURES STILL.

Before this discovery was made a weekly, daily and even semi-daily application snuff or other irritant, which would cause sneezing, was the regular method of treating these diseases, thereby keeping the delicate membrane in a STATE OF CON-STANT IRRITATION, and forming a nidus very inviting to Smallpox, Typhoid Fever, Diphtheria, Cholera and other epidemics, and as a natural result of these daily and sometimes tri-daily applications NOT ONE PERMANENT CURE HAS EVER BEEN RECORDED.

Since this discovery was made by Mr. A. H. Dixon, the best physicians in England and France have endorsed his method, and unite in stating that it is UTTERLY IMPOSSIBLE to cure Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness or Hay Fever by any application MADE OFTENER THAN ONCE IN TWO WEEKS....from the fact that the membrane must get a chance to heal before another application is made. Over one hundred thousand cases have been treated by this method in Great Britain, France, United States, Canada and Australia, with a result of less than five per cent, of failures to restore the hearing or cure Catarrh and Hay Fever.

We give indisputable references of Cures effected by the use of our remedy YEARS AGO and who are CURED STILL, thus proving the permanency of the cure. References of a few months' standing are worthless, for the reason that the parties may only be relieved for the

We have no agents for our remedies, therefore let sufferers guard themselves against frauds and imitators who sell one and the same kind of remedy for every case. CASES OF CATARRII AND CATARRHAL TROUBLES DIFFER SO WIDELY THAT THEY ALL RE QUIRE DIFFERENT TREATMENT. We give every case our special attention, and our treatment is so simple that a child car

WHAT IS CATARRH?

and Beale,

It is a duty we owe to sufferers from Catarrh to point out to them the position they stand in relative to cholera, diphtheria or other epidemics. It is as follows:—The delicate lining, membrane of the nostrils (generally the posterior mars) is in a state of inflammation.

In parts it is destroyed, and there is present an ulcer (open sore) in which germs are carrying on their destroying process. The cholera microbe or germ or other disease to which the patient may be exposed, carried in during inspiration, finds this spot exactly suited to its development, and sets to work with great activity to destroy the tissues, poison the blood and to reproduce taself with ever-increasing virulence. This, added to the fact that Catarrh always undermines the lencth of its victims and diminishes their ability to resist disease, places sufferers from Catarrhal affections at a great disadvantage in the event of a visitation from cholera or other epidemics.

Many attempts have been made to discover a cure for this distressing disease, by the use of inhalants and other ingenious devices (old exploded theories which no intelligent physician preseribes at the present day (but none of these treatments can do a particle of good until the parasites are either destroyed or removed from the mucous sissue. It is a duty we owe to sufferers from Catarrh to point out to them

Octarrh is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of a vegetable parasite in the internal lining membrane of the hose. This parasite is only developed under favorable circumstances, and these are:

Morbid states of the blood, produced by any condition that impairs the general health and reduces the tone of the system, overwork, mental worry, living in damp and malarial districts, the rapid change of temperature from heat to cold, so peculiar to the North American climate, suppressed perspiration and retention of the effete matter of the skin, badly ventilated sleeping apartments, courses of poison ous drugs, such as mercury or quinine, the germ poison of syphilis, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood.

These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrals and down the fauces or back part of the mouth, causing deafness; burrowing in the vocal chords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

A great variety of symptomic produced by the presence and the blood in from one to three applications where the bone is affected, but where the bone is not affected, but where the bone is affected, but where the bone is affected.
