

should by all means be housed in extreme weather, and particularly those which give milk, or a failure in the quantity of milk will be experienced. Wherefore, instead of keeping twenty cows poorly fed and but half of them stabled, sell ten and give the remaining ten food in amount equal to what the twenty original had; procure constant stabling for them, and you will receive quite as much milk and butter in return as was derived from the former mode of treating twenty. Sweet potatoes, carrots, pumpkins, and ground oats, are unquestionably among the best articles for food for milch cattle; and they occasion the milk and butter to assume a finer flavor and color, as well as increase of quantity.
