Higher Insurance Rates.

Toronto, Feb. 20.-At a meeting of Canadian fire underwriters to-day several increases in rates was decided on in Ontario and Quebec. Insurance on in Ontario and Quebec. Insurance men take the ground, that broadly speaking, while the classification of the towns in this province is fairly adequate it does not cover either exposure to individual risk or what may be termed "conflagration hazard" in blocks or districts. In other words an entirely new system of rating is to be made. entirely new system of rating is to be made. There will be no flat rate over a dis-

Nelson Wholesalers.

Nelson, B. C., Feb. 20 .- The wholesale men of Nelson are looking forward to this year's trade as one unprecedented in the wholesale business of Kootenay. A large increase of business is expected from the Boundary and Lardeau distriets, and with a conservative increase in the older sections, this year's turnover will undoubtedly be a record breaker. Some of the leading wholesale houses carrying stocks here are: Brackman & Ker Milling Co., tiour and feed; H. J. Evans & Co., commission merchants, A. Macdonald & Co., wholesale grocers, (a branch of Winnipeg house), W. F. Teetzel & Co., assayers' supplies; Kootenay Electrical Supply and Construction company, electrical supplies; F. trict, but each risk will be judged on trict, but each risk will be judged on its merits, and advances will be made not only on all hazardous risks but on buildings in the neighborhood of the funch risks. All towns and cities that come under the jurisdiction of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' association will be rated in this way and the result, it is confidently expected, will be such an increase in the revenues of the companies as will repay them for the lesses they have recently suffered.

The decisions arrived at apply directly to Onario and Quebec, the two provinces over which the Lanadian Fire Underwriters' association have direct control. As to Manitoba, all companies in the Association do business there and that province will be affected by the change in the classification of risks which, of course, is another term for an advance in rates. In British Columbia the companies are understood to be not so much interested as they already obtain good rates there while their losses have not been excessive. New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are not under the jurisdiction of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' association, but as in the case of Manitoba the same companies control the business and insurance men considently count upon a re-arrangement of rates there also.

rates there also.
So far as Toronto is concerned the Toronto Hoard of Fire Underwriters meets to-day and it is not unlikely some changes will be made in certain ratings here.

The annual meeting of the Cheese and Rutter Makers Union of Manitoba was held this week in the city. Inand Butter Makers Union of Mantioba was held this week in the city. Interesting discussions occurred on the questions of securing the B. C. markets for Canadian producers, freight rates, how to produce good butter and cheese, etc. The following resolutions were adopted: "Ist. Asking of the railway company a reduction in rates on butter, cheese and meats to British Columbia and Montreal, owing to the fact that a large quantity of butter and meats are imported from the States and elsewhere into British Columbia in winter, and in consequence we are losing a valuable market, while the railway company lose a valuable triffic." End, "Owing to the fact that convidenable quantities of butter and meat are disported into British Columbia, and sold at a very low price, we hereby ask the federal government to increase the duty on the above named goods to the same rate as we are charged on Canadian goods of similar character going into the States."
