

Patterson, Dr.—Continued.

- "Amiral," was wrecked at Louisbourg, 116-118; believes the Portuguese built a fort at St. Peter's C B., 90, 91;
- Pepperrell, Sir William; a merchant of Kittery on the Piscataqua, 39; given command of land forces of New England expedition of 1745 against Louisbourg, ib.; his character, ib.; his autograph, 45; his journal of siege, 147; his success at Louisbourg, 52; made a baronet, 56; his career after expedition of 1745, ib.; his death, ib.; his portraits, 157; career of his grandson, William Pepperrell Sparhawk, who assumes the name and is given the title, 56 n.
- Petit Degrat; fishing settlement in Cape Breton, 101.
- Pichon, alias Tyrrell; his work on Cape Breton, "Lettres et Mémoires," 142; speaks of white bears in Cape Breton, 10.
- Picturesque Canada; references to Louisbourg and Cape Breton, 164.
- Pitt, William, (Lord Chatham); the success of his plans in America, 65, 66, 121; his autograph, 65.
- Plaisance or Placentia in Newfoundland; surrendered to England, 21.
- Point Rochefort; burying ground at Louisbourg, 53, 115 n.
- Port Dauphin. See St. Anne.
- Port d'Orléans. See Inganiche.
- Port Hawkesbury; flourishing village at strait of Canso, 105, 106.
- Porto Novo; island off eastern coast of Cape Breton, 13 n., 98.
- Portraits, bibliography of; Champlain, 139; Pepperrell, 157; Wolfe, ib.; Pitt, ib., Boscawen, ib.; Amherst, ib.
- Port Royal, in Acadie, 16, 17, 20; now Annapolis, ib.
- Port Toulouse or St. Peter's in Cape Breton, 21, 90; taken by the New England expedition of 1745, 51.
- Portuguese attempt to colonize Cape Breton, 12; place of settlement probably Niganiche, ib., 138.
- Power, L. G.; on the voyages of the Northmen, 125.
- Prévost, Abbé; in his "Voyages" gives account of Cape Breton and Louisbourg, 149.
- Prévost, Commissary at Louisbourg, 143.
- Prima tierra vista; name probably given by J. Cabot to Cape North in Cape Breton, 8-11, 127-130.
- Prince Edward Island; probably Cabot's St. John, 10, 11, 127, 128.
- Prince, Rev. Thos.; sermons on Louisbourg and the Duke d'Anville's expedition, 149.
- RAFN, Carl Christian; "Antiquitates Americanæ," 123.
- Rameau, E.; on the Acadian French in Cape Breton, 160.
- Rand, Dr.; his works on the Micmac language, 159, 160.
- Reeves, Arthur Middleton; "Wineland the Good," 124; his death, ib.
- Review of reign of George II: anonymous pamphlet, references to siege of Louisbourg, 154.
- River Bourgeois; Acadian French settlement at, 104.
- River Inhabitants; Acadian French settlement in Cape Breton, 104.
- Roche, Marquis de la; his abortive attempt at colonization, 15.
- Rochefoucauld, de la, Duke d'Anville; his unfortunate expedition of 1746 for recapture of Louisbourg, and unhappy death, 57; place of burial, ib.; his remains removed to Louisbourg, 57, 58.
- Roger, Charles; "History of Canada," refers to siege of 1745, 153.
- Rogers, Robert; "Concise account of Cape Breton," 162.
- Romances of Cape Breton; by W. Mackinnon, 164; by C. W. Hall, ib.
- Rouse or Rous, Capt. J.; commands Shirley galley in 1745, 41 n.; his subsequent career, 54.
- SAGAS, Icelandic; their historical value, 7, 123.
- Saint-Laurent, island of; name given to Cape Breton by Champlain, 14.
- Sandham, A.; on medals of Louisbourg, 157.
- Sartine, M. de; his maps and charts of Cape Breton, 156.
- Scatari island; its position and natural characteristics 11, 94, 97.
- Schools of Cape Breton, 87, 88.
- Shirley, Governor of Massachusetts, 37; responsible for expedition of 1745 against Louisbourg, 38; his letter to the Duke of Newcastle on siege of 1745, 147; his autograph, 37.
- Smith, C. C.; on the struggle in Acadia and Cape Breton, in "Nar. & Crit. Hist. of Am.," 146; his error as to Tyng and capture of Vigilante, 54 n.
- Smith, Hon. W.; on Cape Breton, 163.
- Spanish Harbour and River. See Sydney.