The form that this will take has been seen in outline for some time and is likely to result in the logical promopresent cabinet to more responsible positions, with a later move to follow in the course of a year or so. According to the expectations of those in touch with government affairs, Hon. J. J. Foy will go to the senate at Ottawa. The portfolio of attorneygeneral will then be taken by Hon, W. J. Hanna, who in turn will be succeeded as provincial secretary by Hon. L. B. Lucas. There will then be two positions for the government to fill with new men, viz.: the offices of attorney-general and provincial treasurer. Sir James Whitney is expected to stay at the helm of state for at least a year, and according to the condition of his health and the vigor of his constitution at present, he will of a British subject in constitutionalist lead his administration for a much longer time. Should this arrangement, which is understood to be at present gaining the serious consideration of the premier, come to pass, it is likely that a strong man with distinct financial bected to a courtmartial at Zacatecas treasury. The Eligibles. Speculation still centres about the likely choice of the government. According to cabinet experience the eligibles would narrow down to Sir Adam Beck, R. F. Preston and Col. Hendrie. It is understood, however, that none of these are particularly desirous of the responsibility. Moreover, the eastern and western extremities of the province are claiming a right to new cabinet representation and are proposing possible men.

It would not be altogether improbable if a man of financial standing in Western Ontario should find a seat at the council board, and that the public works department would be placed under the control of a minister chosen from the eastern counties.

PLACED MANY SETTLERS.
