

EDITOR'S PREFACE

This study by Professor Carver on "War Thrift" is published too late to be of use to the American public in war time. But the subject is one on which we, as a people, have many lessons to learn, even in time of peace. For that reason alone the publication of the study will be helpful, especially in view of the excellent treatment of the subject by the author. Professor Carver's treatment is both theoretical and practical and should be useful in helping us to order our public and private affairs so as to secure greater economy.
