SAVED HIS BOY.

A Plain Statement from Mr. Robt. McLeod of Galt.

The Little Son Was Paralyzed on One Side, and Doctor's Treatment Did Him No Good—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Were Given and Effected a Thorough Cure.

From The Galt Reporter.

Mr. Robert McLeod is a gentleman well known in the town of Galt and throughout the district. In conversation with a member of The Reporter staff recently, he connected to me the facts concerning the illness and restoration to health of his little boy. He said:

"Yes, I believe that had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my little boy would not have been living. To-day Willie, who is ten years of age, was afflicted with an illness that developed into paralysis of the left side. He had the best medical aid within my reach, but nothing seemed to benefit him. He got so bad that a pin could be run into his left hand to the bone without his feeling it. At last, however, one night I was feeling pretty blue about him. I felt that he was going to be an invalid for the rest of his life. I reviewed things in my worst light. On this particular night I got up on my feet and went to the door to take a quiet walk, but just as I got to the door I saw lying on a step a pamphlet. I picked it up hastily, and saw it was an advertising book of the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company. I only read a few words when the conviction seized me that here was something that might possibly benefit my boy. I at once went down to Mr. Ferris's drug store and purchased a box of the pills. At the time he had taken two boxes the color had come back into his hand and arm, and by the time he had taken half a dozen boxes he was cured, and now he is better than he ever was before in his life. He is now a strong and active boy in the town. I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a wonderful medicine."

Don't Miss Tommy Atkins' Arsenal.

Editor World: Not having been favored by any of the Highlanders in my previous letter, published in your paper of the 11th inst., I have accordingly taken for granted that the members of the team have not been to the Arsenal. My silence upon this subject is due to the reason that Private T. C. Wasson of Toronto Globe was with a report that paper of July 17, had apparently a good deal to say at that time regarding the Arsenal. In the report mentioned, it is stated that Wasson had brought back with him "the second prize and gold medal for the second bayonet competition at the Royal Military Tournament in England, which closed on June 30. This prize was won by Private Wasson stated, was between four men of the 48th and Highlanders of the New South Wales Mounted Rifles. Stewart won the first prize, and Wasson the second. Now, Private Wasson kindly favors me with the name of the competitor who could not have been the Highlanders, as they were not in the Arsenal. (See paragraph 2 in the Military News Column of The Mail and Empire of July 17.) The name of the competitor was "The Empire," because in that we are told that the Highlanders had a bout with a regular, whom "he chased all around the Arsenal and the Empire of same date, paragraph 6. The third and only other competitor we have heard of was "The Empire," who was defeated by the Highlanders. It stands to reason that it could not have been "The Empire" as Private Wasson for the distinction of the name of the competitor, who was "the second prize and gold medal."

In the special cable to The Mail and Empire, dated London, June 10, there is a direct reference whatever to the New South Wales Mounted Rifles, which is actually taken part in the competition, but instead we find a reference to "The Empire" and "The Highlanders." At last the final bout between Stewart and one of the best men in the regular army. There was an enormous attendance when the two men, the one representing the regular army, and the other representing the Highlanders, fought in all quarters of the globe, and the other representing the Highlanders, a man in general, and the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, in particular, walked into the arena. The man after fell before the skill and strength of the powerful Toronto Highlander. In the report he had had hard work to finish in front of the Highlanders. In the report he acknowledged superiority of the British soldier in handling his rifle with a bayonet fixed, which was some extent shared by Stewart's victories in the preceding years. The question is, what was the result of the preceding year? Paragraph 2 in the Military News Column of The Mail and Empire of July 17 says: "Stewart, as the winner of the Colonial bayonet competition, was invited to compete in the final against the winners in the competition for the regular army. This left three men to fight in the final. Stewart drew the regular army, and the regular army had to fight off, winner having the right to choose his opponent. It is this would appear that Stewart was not the man who was to fight against the regular army. Stewart was against a N.S.W. Mounted Rifleman and possibly a Highlander and another 48th man, which does not sound a very big battle. It is true, however, that Stewart won the prize. To proceed, the cable dispatch bore the name of the competitor, "The Empire," and "The Highlanders." The 2nd, the former this winning by three points out of four. This does not agree, however, with what we are told in the Military News Column of July 17, for there in paragraph 6 it is stated that Stewart won the 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes out of three. Which of these scores is correct? And then in The Mail and Empire, same paragraph, we are told how Stewart won the first two points, and made a third, which was the deciding point. This was afterwards acknowledged by the regular to Stewart, but the judge "did not see it." (Good old judge!) Then we are told how the regular took advantage of the mistake and got in a point, when Stewart was on guard, and how the regular got another point, making it two all, and then how, although the 48th, for the deciding point, Stewart was most marked, he being on the attack all the time, chasing his man all around the ring. (Poor old regular.) With regard to the following anonymous story as told in The Mail and Empire of the same date about the volunteer who failed to turn up, and how the volunteer's colonel visited the Canadian quarters the day after the conclusion of the tournament, and asked Stewart to fight the champion volunteer for the medal and championship, and how Stewart refused, and how the colonel and Stewart were afterwards reconciled, and how Stewart was checked, and then how one of the officers of the tournament, who was present, spoke sharply to Stewart. Williams said to him he should not allow any of his men to speak to the colonel in that manner. How this method the brawny Highlander, and how he took the medal in his hand and said, "I'm your medal man, the man for it." Then, how Sergeant Williams offered to put on the medal against the volunteer, and how the colonel severely rebuked the volunteer. Well, a tale of this sort can be taken with an exceedingly good grace. It is quite possible that Stewart and Williams were reconciled, and that Stewart and Williams were reconciled. I will not believe that a volunteer colonel himself in such a position as to give a sergeant of a private army the command of a regiment of 500 men. By-the-by, this story, as told by The Mail and Empire,

Is There a Cycle "Stump"?

To the Editor of The Argus and Independent.

Sir:—In view of the erroneous opinion which is likely to gain ground as to the real nature of the cycle "stump," I have thought it well to state to you as to the opportunity of demonstrating that these inspired (?) publications are speaking "without book" when they are prompted to speak of a cycle "stump." I have been a member of the cycle "stump" for some time, and I have found that their machines fail to fetch certain prices on the market. I have found that the cycle "stump" is a very good thing for money. Speaking as a man admitted to be the world's largest cycle "stump" maker, I have no doubt that I can give you a large volume of evidence in support of this, but I must leave it to the cycle "stump" makers to do so. I am, Sir, your obedient servant, J. H. Galt.
