Note and Comment

The bookies go on in their busy way at Woodbine Park, day in and day out, sometimes losing and more often winning. The same old faces figure on the boards or rather move about on the ground, but there is no Long John. Everybody knew Long John, who towered aloft. He had been coming to the Woodbine for high on to a dozen years and was here only last spring, the same Long John, never dustered and always the most accommodating of the visiting layers.

Look around the ring, you will see the round McInerney, the ponderous Walt, Louis Allenberg, Gene Maine, Bob Turner, Joe Coburn, Elrod, one-time in charge of the ring. Benny Meyers, Joe Cahik, with a friendly smile, and Maurice Hereford, but no Long John, who shuffled off only a few weeks ago suddenly in Detroit from an attack of heart failure.

They talked as if the athletes were invulnerable, after their performance against the Tigers. Yesterday the St. Louis youngsters visited Quakerstown and trounced Detroit's conquerors, giving the champions renewed hope for another repeat, even though they did drop the double header to Washington.

Meanwhile the Rochester Hustlers carry themselves like coming champions, taking a rest yesterday, as did McGinnity's Indians.

Over in the National, where Pittsburgh has won the championship, Chicago fans are panicking the Cubs just now in a mercenary manner, because they failed to stop the Pirates yesterday the New York Giants. They say Spingield and Sheppard have seen their best days and must be replaced. They are scoring Owner Murphy for not getting Chicago killing at any cost and say that Chance has lost his grip as a team manager. The Cubs will meet the White Sox in a post season series and Comiskey's players will have an army of rooters. If the Cubs should lose this series Chicago's interest in National League affairs would probably receive a hard jolt.

All records were broken for attendance at baseball by Detroit at Philadelphia for four games. The official figures were:

Thursday, Sept. 16	24,719
Friday, Sept. 17	27,814
Saturday, Sept. 18	35,409
Sunday, Sept. 19	29,275
Total	117,217

The Detroit Free Press thinks that these figures may be shaded a bit for effect, in fact they probably are. But 10 p.c. reduction on the claims would be ample. And that would give more than 100,000 for the series. Much of this is 26-cent patronage, and the visiting club takes only 12 1/2 cents on everything. But that's better than losing on rainy days.

Jeffries sends word from Carlsbad that he will leave there "some time in October." In other words, he is taking his time about returning and is evidently waiting to find out how Ketchel shapes up with Johnson. It is generally believed that if the Johnson-Ketchel bout goes the limit, Jeffries will sign a contract to appear all winter in vaudeville and will postpone his proposed mill with the negro until some time next summer. In that event Johnson may be forced into a fight with Langford, and if the latter should win, Jeffries could retire permanently with a fortune made in a very easy way.

To most men a serge is a serge, but there is room for very fine discrimination in serge suitings. Our genuine indigo dyed Irish serges, and on a quality and value count, find a defy to any serge woven, and we tailor them without a fault.

Baltimore - Jersey City
Shut Out Buffalo.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Sept. 21.—(Special.)—In one of the most bitterly contested games seen here this year, a pitchers' battle from start to finish, Joe Kelley's buck went down to a 2-to-1 defeat here today. Both Barberich and Pfeffer, the opposing twirlers, worked hard, moving down man after man. Barberich allowed but four hits, while the Greys secured five off Pfeffer, but they were widely scattered. For the most part Pfeffer pitched good enough ball to win, and would have won by a two-run margin if Vandy in the fifth, allowing Phelan to score when he should have been out easily.

The Greys got their first run in the third, due largely to Barberich, who led off with a three-base hit to right. Moran followed with a single, and Phelan grounded to McDonald, and Phelan struck out, but Pfeffer was a trifle wild and allowed a run to score. In the fourth, Moran grounded to McDonald, and Phelan struck out, but Pfeffer was a trifle wild and allowed a run to score. Baltimore Lose Two To Royals.
BALTIMORE, Sept. 21.—The Baltimore Orioles lost both games of a Baltimore-Royals here today. The first game was close until the fifth inning, when the whole Baltimore team went to pieces. A dumb play at first base, followed by two errors by Hall, the lot, scoring seven runs. In the second game the Orioles could do little or nothing with Bob Wicker, while the Red Sox bunched hits. O'Neill made six hits out of eight.

American League Scores.
At Washington—Before the largest crowd of the season, Washington and Detroit split even in a double-header, the first going to the visitors, 1 to 0. White, the local reeler, shut out 1. White, 2 to 0. Willett and Gray fought it out in the first round, and White, the better, allowing only a run to score. A clean drive by Street, Gray was hit safely, 8 to 1. One being a three-bagger by Bush. A phenomenal catch by Cobb in the sixth inning saved the game. In the second game the champions found Walter Johnson a great puzzle, and especially when a hit would have scored runs. Adkins allowed three hits to be bunched in an inning. Scores: R.H.E. At Philadelphia—St. Louis defeated Philadelphia, 2 to 1. St. Louis was made up with three young outfielders, and two of its regular outfielders in injured positions, but put up a splendid game. Bailey played the first nine innings, one of which was a scratch home run by O'Driscoll in the fourth inning, when Cronin fell trying to stop a long drive. St. Louis tied the score in the seventh inning on an error by Collins, a wild pitch by Morgan, and Wallace's single. In the eighth inning Philadelphia had the bases filled, with one out, but Morgan was caught trying to score on an attempted squeeze play. Collins, the batsman, missed the ball. Hartzel scored the winning run in the ninth inning on his single. Griffiths' sacrifice, Devere's out and Wallace's single, doubled the lead. In the tenth inning Philadelphia had the bases filled, with one out, but Morgan was caught trying to score on an attempted squeeze play. Collins, the batsman, missed the ball.
