FINAL FIREWORKS ON THE ADDRESS

Member Forecasts Triumphant Entry Into Ottawa by U.F.O.-Labor.

CRITICIZE ROAD POLICY

Minister's Income Apparently Keeps Pace With His Taste in Socks.

The debate on the address in the legislature closed last night at ten minutes before twelve, and the address delivered carried on a division. The final speech by Hon. Walter Rollo was a very weak final effort.

By a motion of Hon. Peter Smith, the government secured precedence on Thursday for the supply bill. It was expected that Premier Drury would make some statement in the house disclosing government intentions with reference to the O.T.A. warehouse licenses, and the referendum, but it did not come.

C. F. Swazey, who resumed the debate in the evening, said the U.F.O. and Labor will win the next federal election. He advocated taking part of the revenue of race tracks, as in France, and New Zealand. He would have physical training in preference to military training. U.F.O. and Labor, he said, have a coalition government, but every man has his own opinion, and will hold it to the last. If the premier leads them along the right road, they will follow him faithfully.

Sees Future for Rebeck. Mr. Swazey said Mr. Rebeck will be sent to the federal parliament by labor in the next election.

W. E. N. Sinclair (Liberal, Oshawa) had expected the U.F.O. to take a large part in the debate. They had, however, availed themselves of the opportunity of placing their views before the house. For their silence the ordinary man must come to the conclusion that nothing very much is being said by Ontario politics. Labor men had taken a representative part in the debate, but nothing very much is being said by cabinet ministers only one can be said to represent the fifty constituencies in the matter with the eastern part of the province; also what is the matter with the 45 families where nothing is said by the ministers of agriculture? The road policy also seemed to provide only for the ordinary man without wide boulevards, practically all the ministers residing in the west were in the east, and the existence of eastern Ontario. (Laughter.)

Now that the O.T.A. is in operation throughout provincial roads wide enough for the ordinary man without wide boulevards to run up on in moments of emergency. (Laughter) recall, he declared it could not possibly be a necessity in the case of any man worthy of election to the legislature.

Premier Drury: I only recall, the existence of which I am aware of, is the fact that the resignation is left in the hands of a committee only of the voters in when 60 per cent. of the voters in the riding vote in petition.

Mr. Sinclair: That may alter it somewhat. If 60 per cent. of my constituency I would not sign a petition for the resignation of a minister, I have a majority of 3,500, so I am not inclined to boast of it. He continued to say that the resignation is not dead on the government side. As an agriculturist he expressed disappointment at the specialty of the lieutenant-governor which had only one reference to agriculture in the way of milk and cream, and the other of neglect by the two old political parties.

Blames the Farmers. Mr. Sinclair, in his part of the address, made a deal of the cause of agricultural decline at the door of the farmers themselves, who are everlastingly complaining about farming life and conditions.

There is, said Mr. Sinclair, in my part of the address, a great deal of interest concerning the attitude of the government towards Hydro-radials. They are looking towards the government to carry forward the Hydro-radials, they are looking to the government for better conditions with Toronto.

Mr. Joynt: You have to guarantee the bonds and you may have to pay them. There is no proof that they are right. Continuing he favored the flat rate for schools because it favored consolidated schools, and favored consolidated schools living at a distance are carried to school. The plan works well in the New England states.

Hon. Walter Rollo referring to the remarks of the member for West Ontario, O.B.U. is I will answer your question. He passed on to a discussion of the practice of putting questions on the order paper, but got into deep water. He continued to get into difficulty with his arguments against the political parties. All the labor men had been elected honest. He had been elected honest. He had been elected honest. He had been elected honest.

RAINS HOLD BACK ALL FARM SEEDING

County Roads in Good Condition—Sap Season Below Average.

There will be no seeding in York county in March and probably none in the first week in April. Only a very few farmers have been able to do any plowing at all and even this was stopped by the two rains of last week.

However county roads were little affected by the rains which only swept the southern townships and the motor-roads in the north. Even those roads which are usually a trail of mud and slush in springtime are at least passable for motors and light wagons.

Little maple syrup will be made in the vicinity of Toronto this spring as all the snow melted in less than ten days and a good run only comes now when a warm day follows a heavy frost. In sugar bushes where the snow was slower to melt, the run is up to the average so far but old-timers do not expect the season to last long in April. The first run of sap was at most phenomenal but its length was only a few hours. Little syrup is on the market, but what there is changes hands at from $2.50 to $3 per gallon.

EARLSCOURT CHOSEN AS NAME FOR PARK

Deputations from the B. I. A., Ratepayers' Association of Earlscourt, and other organizations, waited on the parks committee on Tuesday and put up a good stiff fight to have the name of Earlscourt attached to the property recently purchased by the city at the corner of Lansdowne and St. Clair. "Prince Edward Park" was voted down, "Earlscourt Park" shared a similar fate, "Northwest District Park" was no better chance, and "Earlscourt Park" was decided upon without a dissenting voice. Ald. Beaman was chairman, and the parks committee's resolution will be submitted to council for ratification. This much-named name has now been settled for good, and there is no need for further agitation.
