TIE GAME IN THE SOCIETY LEAGUE

St. John the Baptist team gave the supporters of St. Peter's team another bad time last evening when the south end boys tied the leaders in an exciting game. Each scored twice and darkness prevented a deciding run, leaving another tie game to be played off.

The spectators were much aroused over the closeness of the result. All the teams in the league give promise of making a hurricane finish.

REPORT OF DISCUSSION ON THE TOBACCO BILL

The Senate Fixed the Age at 18 Years but Afterwards Reduced it to 16—What Senators Power, Ellis, Ferguson and Others Said.

In the senate on Thursday last the bill to restrain the use of tobacco by young persons was taken in committee. Senator Power thought a mistake had been made in advancing the age at which tobacco is forbidden to boys from sixteen years as proposed at first to eighteen years. Criminal law records sixteen years as the dividing line between boyhood and manhood. Senator Power said he favored the object aimed at by the act, but no good would result from pushing the restriction too far. He moved to substitute sixteen for eighteen years.

Hon. Mr. Scott was of opinion that instead of the age being reduced to sixteen years it should be increased to twenty-one.

Senator Loughheed was against the proposal of the bill rendering liable to a fine of $100 any person who uses a boy of eighteen as a messenger to carry tobacco.

Hon. Mr. Scott said that strong provisions were necessary to prevent evasion of the act.

Senator McMillen thought that, to make the law effective, from the clause forbidding the sale of tobacco by dealers to boys, should be stricken out the declaration, "he knows or has reason to believe are for the use of the person they are sold to." The words would allow evasions.

Senator William Ross of Halifax would advance the age from sixteen to twenty years.

Senator G. W. Ross said the bill had been introduced into the commons with a provision for sixteen years, and the commons after deliberation had advanced the age limit to eighteen years. He thought the senate should leave the age at eighteen years.

Senator Ferguson favored eighteen as the age limit.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell thought the only effective prevention would be by stopping the manufacture, importation and sale of cigarettes and tobacco. While he endorsed the end sought by the bill he predicted that it would become a dead letter.

Senator Ferguson said that a law to be effective must be reasonable, and it could not be claimed it was reasonable to make it illegal for a father to send his eighteen-year-old son to bring his tobacco.

Senator Power's motion to lower the

LEWIS AND RUSSELL
IN A DRAW IN BANGOR

Bangor, Me., July 13.—In the Auditorium last night, Harry Lewis, of Philadelphia, champion of the welterweight title, and Unk Russell, of Philadelphia, boxed six rounds to what would have been declared a draw had decision been allowed under the Maine Law. Lewis had the skill and speed, but Russell took all that was handed to him and constantly came in for more, forcing the fighting throughout with a brief interval of holding on both sides. He forced Lewis around the ring steadily, the champion constantly breaking ground and on the defensive.

Russell was rather wild at times and in the second round, after missing a left swing, was caught open and felled with a right hook to the jaw. He went down twice more, once before a rush and once by a slip, but stayed the round out and came up fairly fresh in the third. It was a case of grit against skill. Both were engaged in the fight. There were several interesting preliminaries. About 2,500 people saw the bout.

The last of the Zingarie cricket matches in Philadelphia was started at Havertown, Friday, when they were opposed by a team representing all Philadelphia. The visitors occupied the wickets the whole of the day, but were out for 382 runs for the loss of nine wickets. The outstanding feature of the play was a magnificent innings of 107, the first century in the history of the game.

The Philadelphia cricketers won their third match of the English tour, defeating Worcestershire by 96 runs. A. M. Wood made 132, J. B. King took five wickets for 43 runs.

grown at 16 years and were liable to physical injury by tobacco at that age.

Senator Edwards, as an employer of labor, preferred the 16 year prohibition to the 18. Many of those he employed in the woods were between 16 and 18 years old. He thought they all smoked at home.

Senator Wilson took a similar view and said it would be as illogical to forbid the use of tobacco to young men between 16 and 18 years as to men over 75 years.

The amendment was carried.

The amended bill was given a third reading.

OBITUARY

C. H. McFadyen

Amherst, July 14.—The citizens of Amherst were shocked yesterday by news of the sudden death of C. H. McFadyen, son of the late Wm. Main, collector of customs for Amherst. He was taken ill three days ago but his trouble was not deemed serious, in fact few of his friends knew of his illness. Deceased was about 38 years of age. He is survived by his mother and four brothers and three sisters. The brothers are Gordon and George in the west, Clarence in Montreal, and Gubbert in Sydney. The sisters are Mrs. Johnston Chisholm, Sydney Mines; Mrs. McNeil, New Glasgow; and Miss Gwendoline at home.

At home Mr. Main began his business career in the Amherst branch of the Halifax Banking Company and worked in the office there for a number of years. He was transferred to St. John after the amalgamation of the Halifax Banking Company with the Canadian Bank of Commerce and labored there for some years resigning to come to Amherst to assist in closing up the estate of his father.

WARSHIPS REACH BUSH FIRES MAKE
QUEBEC AHEAD MANY PEOPLE
TIME OF ANXIOUS

Five British Ships Anchored in Stream Yesterday

Their Arrival Was Unexpected French Men-of-War Due on Friday Will be Next to Arrive.

Quebec, July 14.—Five British warships which will anchor in the stream of Quebec during the coming tercentenary celebration arrived in port this evening at 6 o'clock. The five to arrive today are all British, four battleships of the line and one first-class cruiser. They will be followed probably on Friday by the French men-of-war and others will follow from day to day, until the last, the prince's flagship, the Indomitable and her escort arrive on Wednesday, July 22.

The arrival of the five this evening was unexpected by the citizens and there was an absence of the usual crowd of sight-seers on the terrace. The vessels made a gallant appearance as they steamed slowly up the harbor, rounding St. Joseph de Lewis and anchoring under the Citadel at Wolfe's cove.

The battleships are the Albemarle, Exmouth, Russell, and the Duncan, and the first-class cruiser The Argonaut. The Exmouth is the flagship of Vice-Admiral the Honorable Sir Asbendon G. Curzon-Howe, who is in command of the fleet, while the Albemarle flies the flag of Rear-Admiral Sir John Jellicoe. Officers and men of the naval force now in the front of the city numbered upwards of 4,000.

Local interest in the plans for the tercentenary celebration centred chiefly today in what action would be taken by the authorities with regard to the general request for a parade of the military forces through the streets of the city. The decision, the gift of Lord Burleigh, the war correspondent. The match is ten shots at 800 and 1,000 yards."

On several occasions it sprang up in the undergrowth across the Back Lands road, and was extinguished with difficulty. It is feared should the fire once secure a hold in this district it will sweep the county to Westfield.

James Lowell, M. P. P., who had been in Quebec for the day, said last evening that during the last day or two much good timber had been destroyed. The fire had burnt some of the green wood owned by W. Lowry and W. A. Quinton and narrowly missed the home of George Craig. As it was, the family moved out of the house last evening, and he had just returned from South Bay where he had a conference with Mr. Lowell. A very large area was affected. He hoped to obtain the services of as many men as possible to go in from Moncton this morning and assist the residents of South Bay in fighting the conflagration.

In the Loch Lomond district a forest fire has been burning since Monday, and up to last evening had destroyed about 150 acres. Part of the property is owned by the city and was bought a few months ago at auction to secure a right of fore shore of the lake. The fire is reported to have started in the pasture land of John Johnson, between Treadwell's Lake and the Loch Lomond Hotel. Besides destroying a lot of timber on the city's land, it has damaged the property of Thomas Brown. Last night the fire was smoldering and it is hoped to stamp it out today.

A telephone message from the Head of Mill stream yesterday brought word of a forest fire in the parish of Studholm and Havelock which, since Saturday, has spread over 400 or 500 acres. Fred Hayes, who lives in the parish, said the fire yesterday but beyond the efforts of the farmers whose property is threatened no organized attempt to fight the conflagration had been made.

As near as can be ascertained the fire started at the Wind Gap on a farm owned by Patrick McElroy. Mr. McElroy died on Saturday morning and his hired man, Riley, who was engaged in burning a stump heap, was sent out on a Sunday morning, leaving three women, Mrs. McGloag, Mrs. Timothy O'Regan and Mrs. M. Hanley on the premises. The women saw flames arising from the stump heap and from the barn and summoned the neighbors who assisted in putting the fire out. It is thought the fire started in the stump heap and the fire must have caused a blaze to start in the surrounding woods where it is still burning. Danger yesterday threatened the town of Studholm, and the fire started on O'Regan and a lumber camp belonging to Adam McPherson is also liable to be threatened. There is no doubt the path of the fire but the damage to valuable wood land is considerable.

St. George, N. B., July 14.—The forest fire raging along the L'Etang road near here came nearer the town today and some houses about a mile from here were in danger. The fire started on Sunday about two or three miles down the L'Etang road, and has gained considerable headway. Under influence of the southerly wind it reached near the home of Mrs. James McLean and Mrs. John Callan this afternoon, and for a time it was feared they might be destroyed. Good work fighting the fire was, however, done by a good sized body of men, and tonight the danger had passed, at least for the present. Rain, however, is needed.

Bangor, Me., July 14.—Rain tonight and lack of wind today temporarily at least, relieved the forest fire situation in northern Maine. No new fires of consequence were reported. The fires on Hale Stream were Moxie Pond, and on township 1, range 11, in the Moosehead Lake region, looking bad during the day, but it was thought the rain would be sufficient to kill them out.

ARTILLERY INSPECTION

Col. Benson Commenced it and is Much Pleased With the Work of the Regiment.

The annual inspection of the 3rd Regiment B. C. A. was begun last evening and will be continued for three nights. The regiment was lined up in quarter column on the Barrack square and was inspected by Col. Benson, R. S. A., of Quebec; Major Elliott, R. S. A., of Halifax; Col. G. R. White, D. O. C., and Lt. Col. G. H. Ogilvie, D. S. A.

After inspection of the whole regiment on parade, the right half of No. 1 company, under Major W. H. Harrison, Capt. J. L. McDougal and Lieut. Allan gave an exhibition of gun drill. Col. Benson remarked on the excellent appearance of the men and their drill.

Tonight the left half of No. 1 company and the whole of No. 2 company will parade at the Barrack square for inspection on gun drill. On Wednesday evening No. 3 battery will also be inspected in gun drill.

The composite company of picked men going to Quebec will parade at 8 o'clock at the Power shed for drill.

W. A. Mott, of Campbellton, is at the Royal.

ELECTION BILL IS READ SECOND

Another Long Debate on It Occupied House Yesterday

Opposition Takes Stand Against Injustice to Ontario Mr. Foster and Mr. Connec in Lively Tilt.

Ottawa, July 14.—The house spent all day on the Aylesworth election bill, rigorous opposition being put up on the sections of the amended Clause 1, providing for the making of federal lists in the unorganized districts of New Ontario.

Mr. Boyce (Algonia) moved an amendment in committee to strike out these sections of the clause but this was negatived by the committee.

Mr. Foster alleged as reason for British Columbia being originally included in the provision for the new voters lists was that the prime minister did not want to appear as making an assault on Manitoba alone. The proof of this was seen when not a single note of protest had been heard in regard to a British Columbia district.

Hon. Foster declared that Sir Wilfrid had "deserted the stalwarts of Manitoba," climbed down and was hanging by his heels to the leadership of the opposition. Why did he desert the stalwarts of Manitoba for one lone man from Rainy River? This spotless dove from Port Arthur. The prime minister, the leader of a moribund and disintegrated government was bucking up against Mr. Whitney fresh from the people, with a majority of 85,000, in a province that had refused to recognize his sovereignty and how to his leadership. There were more than Tories in Ontario, he said, there were fair-minded Grits, who would not stand it. Had the prime minister had the courtesy to communicate with Mr. Whitney and ask him to redress the alleged grievances in Ontario with regard to voters lists? He had not been honest, courteous or fair.

The prime minister was willing to trust the voters of Quebec to make provision for enfranchising hundreds of voters not now on the list but he was not willing to trust Mr. Whitney.

Mr. Patterson didn't think the government was "up against" the Whitney government nor were they abandoning their principles, but were proposing, merely, to prepare special lists where there were no municipalities.

Mr. Foster asked if Mr. Patterson would be so kind to amend the Prince Edward Island, where there were no municipalities, be included.

Mr. Patterson said he was dealing with Ontario. Would the opposition say that the judges so manufacture the lists as to elect the member for Rainy River? (Mr. Connec). To state that would make them ridiculous.

Mr. Algonia suggested that the present lists were prepared by judges. "Then their work, according to the gentleman opposite is fair."

"Why don't you leave the lists alone?" asked an opposition member.

R. L. Borden reminded Mr. Patterson that he had been "up against" the Whitney government and had come back in a "very crestfallen condition."

"We've all had mishaps," interposed Mr. Patterson.

"The Hon. gentleman has had a great many," the opposition leader contended that Mr. Patterson had not urged the present lists were unfair.

Mr. Patterson replied that he had. He said that the only inference to be drawn from the remarks of the Conservative was that the lists were unfair.

The government did not propose to interfere in Nova Scotia, Mr. Borden continued, although their friends there had for years denied a request to have the provincial lists revised by judges.

Mr. Connec followed. He could not see where Ontario was wounded by the federal government choosing to make its own lists. It had become Mr. Foster to speak of him (Connec) as "spotted dove." Mr. Foster was no more spotted than anyone else. In fact he didn't doubt that Foster had more spots on his hide than most people, and if there was any man living in a glass house it was Foster. It was when Foster was treasurer that McGreaves got in their best work.

"No one," said Mr. Connec, "ever accused me of being a traitor to my leaders, and I defy any one to say that I've ever done anything that I'm ashamed of."

"That's quite right," asserted Mr. Boyce.

J. E. Armstrong protested against the laying of unholy hands on the Ontario lists.

Mr. McCool read a number of state-ments and affidavits to the effect that the lists were not fair.

Mr. Borden, Mr. Boyce and Mr. Patterson afterwards had been rejected by a judge as false.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical medicine which supports remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative runs through the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure" as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, lessens local weakness and discharges, while the Restorative, causes nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well.

Dr. Shoop's Night Cure

FOR SALE AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

In the evening the committee adopted Clause 1 and went through the other clauses which had been held over.

Clause 17, which declares that ballots shall not be rejected because of marks the deputy returning officer, through a mistake, has made on them was again debated. Mr. Borden consented that a ballot thus inadvertently marked might be accepted, but wanted all precautions taken to provide that the officer did not make the marks for purpose of identification. The opposition leader proposed an amendment setting forth that the officer who marked ballots would be presumed to have done so maliciously unless he proved the contrary.

Mr. Aylesworth thought this rather hard on returning officers.

Mr. Borden said the burden of proof under the customs and excise laws was often placed on persons who committed irregularities. Macdonald (Pictou), Carvell and others opposed the amendment which was rejected by a party vote.

Continued by W. W. Lippert, before the committee at 1:30 this morning and now stands for its third reading. The house then went to the full-committee bill reported from the senate with the age limit reduced from 18 to 16 years. Mr. Miller of South Grey was opposed to the amendment but it was adopted and the bill passed.

EQUITABLE LIFE OFFICIAL

When the Armstrong committee investigation had come to a close, Jordan put in an appearance and it was then learned that he had been in Europe. As a result of the disclosure to be before the Armstrong committee, the grand jury found eighteen indictments for forgery and one for perjury against Jordan. Only Mr. Jordan, Mr. Jordan's brother, Justice Goff, in the Criminal branch of the supreme court did not plead guilty to the indictments. His trial was postponed to the fall term of the criminal branch. Since his indictment, Mr. Jordan has remained before the public eye as little as possible.

Mr. Jordan leaves a widow, his son Frank and a daughter, Mrs. Edward D. O'Brien, who married John O'Brien, Dennis O'Brien, recently of the court of appeals.

MR. DOWNIE TALKS OF MARITIME PROVINCES

business in the Maritime Provinces was closely identified with the New England states but since the completion of the road business with the provinces of Quebec, Ontario, and even to British Columbia, has become a monopoly.

The people of New Brunswick are enterprising. As an example I might mention the city of St. John which has during the last few years expended a million dollars in providing dock accommodation for ocean traffic. A big trade with Europe has resulted and business has increased four-fold in the last five years, both as regards exports and imports, and as St. John is the winter port of Eastern Canada, she has a future which, if perhaps a little less brilliant than her sister on the Pacific, is at the same time just as assured."

HOME FROM HONOLULU

Miss Elizabeth S. Colwell arrived at her parents' home in Paradise Row yesterday, after a journey of thousands of miles. Six years ago Miss Colwell, who is the daughter of W. S. Colwell, of 89 Paradise Row, left St. John and went to Honolulu to accept a position as teacher in a seminary there. She is a graduate of Acadia Seminary, Wolfville. She has had leave home for a visit of a week and needless to say was warmly welcomed yesterday.

The voyage from Honolulu to Vancouver occupied eight days and Miss Colwell then journeyed by C.P.R. to Montreal, and from there came to St. John by Intercolonial. She likes her adopted home very much. A big trade with Europe has resulted and business has increased four-fold in the last five years, both as regards exports and imports, and as St. John is the winter port of Eastern Canada, she has a future which, if perhaps a little less brilliant than her sister on the Pacific, is at the same time just as assured."
