MAYOR ANSWERS CHARGES SET OUT FOR RECALL

Issues Statement on Three Points Referred to in Petition

Mayor White this morning said that he noted three grounds were given in the recall petition asking that he be recalled from office and contended that all three were mis-statements of fact and misrepresentations of his attitude on the questions involved. He quoted the first: "A. Neglect and refusal of the council to grant the request contained in the petition." To this His Worship said: "When the petition was presented by the three gentlemen whose names are already familiar to the public as the self-constituted citizens' committee, I said it was a great pleasure to me to see so much interest taken in civic affairs by the people, but that I had already taken steps to carry out a policy having for its aim the very ends they sought."

On the second clause: "B. The contemptuous treatment accorded the petition by the council." Mayor White said: "The treatment the petition received was that I called a special meeting of the council and presented it to them to deal with."

QUOTES DR. BRITTAIN

On the third item: "C. The attempt of the council to frustrate the object of the petition by the selection of Dr. Horace L. Brittain, who is objectionable because he is one of those who helped to frame the existing inequitable assessment law." The statement of His Worship was as follows: "In this connection I would draw attention to an interview with Dr. Brittain and published in this morning's Telegraph-Journal from which I quote: 'Dr. Brittain did not wish to discuss local affairs and said he had no knowledge of local problems as yet. He had been spoken of as having been connected with the framing of the present Saint John Assessment Act, but he said this was not true.'"

FROM MR. CARVILL

In a statement received from George Carvill, for the citizens' committee today, he says: "The Mayor states that there may be an audit of the city affairs if Dr. Brittain considers it necessary," and continues: "Therefore an outsider is to decide whether the request of the $900 taxpayers is to be granted or denied." He goes on to say that "The elections will cost $12,000, while one of the largest taxpayers, Canada, Scott & Co., have offered to do the work asked by the taxpayers for $10,000." The Mayor, Carvill writes, "graciously yields to the request of the Retail Merchants, but the $900 taxpayers have received no notice of the letter also states: 'Dr. Brittain says he had no share in framing the assessment act. One of the gentlemen who had a share says that Dr. Brittain helped.'"

As one of the commissioners who drew up the present assessment act, A. H. Wetmore said this morning that it was only fair to the public to have it made known that Dr. H. L. Brittain had nothing to do with the drawing up of the act. While it was possible that certain individuals may have been secured from the office of Dr. Brittain, it also was secured from many other sources, Mr. Wetmore said.

Come To See N. B. In Autumn Garb

Although the tourist season was getting late, this time of year had many attractions for visitors, it was said this morning by J. Charlton Bessie, secretary of the N. B. Automobile Association. Yesterday Mrs. George Anderson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and her three daughters, arrived in Saint John to spend a week in touring the province. They expected to leave for the North Shore, going by easy stages and enjoying the beautiful scenery en route. These visitors were making their fourth trip to New Brunswick. On former occasions the visit was made during the summer season, and this year they were desirous of seeing the famed New Brunswick forests clothed in their fall rainment.

It was remarked that this year there had been a great increase in the number of women automobile drivers visiting the province in automobiles.

EGG QUESTION TO FORE TODAY IN THE MARKET

Inspector Tests 12 Dozen and Gives Results of His Findings

"Strictly fresh" eggs. What does that mean? Evidently not always what it is supposed to indicate, according to E. M. McKinnon, provincial egg inspector for the Federal Department of Agriculture, who spends much of his time in Saint John. Only this morning Mr. McKinnon said, "I tested a 12-dozen case of eggs, which had been exposed for sale by a dealer in the market and collected 'strictly fresh.' The inspection showed the following result: Three dozen, extras; three dozen and four eggs, firsts; two dozen and 11, seconds; eight eggs cracked, and two dozen and one egg bad. The latter were real bad, too," said the inspector.

This, he said, showed the need of education of the public in regard to eggs. Consumers should ask for eggs by standard grades, as strictly fresh eggs might be from one to six weeks old by the time they reached the hands of the public. The dealers were familiar with the grading of eggs and most of them in favor of inspection, which it was said, protected the honest producer against the unscrupulous one.

It was said efforts were being made by local dealers to have Inspector McKinnon's headquarters moved to Saint John from Moncton, where he is at present located, and that this may be done, as most of his work is in this locality.

EVIDENCE GIVEN IN CASE OVER AUTO

Andrew Lee Faces Theft Charge at Session of Police Court

Andrew Lee was in the Police Court again yesterday afternoon on charge of stealing from E. J. Trearant on Oct. 1 an automobile and a quantity of tobacco, cigarettes and an overcoat to the value of $75. He pleaded not guilty. Mr. Trearant told of having lost his car in Main street on Oct. 1 about 4:50 o'clock in the afternoon, with some tobacco and an overcoat in the car, while he had gone into a store to deliver a parcel. On leaving the store he saw his car going down Main street, gave chase but lost sight of it. Policeman Howard, traffic policeman at Douglas avenue, said that Mr. Trearant's car had gone by him and that he had noticed that the owner was not driving. He identified the defendant in court, as being the driver of the car on Oct. 1.

Detective Biddecombe told of being notified of the loss of the car and of finding it on the morning of Oct. 2, in Elm street. The car was loaded with cigarettes and tobacco and overcoat were missing from the car. The case was set over until Tuesday morning for further evidence. E. J. Henneberry appeared for the defense.

As Hiram Sees It

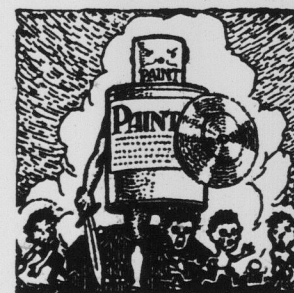

THE SETTLEMENT—While meandering through the town, I saw a fellow talking about Villon on his Frenchman on the Injun quite a big craft crossed the patch of moonlight on Long Beach. She was quite deep in the water.

"That," says the town feller, "is the ghost of a craft that went up river about two hundred and thirty four years ago with supplies for a noo fort. After Villon moved from Port Royal to the Jimsag he made up his mind to go further up river and build a fort at the mouth of the Nashwaak. He staked in a square a hundred and twenty feet each way and mounted eight cannon. He started right in to stir up the Injuns against the English in Maine—for the Injun war was going on at that time. He got a hundred Injuns from the Kennebec and Penobscot. Four hundred of 'em—with twenty Frenchmen—attacked a place called Wells where Captain Converse and about thirty Englishmen and some women done sich good shootin' that the Injuns give it up and went home. Villon was quite a savage himself. It was about this time he handed over an English Injun captured down river to the French Injuns to be burnt at the stake. He told the story himself, and he could add nothin' to the tortments they made him suffer."

"Both sides," says I, "was usin' the Injuns to help fight their battles. One man's life didn't count for much. Leagues of nations an' tribes war fer war in them days."

Money Made Safe and Helpful

Money changed into Safe Bonds is like changing a thousand dollar bill into fifty $20 bills.

It keeps the character of cash. But it is better than cash—for it produces a bigger income with greater safety. Safe Bonds are easily converted back into cash, while every so often you clip off a coupon that's the larger interest made on money salted away, so it will keep in this safe form.

A Bond is really the superior type of mortgage, but more readily marketed and under special safeguards lacking in ordinary mortgages.
