Quick-Response Comes To Appeal to Save The Babies

STORM PLAYS HAVOC WITH CROPS

CONTRIBUTIONS TO TIMES-STAR FOR MILK FUND

First List of Subscriptions will be Acknowledged Tomorrow.

HEARTS TOUCHED

Year's Supply for Four Little Ones Guaranteed by Sympathizers.

The Times-Star appeal for the babies, that they shall have their supply of milk, fell upon fertile ground. Already there has been a cheering response.

Tomorrow this newspaper will acknowledge the first list of contributions to the babies' milk fund. The purpose of the fund, as explained yesterday, is to enable the St. John Council of Women to provide milk for infants whose parents cannot afford to purchase a supply. Thus babies lives are saved.

The appeal is based on the statement of Miss Dora Coates, of the Victorian Order, that two babies died because the milk supply had to be cut off through lack of funds.

Checks Received. Last night The Times-Star received the first contribution, $25, from Angus McLean of Bathurst.

Small and Large. The smallest as well as the largest contribution will be gladly received by this newspaper.

Let the fund be made large enough to enable the Council of Women to meet the need in every deserving case for many months to come.

The Dairyman. A representative of one of the big milk supply companies said to The Times-Star this morning that the companies were not unsympathetic in regard to the supply of milk for babies.

When asked about reducing the price of milk, he said that the price of milk could suggest a way to reduce taxes and overhead expenses it would find the dairies willing to lower the price of milk.
