

EDITOR SENTENCED FOR 'DRY' CRITICISM

Judge Holds That Articles in New Haven Newspaper Reflected on the Court.

New Haven, Conn., July 29.—Characterizing articles appearing in the New Haven Journal-Courier as "misleading, contemptible and unjustified," Judge Charles J. Martin found Arthur J. Sloane, managing editor of the paper, guilty of contempt of court and sentenced him to ten days in jail. Execution of the sentence was suspended, however.

The charges of contempt of court grew out of articles published in the Journal-Courier July 13, 15, 16 and 17, concerning liquor raids in West Haven some ten days ago and their subsequent disposition.

The question of jurisdiction of the town court of Orange to try this case because of the fact that the newspaper was printed and published in New Haven, which is out of the criminal jurisdiction of the town of Orange, was a leading one throughout the trial. Attorney P. W. Chase contended that the court had no jurisdiction, but was overruled.

In his memorandum Judge Martin, in referring to one of the articles, said: "This article had for its purpose the creating of an impression that those connected with the administration of justice in the town court of Orange were protecting law violators who might have a political influence in the community and unless the action of town court in the cases referred to in the article was closely watched by the public that one not far removed from the judge of said court (although not named) might attempt to beat the proper and legal prosecution of one or all of cases wherein the aforesaid arrests had been made; also that the disposition of these cases was a crisis in the fair and impartial administration of justice; also that the clerk of the court had looked all the information relating to these cases in his desk to conceal the same from public."

"All of insinuations and accusations contained in this article seriously reflected upon the honor and dignity of the town court of Orange as an organ of justice. These reflections were also, truly, untrue and admitted to be so by the respondent, as he stated on the witness stand when he had offered himself as a witness in an effort to purge himself of alleged contempt, that he had no evidence in his possession or fact which would justify him in saying that any official of the town court of Orange was shielding or assisting the shielding of any violator of the law."

WRECKING STEAMER AT WORK IN THE BAY

Good progress is being made in dismantling several old wrecks in the southern part of the Bay of Fundy. The wrecking steamer Coastguard, Captain L. Brannen, which has been operating for several weeks on the wreck on the West Indian mail steamship Cobequid, ashore on Trinity ledge, has about completed work on the wreck by salvaging an anchor and twenty tons of chain. After a few more days' work at the Cobequid, the Coastguard will proceed to the sunken C. P. O. liner Constellation, which struck on Biston rocks, near Brier Island, more than a year and a half ago. The schooner M. S. Kenney, which ran aground on Hospital reef, near Clark's Harbor last Saturday night, has been floated. She will be repaired on the marine railway at Yarmouth.

The schooner American Eagle, ashore on Grand Manan, probably will be stripped and sold within a few days.

OFFERS CHILD FOR SALE BUT RETRACTS

New York, July 29.—"For Sale—Young child, Irish parentage; $250 absolute. If necessary as mother is in poor health. Write to J. E. Flewelling, Justice of the Peace at Rosheasy, for speeding in the Rosheasy road; on Monday."

That is the whole story, Katherine McNulty, pretty dark-haired 29 year old mother said today when questioned about the advertisement, inserted in papers here.

Many kids had been received for the curly fair-haired Margaret who played around the tiny, clean room at 283 Second avenue. Brave at first, the little mother was loathe to give up her child when time for parting came, and so far has refused all offers.

The mother's story was one of a losing struggle against poverty and illness. Her husband died three years ago. She struggled bravely to care for her two children, Martin and Margaret, and seem succeeding until last spring when she became ill.

A home could be found for Martin, the mother believed. She needed someone to care for the girl and also needed $250 to start her fight for health.

At a meeting of the executive of the ladies of the Natural History Society yesterday afternoon with Mrs. John McAvity in the chair, Mrs. George S. Matthews, convener of the lecture course, outlined an interesting programme for the winter.

LOCAL NEWS

All blasting work in Kennedy street has been stopped following an order issued by Commissioner J. H. Pink yesterday morning, who said that the department of public works was waiting to have the deed signed before moving the equipment to the new site in Adelaide road.

At the regular meeting of Local No. 918, of the Carpenters and Joiners' Union of America, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Oscar Taylor, president; A. C. Davidson, corresponding secretary; Thomas Halseell, financial secretary; Charles Taylor, treasurer, and William LeBlanc, warden. Several new members were initiated during the meeting.

While the crew of the tug Nereid was shifting the smoke stack so that the boilers might be inspected, the stack swung about and threw the lead of the engineer, Judson Chetley, between it and a life boat. Chetley was knocked unconscious by the blow. The ambulance was summoned but broke down on the way and Mr. Chetley was taken to the hospital in the police patrol. He is in a serious condition.

J. S. Ritchie had an unpleasant experience when his fast trotter bolted in Rosheasy avenue and threw him out of the carriage. He was badly shaken up, but received no other injuries and was able to start in search of the horse. He had reached Cooper's corner when he met the rig in charge of Policemen Dykeman and Linton, who had stopped the runaway in Erin street and were looking for the owner.

An informal meeting of the Women's Hostel committee was held yesterday afternoon in the hostel on Britannia street, with the president, Mrs. H. A. Powell, in the chair. A satisfactory report was submitted by Miss Brewer, who has been the matron since May 1. After the closing of the winter port season in St. John the hostel has been used for transients and for permanent boarders and has catered for these guests profitably as well as successfully. Miss Brewer's report told of $180 having been realized during the last month and of from twenty to twenty-five transients and lodgers being accommodated.

The St. John branch of the Canadian Building and Construction Institute, left the city in automobiles at 4 p.m. yesterday for a run to Barker's, Ben Lomond House, where the party had supper at 8.30. CAMPING AT GONDOLA POINT

Nine of the Windigo Camp Fire Girls are now enjoying camp life at Major Wetmore's camping ground near Gondola Point. The band has twelve members and was first organized about two years ago when these Albert school girls formed their organization with Miss Harriet Smith as their leader. Miss Smith is their chaperone on their camping expedition, which is the first to be made since the formation of the society. Each member took the High School entrance examination this year and each member passed successfully; the camp is, therefore, something in the nature of a joyful relaxation after strenuous labors. The party went up to Gondola Point yesterday and expects to remain there for a week or ten days.

INVESTIGATION BEING HELD

An investigation is being held by Chief Inspector W. D. Wilson in connection with the disturbance in which his sub-inspectors A. S. Coates and Constable Beverly Coates were severely injured by being stoned and kicked at a recent wedding celebration near Buctouche. The officials went to St. Edwards on information that some liquor had been procured for the celebration and on getting there they were met by a mob that demolished the glass in their automobile with stones. A rifle shot was fired in the endeavor to stop the officers, but no one was injured. Action will be taken against those responsible for the outrage.

Oscar Gallant of Buctouche, was brought before Magistrate LeBlanc last evening, charged with assaulting Inspector Coates, following an investigation by Chief Ridout of Moncton. The inspector was injured in the face and body.
