World's Series.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 19.—Chairman August Hermann of the National Baseball commission announced yesterday that the commission would meet in New York on next Wednesday and arrange for the next championship series.

Mr. Hermann said all matters pertaining to the games would be placed in the hands of the National Commission. He believed the arrangements for the distribution of tickets as made by the Boston American League management was premature.

Boston, Sept. 18.—The Boston Red Sox today clinched the American League pennant. All possibility of the Red Sox being overtaken was disposed of when Philadelphia lost at Chicago today the first game of a double header.

Release for McDonald.

Boston, Sept. 18.—Edward J. McDonald, third baseman of the Boston Nationals, has been notified of his release to the Sacramento Club. He was ordered to report immediately, but objected to the change and said he would not go to the coast. McDonald came to the Boston club from Buffalo two years ago.

Harmony Counts Much.

Cleveland, Sept. 18.—Steady and earnest playing and with every member of the team trying his very best, since the opening day, is what won the pennant for the Red Sox, said Jake Stahl, I do not want any of the credit as manager of the club. What praise there is to be given goes to the players. I was one of them, but I want to say as long as I have been in baseball, I have never been so satisfied with a more conscientious family than mine.

To develop a pennant winning ball club you must first start out with the club that have them all put together. Without the greatest bunch of stars on a diamond will not succeed. That was the first schooling I received. When we were training I called them together almost every night. I drilled them that the Red Sox was a team, everybody one, and for the team to succeed, each had to help the other. My re-

TWO POSES OF JIM DRISCOLL, ENGLAND'S CLEVEREST BOXER

New York, Sept. 18.—Jim Driscoll, one of the best boxers that ever put on a glove, is due to arrive at this port on September 21. If he is anybody on this continent that Jim is not willing to battle will be James J. Braddock, course being a headliner, himself, Jim will only fight with topnotchers. He is anxious to tackle Ad Wolfst for the lightweight title in a twenty round fight. For the champion, Driscoll will make 135 pounds ring side. Again, the Britisher would like to fight with Peckey McFarland, and the latter will have the privilege of entering the ring at 135 pounds. A scrap between Driscoll and McFarland would be one of the most interesting sparring exhibitions ever held. Both are past masters of the science of boxing and depend upon their skill strictly. It would just be a case of almost invincible marvls in a duel. Driscoll would agree to meet Johnny Kilbane at 125 pounds at three o'clock. The featherweight champion can go along pretty good but would have to improve to equal Driscoll. This is Driscoll's second visit to this country. Three years ago he outpointed Abe Attell in easy fashion and also defeated other cracker.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—First Baseman Joe Kutina and Outfielders Walter Jantzen and Willie Brown were released by the St. Louis American League club. Brown will return to Wichita Falls (Texas-Oklahoma League) and Kutina and Jantzen go to the Montgomery (Southern League) club.

A Great Pinch Hitter.

"Moose" McCormick of the New York Giants is one of the greatest pinch hitters the game has known, and his work as a pinch hitter this season has been remarkable. He recently made eight pinch hits in ten innings at bat, and made four straight in the Philadelphia series. McCormick has surely earned for himself a full slice of the world's series pie. Perhaps his most noteworthy pinch hit of the year was made while the Giants were in Cincinnati on their second swing through the west. On this occasion McCormick broke up an extra inning game by cleaning up a full house over in the fifth. All these three runs were needed, as the Reds came back with two in their half of the fifth.

Another fine pinch hitter, and the same can be said of Orey Crandall and Arthur Wilson. Easy in the race, it was almost uncanny how Shaffer would draw bases on balls when used in the pinch. At one stretch he drew four straight passes, while acting as a pinch hitter, and scored after each pass.

Wrestling

Friday Defeated.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Eugene Tremblay, holder of the lightweight wrestling championship title for the last seven years, met his Waterloo in Solon Park last night. Parada, a Greek lightweight, took two falls out of three from the French-Canadian. Tremblay, however, still retains his title as the match was at catch-weights. The first fall came after thirty-one minutes, with a body and arm hold. The second came in the same manner with a leg hold on the left foot and both hands working on Tremblay's right foot. Parada will probably be given a chance at the belt in the next few months.

Constant Lemarin, a European Greco-Roman champion, also made his debut last night, taking an ankle Mungus, who, conceding pounds to the newcomer, could do nothing but stall off the inevitable. A driver by Jack Leonard, with Leonard up,

THE PITCHERS OF THE RED SOX

These are Catcher Bill Clifton's views of the Boston Red Sox pitchers:

You take Joe Wood. I never saw Amos Russett work but if he had more speed than Joe, then he sure was a wonder. Joe was a raw youth when he joined us, but it didn't take him long to master the game, until now he is without a superior and that goes for all the pitchers. Wood will beat the Giant sure if we only get one run for him.

Some may think that the youngster can not stand the tight spots, but he showed how he can travel the day we beat Walter Johnson, 1 to 0. No one ever pitched a more clearly perfect game than Joe that afternoon. It was a treat to see him whipping that fast one across and fooling the batters whenever he was in danger.

His fast one is a dandy. Speed, though, is not all Joe has. If he wants to he can throw as big as the next, and he has a slow ball, too. I won't say that Joe is the greatest pitcher in the league, because there are a couple of others with me and I consider each a star.

I don't know how good Marquard is, or any other National southpaw, but if they can stop Ray Collins, then I'm willing to quit. Here's a boy they all overlooked in the spring. He was right in the early part of the season but he is going at top speed right now and should be in great shape for us. I believe it will land. Sometimes it doesn't.

The best part about "Buck" is that he is full of nerve. You can't rattle him, and when the "spitter" is going as it should you can't touch him.

Charlie Hall didn't need any developing when I first saw him. With a little more luck he'd have all the dopesters writing about his record, too.

Without doubt, I consider Hall the greatest pitcher in the game today to go in the fish.

They say Ed Walsh stars in the fish, but I'll take Hall for mine. He has saved many games for us those that do not show in his record either.

For a youngster who has been in the big league as short a time as Hugh Bennett you don't find them any better. I really can't tell what he has. Everything about the best answer. And he isn't fabled yet. He is just coming.

I never saw a bunch of more wonderful games for us those that do not show in his record either.

IN DEATH CHAIR PLEADS FOR LIFE

Negro Murderer, Executed in New York State Prison, Makes a Scene

Auburn, N. Y., Sept. 18.—James Williams, a negro murderer, just before he died in the electric chair in the state prison here delivered a rambling volonteary.

"Gentlemen, don't kill me," he pleaded as he entered the chamber at six o'clock. "After taking his seat he looked over all the witnesses, as if counting them, and then started to rise to make a speech, but the warden said he was not to do so. "Hold on, I'm the one, but gentlemen, don't kill me."

He began to wipe his lips, resting electrician Davis, who tried to smooth the man. "If an going gentlemen, but don't kill me," he shouted. "Hold on, I'm the one, but gentlemen, don't kill me."
