PEACH PUDDINGS HOT, PEACH PUDDINGS COLD.

Hot: Boil 1 cupful of granulated sugar and 1/2 cupful of water until it spins a thread. Pare and cut into rings one-half inch thick 6 medium sized or small ripe peaches; butter a pudding mold; dip the fruit rings in the syrup; line the bottom and sides of the mold and set aside to harden. Put 2 cupfuls of milk, 3 tablespoonfuls of sugar and a pinch of salt into a double boiler and when it is scalding hot add the juice of three eggs well beaten with 1 heaping tablespoonful of corn starch and 2 tablespoonfuls of cold milk and cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire, stir with vanilla, let stand 10 minutes, then whip 5 minutes with an egg whip, pour in the mold and set in a cold place to set. When ready to serve turn out carefully on a plate; pour whipped cream over the bottom and serve very cold, with cream sauce.

Cold: Another handsome and delicious dessert of peach pudding is made by substituting the whites of eggs for the yolks in the pudding and a golden custard sauce (made of 1/2 cupful of milk, 1/2 cupful of sugar, 1/2 cupful of flour and 1/2 cupful of water) for the whipped cream. Serve with lady fingers.

Pyramid: Soak half a box of gelatin in 1 cupful of cold water until it is soft. Boil 2 cupfuls of water and one of granulated sugar 5 minutes; add the gelatin and stir until dissolved. Pare and cut through a wire sieve enough ripe, soft peaches to make two cupfuls; pour the hot gelatin syrup over the pulp, stir together thoroughly and set the bowl in a pan of crushed ice. When it begins to stiffen, beat 5 minutes with an egg beater; add the whites of four eggs beaten to a stiff froth, flavor with almond extract and beat until it is foamy all through. A round pudding eight inches in diameter and one inch deep, set in a cold place for 6 or 8 hours to stiffen. When ready to serve, place one mold on top of the other and cover with sweetened whipped cream flavored with almond extract. Dip the mold in cold water and lift out the pudding. Cut into slices and serve with lady fingers.

Peach Tapioca Pudding: Wash a cupful of tapioca in 4 waters, cover with cupful of cold water and let stand overnight. Next morning pare 6 large ripe peaches and cut out the smallest section possible to extract the pit from one end; fill the fruit with sugar, put two drops of vanilla extract in each, put on the top and place in a pudding mold. Add a cupful of boiling water and a teaspoonful of salt to the tapioca; put 4 tablespoonfuls of sugar between the peaches, pour the tapioca over them, put a few bits of butter over the top and bake one hour. Beat 1 egg until light, add 1/2 cupful of milk and thicken with the prepared flour. Spread the batter in a round buttered form; lay on the peaches, cut side upward, and pour the top fill the cavity in each with sugar and bake in a quick oven for 15 minutes. Cream or vanilla preferred.

Peach Dumplings: Pare and halve as many large, ripe peaches as you would make dumplings. Chop the kernels fine, cover with cold water and simmer 15 minutes. Strain and add enough water to make 1 1/2 cupfuls, put the fire with 1 heaping cupful of sugar, and a tablespoonful of butter; when it boils, thicken with 2 tablespoonfuls of corn starch dissolved in cold water and cook until smooth. Make dough as for pea biscuits and ball dumplings; same with apples, putting two halves in each dumpling. Place in a pudding mold, leave a space between, pour the sauce over and around them, bake half an hour and serve hot with the sauce dipped over.

A POPULAR HOME WORK.
Successful Only When the Diamond Dyes are Used.
In thousands of happy and thrifty homes in the Dominion and in the colony of New Zealand the work of rug and mat making is becoming very popular. Homemade rugs and mats are more highly esteemed just now than imported goods. This is not surprising when we remember the fact that the home articles are the best wearing and prettiest.

The Diamond Dyes have given a great impetus to the work of making homemade rugs and mats. In former times the trouble, some part of the work was the dyeing. With the aid of the Diamond Dyes, the dyeing operation was long and unsatisfactory. The introduction of the Diamond Dyes with their special colors for wool, and for cotton and mixed goods, has been a boon to the home worker. Rugs and mats are now dyed in beautiful and brilliant shades with the Diamond Dyes—shades that are perfectly fast to sun and soap.

If you wish to be at all times successful in dyeing for rug and mat making, here is a warning note against the use of adulterated packages and soap grease dyes that only produce muddy and streaky colors that cannot possibly stand an ordinary washing. Ask for the Diamond Dyes, use them as per directions, and your success is sure.

THE METHODIST CHURCH.

It shows that the grand total of membership in the annual conferences of the connexion in Canada, Newfoundland and Japan is 280,537. This is a net increase for the past four years of 19,584.

NOTHING TO BE PROUD OF.

Guelph and Stratford papers represent Woodstock as a meek community, on account of its connection with the Middleton affair. But it was perfectly natural that a man should want to join such progressive towns as Stratford and Woodstock by a railway. The fraud would be too apparent if anyone should suggest the building of a new railway out of Guelph or Stratford.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

We move in amendment that the second sentence be amplified to make it clear that it was perfectly natural that a man like Middleton should want to join such gullible towns as Stratford and Woodstock. Since the scheme originated with a fakir, we should think the fakir should hesitate before putting the fraud something to which to "point with pride."—Stratford Herald.

No other preparation has ever done so many people so much good as Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Medicine.

A SHORT SERMON.

The shortest sermon ever preached was the sermon which Dr. Whewell was fond of repeating from the text, "Man is born into trouble as the sparks fly upward."
The sermon occupied barely a minute in delivery, the following being a verbatim report:
"I shall divide this sermon into three heads: 1. Man's ingress into the world; 2. His progress through the world; 3. His egress out of the world."
Firstly, he ingress into the world is naked and bare. Secondly, his progress through the world is trouble and care. Thirdly, his egress out of the world is nobody knows where. To conclude—If we live here, we shall die there and I can tell you no more if I preach a whole year."

GOOD NEWS TO MANY.

The Massachusetts Benefit Association, about which so much was said and written some time ago, it is announced will pay all death and disability claims in Canada, and still have a good surplus to divide amongst policy holders.
The American companies have been compelled to make a sufficient deposit with the Dominion Government to pay all claims. This will be good news to many Canadians.

Out of sorts.—Symptoms, Headache, loss of appetite, furred tongue, general disposition. These symptoms, if neglected, develop into disease. It is a trite saying that an "ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and a little attention at this point may save months of sickness and large doctor's bills. For this complaint take from two to three of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills on going to bed, and one or two for three nights in succession, and a cure will be effected.

"You'll get run in," said the pedestrian to the cyclist without a light.
"You'll get run into," responded the rider as he knocked the other down and ran up his spine.
"You'll get run in too," said the policeman as he stepped from behind a tree and grabbed the bicycle.
Just then another scorching came along without a light and the policeman had to post to read.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action in the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices, without which digestion cannot go on; also being the principal cause of Headache, Paralysis, Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown, Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

Alex. Barr, whose death occurred some days ago at Toronto, in his 79th year, was an old resident of Orford township, Kent county. He was familiarly known as "the Orford poet," and was the uncle of Robt. Barr, the English novelist. He was born in Bridge of Weir, Scotland. Gifted with a fine poetical and literary mind, at the age of 17 he taught school in his native town, and about that time made a pilgrimage to the home of James Hogg, the Ettrick Shepherd, tramping all the way. He took with him some of his poetical works for post to read, and stayed with the famous man for a week. At 20 he was sub-editor of the True Scotsman, published in Edinburgh by John Fraser, of musical and dramatic fame. For many years he was a large contributor to both poetry and prose to the press of Glasgow, Paisley and Edinburgh. He came to Canada in '66 and started business in Daart, as a "knit of the thimble."

There never was, and never will be a universal panacea, in one remedy, for all ills to which flesh is heir—the very essence of many curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient—what would relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtained in a sound unadulterated state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual judicious use, the frailties of the system are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own resources. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid dependence and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquilizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep, imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the healthy animal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance—result, improved appetite, Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the public their Quinine Wine as the usual rate, and, guided by the opinion of a chemist, this wine approaches nearest perfection of any on the market.
