SAID BY THE LITTLE ONES.

Some Bright Things Culled From the Talk of Youngsters.

Teacher—Bobby, can you tell me the meaning of the word respect?

Bobby—Yes'm. It's the feeling one kid has for another what kin lick him.

A small boy asked his mother what blood relations meant. She explained that it meant very near relatives. After thinking it over for several minutes he exclaimed, "Then you must be the bloodiest relation I've got, mamma!"

"Would you like me to give you a quarter, grandpa?" asked 6-year-old Johnny.

"Certainly," replied the old gentleman.

"Very well," said the little diplomat; "then you should do unto others as you would that others should do unto you."

Bessie, aged 4, had been sitting in a cramped position for some time playing with her doll. By and by, when she attempted to get up, she dropped back on the floor and exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, my foot's asleep! Won't you ring the breakfast bell, please, and wake it up?"

"Just see that poor, hungry tramp, Willie," said his mother. "Don't you wish he had half your pudding?"

"Mamma," answered Willie, who was suffering from a severe cold, "I wish to goodness he had it all!"

First Small Boy—My papa knows more than your papa does, Mamma.

Second Small Boy—Huh! I guess you never saw my papa. His forehead runs down to the back of his neck.

Aunt Clara—Would you like for me to give you a nickel, Tommy?

Tommy (aged 4)—Yes.

Aunt Clara (thinking to improve his manners)—Yes, if what?

Tommy—Yes, if you haven't got a dime.

One day little Margie asked her mother the meaning of the word deduct and was told that it meant to carry away. The next morning she came running into the dining-room with a wailing cry, her face red and eyes streaming, and she said: "Oh, mamma, the nasty old cat has deducted my canary!"

Teacher—Tommy, what are you doing to that little boy?

Tommy—Nothing. He wanted to know if you take three from five how many will remain, and I took three of his apples to show him, and now he wants them back.

Teacher—Well, why don't you give them back to him?

Tommy—Cause then he would for get how many are left.—Chicago News.

THIS WEDDING DAY.

Louis Zimmerman is Surprised When He Finds Guests Assembled at Bride's Home.

(New York Herald.)

"I misunderstood it," is the only explanation made by Louis Zimmerman, of No. 15 West street, Newark, of the apparent absence of guests which caused a lot of trouble and the postponement of his marriage to Mrs. Margie Zimmermann last Wednesday night. Margie is a young widow, living in Belmont avenue.

After Zimmerman and the widow had agreed to marry last Wednesday night, Zimmerman forgot the date, and the bride was left alone. He went to the bride's home that evening for a call. She greeted him with more than ordinary warmth, and then announced: "Well, Louis, I'm ready."

"Ready for what?" asked Louis in surprise.

"For the wedding, of course," she answered. "See, here are the guests."

As she spoke she led him into her modest parlor and pointed to a group of relatives and friends, all attired for a festive occasion.

Then Zimmerman stammered that he thought the wedding had been fixed for Friday night, but that he would make the best of the situation.

Immediately there was a scurrying to find a justice of the peace. While friends went on this search, Zimmerman led the guests to a hall, where he placed the piano while they danced.

About half-past one o'clock a justice who had been routed out of bed, was brought to the hall. Then Zimmerman and Mrs. Zimmermann decided to postpone the wedding until Sunday. But the supper was eaten.

BISHOPS COOTE.

Mrs. Medley's Exquisite Garden and Collection of Potted Plants.

(Fredericton Capital.)

"Bishopcoote," the residence of Mrs. Medley, on the corner of Church and King streets, is a large, old-fashioned house, but the space, on both sides, between the fence shutting the asphalt sidewalk and the house, does not exceed six feet. This comparatively limited area has been converted by Mrs. Medley into a most exquisite garden, a row of many-hued, sweet-scented, beautiful flowers grow close to the house, and another row bloom close to the fence. These rows extend all along the front and end of the house on both streets, except that portion occupied by the porch containing the late metropolitan's coat of arms. A neat gravelled walk, bordered with a wooden curb, separates the rows. The whole of the miniature garden displays evidence of the most painstaking care and cultivated taste of Mrs. Medley. In addition to this charming enclosure, the windows on the ground floor of the house are filled with the rarest and loveliest potted plants, all contributing to arrest the admiration of every one passing by this historic, well-preserved house, which is architecturally conspicuous in contrast with the modern, turned, variegated hued houses which flank it.

The Globe laundry was gaily decorated with flags yesterday in honor of the wedding of one of its proprietors, Arthur E. Vail, to Miss Julia Case of Springfield. The marriage was held at the residence of the bride's father, W. E. Case, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Chas. Sprague of Sydney officiating as best man, and Miss Maggie Vail, sister of the groom, acting as bridesmaid. The presents received were numerous and beautiful. The happy couple arrived in the city last evening and had an informal reception at their future home, 85 Sydney street.

When you next buy tea ask for Red Rose. You will like it.

The death occurred at St. Martin's yesterday of Mrs. Wilson, wife of Wm. Wilson, the well known blacksmith of that village. Mrs. Wilson was formerly a Miss Campbell, of Campbell Settlement, Kings Co. She has been married some five months, and her age was 46 years. A number of sons and daughters survive, and they and the bereaved husband have the sympathy of many friends.

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 15.—The Daughters of the Empire are having a suitably inscribed brass tablet placed upon the building on Queen street just below the Queen Hotel, in honor of the legislature of New Brunswick met from 1783 to 1860. The building is now occupied as a restaurant. The tablet will be placed on the 24th of May next, with suitable ceremonies. The water in the river here is very low for the time of year, as low as it usually is in July.

William Crowley, of the Mills, a suburb of this city, who has conducted a boarding house for a number of years, is removing to a London to form a part of the same business.

Rev. Horace B. Bost, formerly pastor of the Baptist church, Marysville, and now located at Milltown, N. B., was married at Marysville this afternoon to Grace, only daughter of Charles Fisher.

THE LUMBER DRIVERS.

Since last week the work of lumber driving up river has taken on a considerably improved aspect. On account of the recent rains, which reached pretty well up river, the water has risen in different places from two to three feet. The snow in the woods is found to have wasted less than was thought, and the gradual melting of it has materially assisted the rain.

Atkinson's Kilburn's and Chouinard's drivers, about which there was some doubt, are now known to be coming along all right. Kilburn is clear of the North West with all his lumber, and Chouinard passed the bridge on the Black River on the seventh of May. It is reported that the St. John River corporation drive is now below Woodstock.

The water in the river appears to be holding its own during the past two or three days, no appreciable fall being noticeable.

The corporation drive is reported eight miles below Woodstock. Logs are running freely into the upper boom. Bank spruce logs are now worth from $9.25 to $9.50 per thousand at Springfield, where several rafts are being brought.

Everett Parker, who has a drive of between two and three millions on the Dungeness, is reported as in safe waters. The Southwest Miramichi drive is at St. John's.

George H. Eaton of Calais, the well known lumberman, tells the Bangor Commercial that the lumber outlook along the St. Croix is excellent, prices first rate and everything in good condition.
