WHERE MR. ELLIS FAILS. The government seems to have found in Mr. Bair of Wentworth an ac able speaker. Nevertheless any one who knows the qualifications for the position of chief commoner will admit that the member for St. John city has superior attainments. Whatever obtection may be taken to the political views of Mr. Ellis, or whatever criticiem may be applicable to his course as the representative of the people of St. John, it will he agreed that he possesses in a marked degree the qualities required of a presiding officer. Mr. Ellis appears to be deficient in only one respect. He has no pull. He does not enjoy the favor of the cabinet minister from his own province. Perhaps the best citizens will not think any the less of Mr. Ellis on that account.

THE TRANSVAAL RESOLUTIONS. ... It required, long and, earnest effort on the part of opposition members to bring Sir Wilfrid Laurier up to the point of introducing the Transvaal resolutions. If he had not done it an opposition member would, and the ministers would have been obliged to youe for or against it. But there is this is to say about the premier, that when he is forced to the point of doing such a thing the this he does it well. His speech was well conceived ed, going far enough

It will go out to every point of the empire that the resolutions of sympathy with the littlanders have been adopted by Canada on the request of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The world will not know how long the premier held back, and what struggles were necessary to bring him to the mark. The names of the members who were at the beginning of the movement, and who worked it up to the point at which the premier took charge will not be paraded in the despatches. But who cares I The great thing to have the country speak plainly and promptly, and that one voice should go up from all parts of the empire Canada should not have been last in the procession but better there than out of a altogether. THE TUBERCULIN TEST.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman wrote to that journal, asking what conclusive proof there that tuberculosis in cattle is not caused by tuberculin itself, when they are submitted to that test. The Country Gentleman referred the question to Dr. V. A. Moore, bacteriologist of Cornell University. His reply was: Cornell University. "His reply was:

Tuberculosis is the result of the growth of tubercle bacilli within the body. Unless these organisms are present we cannot have tuberculosis. The reason why tuberculin cannot cause tuberculosis is, that it does not contain tubercle bacilli. Tuberculin is the liquid in which tubercle bacilli have grown for a certain length of time, and from which they have been filtered out. In addition to the filtering, the cultures are boiled for a considerable time in order to kill the bacilli, and, again after filtering, the liquid is evaporated over a water bath, which in itself would kill the tubercle bacillus or destroy any organized ferment which might be present. It is impossible to produce tuberculosis with tuberculin. A large number of healthy with tuberculin. A large number of healthy cattle have been injected with tuberculin, both in herds tested for the presence of the disease, and formerly, experimentally to determine the effect, if any, of tuberculin upon termine the effect, if any, of tuberculin upon healthy animals, and there has not been a single case of tuberculosis resulting from these tests. Several healthy cattle have been injected with repeated and large doses of tuberculin in trying to produce an anti-tuberculosis serum, and not one of these animals has developed tuberculosis.

A SCHEME THAT FAILED.

The withdrawal of the "senate re The withdrawal of the "senate reform" resolution has caused little comment. Nobody appears to have taken the senate programme of the government as a serious matter. It was only serious in the sense that it was seriously intended to coerce the senators. When it failed in that purpose it became a trivial affair. We shall hear more of this method of reform or of some substitute. But we shall not hear of it until the dealers and heelers have more jobs like the Yukon deal to be put through. Then we shall have the blackmail proposition and the boodling proposition together. ST. JOHN EXHIBITION.

OUBEN'S COUNSEL. Sixty-four Appointed by the Nev Brunswick Government.

By an act passed a few sessions ago the local government provided for the appointment of Queen's counsel, the privy council having decided that the wer'to do so was vested in the pro-ce so far, at all events, as provin clai courts were concerned. The le-gislation limited the number of ap-pointments to two in any one year or six in three years, but left the first appointment unlimited in number. The Royal Gazette now contains the appointments made under the first exercise of the power and they certainly have slight limitations either in quan-tity or quality. By the act no barrister can be appointed unless he is of at least fifteen years' standing at the bar. This leaves about 150 lawyers who might be appointed and of this number 64 have received the right to wear the silk. Of these 21 already had the distinction from the dominion government. It is worthy of note in this connection that J. R. Armstrong, Q. C., has not been appointed by the local government, though many other. prominent conservatives have received the provincial distinction in consideration of their already holding very toubtful whether the provincial ap-pointment will be recognized in the supreme court of Canada, but that is probably a matter of little concernity a number of the appointees whose practice has not extended to the court at Ottawa. Emmersonian Tactics Resented by N. B. Eastern Baptist Association

MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 3.—An incident of considerable interest, which has not been referred to in the published reports, occurred at the recent meeting of the New Brunswick Eastern Baptist Association, which took place at Elgin, Albert county. Among those present, were the moderator. Deacon A. E. Wall, a Moncton alderman; the clerk, F. W. Emmerson, and Hon. H. R. Emmerson, premier of New Brunswick, who was a lay delegate. All these gentlemen, by the way, are strong liberals. On Saturday the report on temperance was sub-mitted by Revs. Bishop and Addison. This report condemned in pretty strong terms the dominion govern-ment for deceiving the people on the plebiscite and after Rev. R. Barry Smith had spoken to the effect that though a liberal, he must oppose the government because of its course, the premier took the platform and tried to cheke off the report, arguing that the association had no right to criti-cize the acts of politicians, that it was Tangerous to do so, etc., etc. One of the reverend gentlemen present described Emmerson's speech as a "big bluff, but the premier, on the plea that he had not been present when the report was read and desired time to consider it in order that he might to consider it in order that he might discuss the matter more intelligently, succeeded in having the report tabled until Monday morning, when the ac-sociation called for the report it was not forthcoming and it then transpired that though the premier knew that the association was to adjourn at noon on Monday, he had got the report from Moderator Wall and on Sunday night driven out into the country about six miles to "Cole-man's." The members naturally raised a row, which appears to have alarmed senger for the report. Mr. Emmerson arrived with it about 11 o'clock and made a speech condemning the resolution, ending with a motion that the report be referred back to the committee for amendment, which was tanta-mount to killing it. This motion was however, handsomely defeated and the report was adopted amidst prolonged applause, which led the moderator to remark sarcastically that the association was displaying a "very Christian Emmerson's action as "a politica trick;" and refused to take back the expression, though the moderator stened to leave the chair unles he did so. The general feeling of the association was that the premier had made a mistake.
