

FROM WALL OVER THE
ROCKY MOUNTAIN PROVINCES

The opening of the schools on Monday and the necessity of comfortably providing for the juveniles who attend them is partly responsible for the appearance on the streets this week of persons who are known about town during the winter social season. Then, too, there has been considerable entertaining going on for visitors in town, both by the hostesses and by the friends of the hostesses, on such occasions may always be relied upon to do their duty. Another factor in the early appearance of society folk is the interest manifested in the coming of the International Golf Tournament, which takes place at Truro (N. S.), on the 28th of this month. It is expected that representatives from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island will be present. Very general regret is expressed by the St. John contingent that owing to the accident to Miss Mabel Thomson by which she sprained her ankle, she will be unable to defend her title of champion of the maritime provinces. An unexpected lurch of a boat from which Miss Thomson was stepping, caused her to fall into the water. She was rescued by her husband, who was on the boat with her. The accident occurred at the residence of Mr. J. H. Smith, Mrs. Harold C. Schofield, Miss Helen Sidney Smith, Miss McQueen, Miss Frances Stetson, the Misses MacLaren, Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. George Wetmore, Mrs. Busby, Mrs. Caruthers, Mrs. H. C. Schofield, Mrs. George K. McLeod, Mrs. James U. Thomas, Miss Christie, Miss Mollie Robinson, Miss Parker, Miss Helen Sidney Smith, Mrs. L. R. Harrison, Sidney street, who has given a number of delightful outings within the last month on the yacht Dream, varied her mode of entertainment when on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of this week she invited a number of guests to Camp Minto on the Golden Grove road. The weather conditions being all that one could desire, the refreshments delicious, the hostess making every effort for the enjoyment of her guests, it is no wonder everybody present expressed himself having a most delightful afternoon. Mrs. J. Bright Godly was hostess at her last Saturday afternoon at her pretty summer cottage in The Park at Rothesay. The entertainment was given to celebrate her mother's (Mrs. Crutkian) birthday. There were about twenty ladies present. Mrs. George West Jones and Mrs. Frank presided at the tea table, which was prettily decorated, the chief ornament being a beautiful decorated birthday cake. Mrs. E. J. Broderick, Union street, gave a very pleasant informal bridge on Wednesday evening for her sister-in-law, Mrs. E. J. Broderick, Union street, entertained informally on Tuesday for the Misses May, of Toronto.
