FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 28.

Creeds and Schools. There are many Protestants whose chief objection to allowing Catholic children clerical teaching in connection with the common schools is the fear that such instruction will tend to alienate the Catholics from their Protestant fellow citizens and their country, and Romanize them to a greater degree than is consistent with peace and patriotism.

In Omaha a baby ghost is astonishing the people. In a certain house every other night a baby is heard to cry and a candle to rock, though the family is babyless and clueless. Every other night just at 12 o'clock, a faint light is seen in the room.

The owner of a pug dog, the winner of the Oaks stakes at Epsom this year, is a clergyman of the Church of England, who resides in the parish of Epsom, and whose name is "Mr. Laundrie."

Congressional Gossip. If anybody in this city imagined that Canada had the monopoly of letter-stealing politicians and fancied that the exploits of "Hon." John Young and Senator Perry could not be found in Washington, he must have been convinced of his error by a recent session in the House of Representatives.

A Series of Murders. BALTIMORE, Md., June 23.—About 11 o'clock last night, during a drunken brawl at the Sherwood House, Barry Amos, 32 years of age, a well-known sporting character and gambler, was stabbed in the left shoulder and died in half an hour.

Government Appointments. Mr. Editor,—It is true that the former family compact business is to be introduced again by forcing into office old and infirm relatives? If so, let us know—sooner the better. Equanim.

Canard Steamers. China, Samaria, Calabria, Hecla, Maratona, and Scotia, Sargasso. These first-class steamers of this popular line will leave Boston and New York for Liverpool during the next two weeks.

Reciprocity and Transportation.—The Canadian Canals and the Great Trade of New York. From the N. Y. Tribune. WASHINGTON, June 20. Perhaps the most material advantage to be gained by the adoption of a new Reciprocity Treaty will be the free navigation of the St. Lawrence, coupled with the stipulation on the part of the Canadian Government of an enlargement of the canal at the expense of the Dominion.

Portland Police. The Court was occupied yesterday afternoon in hearing the case of the Queen vs. Monteth. Superintendent Gibson gave evidence, and admitted striking the prisoner, but so claimed that he was justified in doing so on account of his violent resistance. Mrs. Monteth was the next witness, and made a remarkable statement. She denied that her husband was drunk or had assaulted her. Mr. John Lockhart proved that the stove damaged in the Station was worth $12. Dr. Smith who was called upon to dress Monteth's wounds, described the condition in which the prisoner appeared. The blows, he said, would cause a rash of blood to the head and probably produce temporary insanity. He did not consider the prisoner safe as yet from infirmation of the brain. One or two other witnesses were called who had seen the arrest, and all agreed that unnecessary violence had been used. E. R. Gregory, Esq., who defended the prisoner, moved for his discharge on several grounds, and supported his points by a clever argument. He claimed that the policemen were not justified in making the arrest, for a mere assault, without a warrant, as no drunkenness had been found; that the police themselves had committed an assault, and the prisoner had a right to resist; that the prisoner, from the effects of the blow, was not in his right mind, and consequently was not responsible for any of his actions after he was confined in the station. Judge Taylor reviewed the evidence and referred to the objection, objecting, Tully at the same time a well merited compliment to him for his masterly defence of his client. He was of the opinion that unnecessary force had been used by the policemen, and for that reason would dismiss all charges, except for breaking the stove in the station house. He fined the prisoner $12, which he allowed to stand against him.

Testimonial to Mr. Fellows. We, the undersigned, clergymen of the Methodist Church in Nova Scotia, having used the preparation known as Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, prepared by Mr. James J. Fellows, Chemist, St. John, N. B., or having known cases wherein its effects were beneficial, believe it to be a reliable remedy for the disease for which it is recommended. James C. Heninger, Pres. of Conference, Wm. Sargent, John A. Mosher, John W. Howie, Stephen F. Huestis, Richard W. Weddell, A. W. Nicholson, Cranwick Jost, Rowland Morton, John Johnson.
