Users Tell

Go right out into Eastern Canada and you'll find farmers actually using more Sharples Dairy Tubular Cream Separators than the three next best combined. Go right out into Western Canada and you'll find four times as many Sharples Dairy Tubular Cream Separators in actual use as the next best machine.

That proves Tubulars are best

An actual canvass of separator users throughout Canada has proved these statements true. The manufacture of Tubulars is one of Canada's leading industries. Sales exceed most, if not all, others combined.

gaged in service—but it is a service of love and home building.

The British Islands lie in the same latitude as the Province of Saskatchewan. Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, the greater part of Germany, and about half of Russia are north of Regina. Edinburgh, Scotland, is further north than any of the settled parts of Saskatchewan. Christiana, the capital of Norway, and St. Petersburg, Russia, are in the 60th parallel of north latitude—the northern boundary of Saskatchewan.

The climate of Great Britain and of some other countries in Europe is, of course, influenced by the Gulf Stream, and it is recognized that the influence of the ocean in regulating climatic conditions and in preventing extremes is important. There are, however, a number of features pertaining to the climate of Saskatchewan that combine to make it a very pleasing one. The elevation above the sea, which is from 1,500 to 3,000 feet, insuring clear and dry atmosphere; the comparatively light precipitation, adequate, however, for all practical purposes; the equable temperature during the winter months, and the light snowfall; very large proportion of bright sunshine; the summer breeze and the clear pure air, and the absence of destructive storms; these are features of the climate of Saskatchewan that may be emphasised.

Pioneer re-unions such as that celebrated at Fleming, are to be highly commended, for they tend to create a pride in Canadian citizenship and confidence in the possibilities of the future. We are indebted to Mr. F. W. Chandler for the above illustrations.

SOME SHORT STORIES.

Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics of Philadelphia, was talking about the disastrous games with the New York Giants.

Suddenly the look of pain faded from his face, and a gentle smile appeared.

"One funny thing, though," he said, "I did see on that unlucky day."

"As the crowd was pushing and struggling to get out at the game's end a boy bored his way to the fence and began to climb over it."

"A policeman hastened toward him."

"Hi, there, kid," he yelled; "none 'o that. Go out the way you came in."

"By this time the boy had reached the top. He said, as he vanished on the other side:

"This is the way I came in."

P. F. Rothermel, counsel for the Lake Superior corporation, as the re-organized Consolidated Lake Superior is called, was complimented the other day on the excellent year the concern has had.

Mr. Rothermel smiled and answered:

"Yes, the company has gotten quickly on its feet. It has recovered quickly. It was not badly hurt, after all. And thus it resembles a widow of whom I heard recently."

"This lady's husband died, and, a day or two after the funeral, a neighbor called to extend her condolences."

"She expected to find the widow frantic with grief. She found her at the piano, singing a gay song. And, astonished at so quick a recovery, the visitor said:

"Well, well, I expected to see you in the deepest distress."

"Ah," said the widow pathetically, "you should have seen me yesterday."

Dr. B. A. Booth declares that Pittsburg, the city he lives in, is a deplorable example of race suicide.

"On that count," he said recently, "I accuse my own town, to be sure; but on all other counts I praise her. Pittsburg is a beautiful, a rich, a desirable city."

"I particularly like here our politeness. I visited another city not long since, and the impoliteness which I found there seemed strange. Such a spirit seldom lifts its ugly head in Pittsburg."

"And one piece of nastiness I saw on my visit almost made me convert to race suicide."

"It was a lovely autumn day, and I was making a river excursion on a steamboat."

"The decks were rather crowded. We cut our way smoothly through the clear, deep water. On either side rose mountains aflame with the red and gold of the autumn foliage."

"And it was all nice, but suddenly a child, seated on its mother's lap, began to cry."

"Frowns were at once directed toward this child. They had no effect, though. The bawling became louder. It annoyed you, like a toothache."

"And the passengers all showed their annoyance. Certain audible growls began to reach the mother."

"Don't see what the people want to bring kids for."

"It needs a spanking. That is what it wants."

"Confound the little brat."

"The mother sat with a stony face, gazing straight ahead, and jumping the child up and down nervously on her knee."

"All eyes, all thoughts, were now turned to her and to her howling youngster. The scenery was forgotten. Suggestions floated in the air for her to catch."

"Maybe it's sick."

"She ought to take it below."

"It must have the colic to shriek like that."

"As these suggestions became louder and bolder the woman became angrier."

"And all of a sudden she seized the child and shook it violently."

"Cry as loud as you like, Millie," she exclaimed. "I've paid your fare."

"All right; you win dis time. Best two out o' t'ree."

"Best two out o' t'ree. You didn't say nuffin' 'bout dat at first!"

"What yer kickin' about? You've got just as good a chanst as me!"

WEAK BACK FOR YEARS.

Mrs. A. Schnare, Black Point, N.B., writes: "For years I was troubled with weak back. Oftentimes I have laid in bed for days, being scarcely able to turn myself and I have also been a great sufferer while trying to perform my household duties. I had doctors attending me without avail and tried liniments and plasters, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I was about to give up in despair when my husband induced me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and after using two boxes I am now well and able to do my work. I am positive Doan's Kidney Pills are all that you claim for them and I would advise all kidney sufferers to give them a fair trial."

Price, 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25. At all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price, by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
