Men's volleyball in third

by Mark Alberstat

The men's volleyball team hosted the first regular season AUAU tournament at Dalplex Nov. 11-12. The overall winner of the tournament was the Memorial Beothuks. This tournament leaves Memorial alone in first place with a 5 and 0 record.

In their first Friday match Dal met the UNB Rebels, who just the weekend before had a field day with the Tigers, winning five of six games to take both matches. In this match the Tigers took the first game 15-13. After this the Rebels regrouped and took the next three games 15-8, 15-9, and 17-15. This match saw the Tigers doing a lot of blocking and just getting some bad breaks.

In the second match of the day the Tigers faced Memorial. This team is the strongest in the league and showed it by defeating Dal in three straight games. The scores of this match were 15-11, 15-8, and 15-11. The first game of the set saw Dal at first ahead by four points but later overwhelmed by a flurry of points from MUN. This match also saw some fine team efforts by the Tigers and some well executed sets.

Saturday's game against the Moncton Blue Eagles saw Dal's only match win in the tournament. With this win Dal posted a one and two record for the tournament, good enough to claim third place.

The scores for the Moncton-Dal match were 15-5, 15-8, 7-15, 10-15, and 15-6. Dernie Derible led the Tigers with 23 kills, one ace serve and four blocking points. For the Blue Eagles, Anselme Albert had 16 kills, two ace serves and three blocking points.

This tournament leaves Dal in third place in the AUAU with a 2 and 5 record, behind both Memorial (5-0) and UNB (4-1). UDM (1-6) are in fourth place.

The team will be on the road for the next while and won't be home until January 20-22 when they host the Dal Classic Tournament.

Hockey Tigers return from US

On Friday and Saturday, the Tigers were in Troy, New York, to play a pair of games against Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. RPI is currently ranked seventh in the NCAA.

In Friday night's contest, RPI outshot the Tigers 30-12, and outscored them as well, 7-2. This time it was Jeffery and Paul Heron who scored for the Tigers.

Sunday's game, the third in three days for the Tigers, was against Lowell University in Massachusetts.

"We simply ran out of gas against Lowell," said Tiger coach Peter Esdale. He said that the team did play well, however, despite the 7-2 final score in favour of Lowell.

"It is hard to measure our capabilities when we only had 15 skaters," he added.

Esdale said that the clubs his squad faced in the United States were excellent hockey teams, and that the experience from the tough schedule will help his team in the long run.

After a month of away games, with one lone exception, the Dalhousie Tigers Men's Hockey team finally had a chance to play in front of the home fans Wednesday night, when they hosted the Acadia Axemen in AUAU action.

The absence of the Tigers from their home ice has been mainly due to an extensive exhibition schedule against U.S. competition. Last weekend, the Tigers went on a three-game exhibition tour, and came away with three losses, but valuable experience against tough competition.

He added that the AUAU league is the toughest it has been since he has been coaching the Tigers, and that every game is important.

Next week, the Tigers are again on the road as they travel to St. Francis Xavier and Moncton for games on November 23rd and 25th respectively.

Their next home date is on November 30th, against cross-town rivals, the St. Mary's Huskies.
