KEEPING LENT.

The Lenten season is good for those who observe it—good for the body as well as the soul, comments the Hamilton Herald. It is a time of rest, refreshment, recuperation and preparation. But of those who observe it, it is doubtful if a large proportion "keep Lent" in the right spirit. Many observe it because they are so enjoined by the laws of their church; they faithfully obey the rules laid down for the due observance of the season, fasting at the proper times and being regular in the performance of their devotional duties. Such observance of Lent is spiritually beneficial if it is not mere conformity to custom and obedience to rule, but is an observance in spirit as well as according to the letter; but how many there are who "keep Lent" in the same way that the horse on a treadmill keeps going!

Many there are, of both sexes, who make of Lent a convenience. The "high liver," whose alimentary organs need rest after a winter of indulgence, finds the forty days of abstinence early in the year better than any medicine. He values Lent for the physical good it does him, and so he "keeps" it, sometimes "swearing off" from booze and tobacco as well as relieving the strain on his digestive apparatus. And the society woman also finds in Lent a season of grateful repose after the dissipation of the winter months—a happy interregnum between seasons—a period of leisure to be employed in planning for Easter festivity and summer recreation; also a welcome opportunity to retrench in expenditure and practice needful economy for the sake of needless luxury in the near future. It is amusing to note how such people make a virtue of observing Lent, even deceiving themselves into thinking that they are practicing meritorious self-denial which should be counted to their credit at the grand audit.

Verily these classes of Lenten devotees have their reward, each after its own manner. But neither the precision nor those who make of Lent a convenience really understand what the true observance of Lent is. How should Lent be observed—what is the real Lenten spirit? Instead of answering the question ourselves, we shall let good old Herriek answer it. This jolly parish priest sang of wine and lovely women in verse unexcelled in grace by any of his tuneful contemporaries; but he was capable of deeper and more serious sentiment, and he had spiritual insight, as is proved by his quaint but really religious stanzas, entitled A True Lent. They are as fresh and appropriate to-day as they were when they were written, some 250 years ago:

Is this a fast—to keep
The larder lean
And clean
From fat of veals and sheep?
Is it to quit the dish
Of flesh, yet still
To fill
The platter high with fish?
Is it to fast an hour
Or rag'd to go,
Or show
A downcast look, and sour?
No! 'tis a fast to dole
Thy sheaf of wheat,
And meat
Unto the hungry soul.
It is to fast from strife,
From all debate
And hate—
To circumscribe thy life.
To show a heart grief-riant;
To waver thy sin,
Not bin—
And that's to keep thy Lent.

A CONFLICT OF TESTIMONY.

Archie Campbell, M. P., has written to L. O. L. No. 900, Toronto Junction, to reassure that lodge on the subject of the school clauses of the Autonomy bill. Mr. Campbell says he would oppose the bill if separate schools, such as we have in Ontario, were to be established under the law. But he is convinced that such schools can never be instituted. In fact, if the law be passed in its present shape, "the few separate schools that are now there—in the Northwest—will disappear, and at the end of five years there will not be a separate school left. They will all be national schools." How does Mr. Lemieux like this? If Mr. Campbell speaks truly, why all this potter? Would it not be better to leave the provinces free than to have an uproar about a proposition that puts an end to that which is destined to sustain?

"The Wizard of Oz," which comes to the Grand on Monday, April 17th, seems to be increasing its hold on the theatre-going public, if that were possible, and there is little wonder that this is so, since "The Wizard" possesses so many features to render it attractive that the same people are seen in the audience time and time again. It is said that when it played the long run at the Majestic Theatre in New York there were several people who went night after night and it came to be quite a matter of rivalry as to who would have the best record for attendance. One youth acknowledged to having seen "The Wizard" over 200 times. This fact may not be quite so pronounced everywhere, but it is known that whenever there is a long engagement there are many who do not miss a single performance during the whole run. The Seawarrior and the Tin Woodman are two characterizations that are alone sufficient to make "The Wizard" a success, and indeed seem that there places would indeed be hard to fill in the hearts of American playgoers. Aside from them, however, there are a number of other unique characters worthy of mention. The Cowardly Lion and the Scarecrow should not be passed over, and the two gentlemen who play these parts accomplish wonders in "laugh getting," and this, too, without speaking a word. The principal ladies of the company are all pretty and clever, and the girls of the chorus are shapely and are most attractively costumed. It is wise to come early to the theatre during the engagement of "The Wizard," as the curtain goes up at eight o'clock, and the cyclone scene, one of the features of the performance, is finished before 8.15.

HAS BEEN ALL RIGHT EVER SINCE

T. H. Belyea, P. M., Proves That
Dodd's Kidney Pills Cures
Permanently.

Some Years Since He Used Them
Now And He Has Had Good Health
Ever Since—Story of Well-Known
New Brunswick Man.

Lower Windsor, Carleton Co., N. B. April 10.—(Special.)—Yes, I have good health ever since I used Dodd's Kidney Pills. The speaker was Mr. T. H. Belyea, postmaster here, and one of the most highly respected men in this part of the country. Asked to give his experience with the great Canadian Kidney Remedy Mr. Belyea, continued:

"I had been troubled with my kidneys for a number of years. I tried several kinds of new fangled and other kinds of medicine, but did not seem to get any lasting benefit. Hearing Dodd's Kidney Pills so highly recommended I decided to try them and they made a complete cure of me. That is two years ago now and as I said before I have had good health ever since I used Dodd's Kidney Pills."

It is business to contest the opinion of the fellow who declines to be convinced.

BRITAIN HAS SURPLUS

Revenue For 1904 Exceeded the Expenditures By $15,000,000.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Places the Expenditure for 1904-5 at $705,140,000—Provisions for the National Debt Meets With Congratulations from Campbell-Bannerman—Tax Reduced from July 1.

London, April 11.—Budget day attracted a large crowd of members of Parliament and visitors to the House of Commons yesterday and when the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Austen Chamberlain, rose to make his annual statement, the House was well filled in all parts.

The quietest Mr. Chamberlain put his hearers in a good humor by announcing that the revenue of the year just closed exceeded his estimate by nearly $15,000,000, showing that the trade of the country had turned the corner, and whereas a year ago there was a heavy deficit there had now been established something more than equilibrium between the revenue and expenditure.

Although 1904 began badly, a bountiful crop of cotton had revived the Lancashire industries, ship-building showed signs of recovery, and the iron and steel industries had slightly improved. Nevertheless, while the country was on the path of moderate but steady recovery it could not be said that 1904-5 had been wholly satisfactory from the viewpoint of commerce and finance. There had been much pauperism and distress.

Cheering for Blue Ribboners. In analyzing the items of revenue, the Chancellor of the Exchequer said the sugar duty promised to prove an expanding revenue, and tea fell short of the estimates, mostly during the last quarter of the year, so perhaps this was attributable to holding shipments on the chance of a reduction in the duty. The exports of coal marked a record, but the decline in the excise duties on spirits which commenced in 1904 continued. The consumption of beer and spirits was less in 1904 than in any of the preceding fifteen years.

"In fact," said Mr. Chamberlain, "the habits of the people are changing, and this must be taken into account in considering the financial situation. The majority of the people are finding other employment for the money they used to spend in public houses. Outdoor recreation and excursions are becoming more popular."

Expenditure Estimates. Turning to the expenditure of 1904-5, Mr. Chamberlain said it had been below the estimates and the actual realized surplus for the year was $7,070,000. The national debt had been reduced $37,790,000, and at the close of the year stood at $3,775,860,000.

Dealing with the finances of the year, Mr. Chamberlain estimated the expenditure for 1904-5 at $705,140,000, and the revenue on the existing basis of taxation at $720,620,000, leaving a surplus of $15,480,000. The surplus at his disposal from last year, Mr. Chamberlain said, was $15,000,000, of which he had no doubt regarding what had the first claim on the country's resources.

The first thing to do was to restore the national credit. He proposed that $3,000,000 should be added to the fixed debt charge to create a sinking fund for $50,000,000 in treasury bonds, falling due in December, and which he proposed to re-issue as new bonds for ten years, with the condition that one-tenth should be drawn and repaid each year. This disposed of $5,000,000 of his surplus.

Contribution From Transvaal. Incidentally the Chancellor of the Exchequer said he hoped that the first instalment of the $150,000,000 of the war contribution promised by the Transvaal would be available in 1906. In the meanwhile repayments from the Transvaal on account of railroad works and sales of stores, together with the sinking fund at the Government's disposal, would wipe out $20,000,000 of the treasury bonds out of the $74,000,000 due in December. He had already stated how he proposed to deal with the remaining $59,000,000.

Cannot Help Income Taxpayer. The new recommendation of the Chancellor of the Exchequer were dismissed in a few words. Mr. Chamberlain regretted he was unable to relieve the income taxpayer as the cost of reducing the tax by two cents would be $11,100,000, and he had not the necessary money. He proposed to take off July 1 the extra duty of four cents per pound put on tea last year, which would absorb $7,750,000; to clear away the remainder of the customs warehousing charges, which were an annoyance to traders without substantially increasing the revenue; and to abolish certain small stamp duties, leaving $2,110,000 to meet contingencies.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader in the House, commended Mr. Chamberlain on the clearness of his statement and his provisions in regard to the national debt.

Balfour Called Wrecker. London, April 11.—Premier Balfour came in for considerable criticism at the first banquet of the Unionist Free Trade Club held last night at the Cecil Hotel, when the Duke of Devonshire proposed success to the cause of free trade.

He blamed the Premier for not making any direct statement of his policy. The only object of Mr. Chamberlain's with which he could sympathize was that to strengthen the bonds of the Empire. He feared, however, the effect would be the reverse.

Viscount Goschen denounced Mr. Balfour's policy of evasion with regard to the fixed question in the House of Commons. They might blame the leader who wrecked his party, but still greater condemnation would be passed on the leader who wrecked the reputation of the House of Commons.

The worth of character. In the last analysis the only real value is a clear conscience.

When the joke is on you it pays to pretend you enjoy it.

Cast thy money upon the waters, for after a few weeks it will return in presents from wife and daughter.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

After Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced—Eight Doctors and Many Remedies Failed to Do a Cent's Worth of Good.

THANKS TO CUTICURA IT IS ALL OVER NOW

"I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh get hard and break, with blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried eight different doctors, but none did me any good, as my hands were as bad as when I began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heart-sore. I would feel so bad mornings, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, I often felt like giving up my position. I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft, and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. I had to wear gloves at night, in fact, all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, that is all over now. After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a single box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I have known what sore hands are, and have never lost a day's work while using Cuticura.—Thomas A. Clancy, 310 N. Montgomery St., Trenton, N. J."

ONE NIGHT TREATMENT For Sore Hands and Feet with Cuticura.

Soak the hands or feet at night in a strong, hot, creamy lather of Cuticura Soap. Dry and anoint freely with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure. Wear on the hands at night old, loose gloves, or bandage the feet tightly in old, soft cotton or linen.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Dealers: London, 21 Chancery Lane; New York, 150 N. York St.; Boston, 150 N. York St.; Philadelphia, 150 N. York St.; Chicago, 150 N.
