To "Devil" Turkey.—Mix a little salt, black pepper, and cayenne, and sprinkle the mixture over the gizzard, rump, and drumstick, of a dressed turkey; boil them, and serve very hot with this sauce; mix with some of the gravy out of the dish, a little made mustard, some butter and flour, a spoonful of lemon juice, and the same of soy; boil up the whole.

A Sweetmeat Pudding.—Cover a dish with a thin puff-paste, and lay in it freshly candied orange, lemon, and citron, one ounce each; sliced thin; beat the yolks of eight and the whites of two eggs, and mix with eight ounces of butter, warmed, but not oiled, and eight ounces of white sugar; pour the mixture on the sweetmeats, and bake an hour in a moderate oven.
