TEN COMMANDMENTS OF HYGIENE.—First—Rise early, retire early and fill your day with work.

Second—Water and bread maintain life; pure air and sunshine are indispensible to health.

Third—Frugality and sobriety for the best elixir of longevity.

Fourth—Cleanliness prevents rust; the best cared for machines last the longest.

Fifth—Enough sleep repairs waste and strengthens; too much sleep softens and enfeebles.

Sixth—To be sensibly dressed is to give freedom to one's movements and enough warmth to be protected from sudden changes of temperature.

Seventh—A clean and cheerful house makes a happy home.

Eighth—The mind is refreshed and invigorated by distractions and amusement, but abuse of them leads to dissipation, and dissipation to vice.

Ninth—Cheerfulness makes love of life, and love of life is half of health. On the contrary, sadness and discouragement hasten old age.

Tenth—Do you gain your living by your intellect? Then do not allow your arms and legs to grow stiff. Do you earn your bread by your pick-axe? Do not forget to cultivate your mind and to enlarge your thought.—From a French "Medical Review."

A CLUMSY BOND.—An illustration of the wisdom of having legal documents drawn by legal experts is afforded by the following case:—

The County Treasurer of Tomkins County, U.S., gave a bond "unto the County of Tomkins, in the penal sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000), to be paid to the County of Tomkins, its successors and assigns," conditioned that, if he shall "faithfully execute the duties of his office and shall pay over according to law and account for all moneys, property and securities which shall come into his hands as treasurer and render a just and true account thereof to the Board of Supervisors when thereunto required and obey all orders and directions of a competent court relating thereto, then this obligation shall be void, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue." The Treasurer converted to his own use a portion of the school money received by him from the State Treasurer. It was held by the Appellate Division of the New York Supreme Court (Town of Ulysses v. Ingersoll, 81 App. Div. 304), such town and the supervisor thereof could not, there being no statute authorizing them to do so, maintain an action upon the bond to recover the money so converted, as, in the absence of statutory authority, an action upon a sealed instrument can only be maintained by those who are named as parties therein.
