

NEWS FROM IRELAND.

Dublin.

On Whit-Monday the public paths and wash-houses, just completed at Tara street, off Great Brunswick street, Dublin, were opened with a fitting ceremony by the Lord Mayor. The accommodation which the premises will supply will prove an immense boon to the working classes of the populous district of which they are the centre, and for whose special benefit they were erected by the Public Health Committee of the Corporation at an expense of nearly £5,000. The front, which is built of Kingscourt brick, presents a very handsome aspect, and immediately over the entrance are large limestone slabs with the inscription "Public Baths and Wash-houses."

Wicklow.

A largely-attended Nationalist meeting was held at Enniskerry, on May 22, for the purpose of taking steps to avail of the increased franchise under the new act. Resolutions were passed calling on all who were entitled to be placed on the voters' list to come forward and establish their claims. Resolutions were also adopted, strongly condemning the action of the present Government towards Ireland.

Wexford.

Since the Kinella girls have been jailed, now for the sixth time, the Nolans have the farm stocked with cattle, bought in the fair of Newtownbarry, on the 29th of April last. The day the police carried the girls off, Mosey Nolan drew away the manure that had been lying in the Kinella farm-yard since their arrest some years ago, and deposited it on his own land, about a mile distant. He likewise cut away all the thorns and shelter about the Kinella farm-house, so that it is now almost a common. The Nolans' Emergency-man, Tobin, still occupies the Kinella-house. Ellen Kinella has been released from jail, four days before her time. She suffers greatly from her chest, where she was hurt by the beating she received from an Emergency man.

King's County.

On May 16th, two of the sheriff's officers, accompanied by a party of constabulary, proceeded to the townland of Monavogue and evicted Thos. Tracy from a small farm containing nine acres, at a yearly rent of £5. The rent was fully paid to the 25th March last. This small farm was sublet to the evicted tenant by a farmer named Maurice Tracy, who held a large farm in that locality under Sir J. N. McKenna, and judgment was obtained against Thos. Tracy by the middle landlord, Maurice Tracy, on the grounds that he wanted the land for his own use. The quiet and peaceable possession of this farm was now given.

Longford.

A melancholy boating accident occurred on May 11th, at the junction of the river Inny with Lough Ree, by which William Dimond, Esq., of Derry House, County Longford (the residence of deceased), lost his life. An inquest was held by Mr. McEaver, coroner for the county Longford, at deceased's residence, at which it transpired that Mr. Dimond, together with his two men, went for a sail in his pleasure boat. The two men were in charge of the boat when one of the rowlocks broke, and the man fell back into the boat. The other man let go his oars to assist his comrade to right himself, and in his endeavor to do so capsized the boat. Mr. Dimond being under the men were rescued in a short time, but deceased was never afterwards seen alive. He was only 33 years of age, and leaves a wife, five young children, and a large circle of relations and friends to mourn his loss.

Louth.

John Halpeny, Esq., of Riverstown House, Ardee, died, on May 18th. In Ardee, his native place, his death is deplored as a public calamity. He was the foremost man in every good work; his counsel was the wisest, and his subscription the largest when religion or charity made a call. The funeral was the largest seen in Ardee for many a year; all classes of the community attended to pay him honor. He was buried in the beautiful cemetery of Ballinapaula.

Westmeath.

On May 15th, after having returned from the device at the Mission, in Castleplad, Michael Farnham and his daughter Margaret Farnham went into a lime-kiln to renew the fire, and, after being some time inside and having performed their work were about leaving when the gases in the place overcame them and death was the result. A son of Farnham's who went to search for them, narrowly escaped burning in the kiln.

Cork.

A laboring man named Driscoll was sentenced under the Crimes Act to a month's imprisonment at the Ballinacorney sessions, on May 19th, for threatening to "boycott" another laborer who worked for a certain farmer in the district.

The milling industry in the south of Ireland has declined during the past few years to a great extent. An inquiry into its condition has disclosed the alarming fact that there are twelve mills idle in the district, which it is calculated five years ago gave constant employment to the heads of nearly three hundred families. This and condition of things is attributed to American competition, which has so unfavorably militated against the successful pursuit of the industry locally. With such conditions existing Mr. B. Hall has started a mill in Cork, on the most modern principles, which is to try conclusions with the Americans.

Early on May 22nd, her Majesty's steam tender Shamrock was manned with seventy blue-jackets, and brought alongside the Admiralty Pier, Cork, where thirty-five armed policemen, under the command of District Inspector Sommerville, were embarked, together with the sheriff of the county Cork and a number of bailiffs, and proceeded down the river to Aghada, whence the armed force of police, sheriff, and bailiffs proceeded about five miles to the lands of the tenants of Colonel Thackwell, J. P., and there seized sixty-five head of cattle, four horses, and one colt for rent in arrears. The cattle were driven off the lands to Cork before the tenants had risen from their slumbers.

Ballinacorney, a place which forms a connecting link between Cork and Waterford, was to the fore on Sunday, May 17th, in great strength. A meeting of imposing dimensions was held there, with the double object of strengthening the League organization and discussing current politics, local as well as imperial. Deputations attended from Killeagh, Ballymacoda, Tallow, Youghal, Mogeely, Ballygishan, Knockmore, Breedin, Park, Killeen, &c., most of the contingents being accompanied by life and drum bands, and banners. Tallow sending its brass band. Alderman Hooper, Mr. J. C. Flynn, and Mr. George O'Donnell, T. C., attended as a deputation from the Cork Branch of the League. One of the chief subjects brought forward for consideration was the continued drain of emigration.

Clare.

In pursuance of the good work so well begun by planting and manuring Michael White's potatoes, of Ballycar, a large number of people assembled, on May 20th, close to the now deserted cabin which was once White's home. Having moved into the garden, the work of second casting the potatoes did not last long, and then all present, with the exception of the police, shouldering their spades, marched to Ballycar station-house, where White was expected to arrive after his incarceration, which, owing to some unforeseen circumstance, he did not do. All were eagerly anxious to appoint a day and build a house for him, but as several parties present offered to give him a house it was decided to wait until he came from jail, and then, if he wished it, all would assemble on any day he would appoint. Mr. Bennett having thanked the people on the part of White, all quietly went home.

Tipperary.

An unprecedented alternative to the extraordinary demand for the payment of a hanging gale in existence on the property from time immemorial has just been put before the Cappawhite tenants of Lieutenant Bagwell Purfoy, by Mr. Major Tanner, of Carlisle. A large number of the tenants, being small, modern medical men, being small, sugar-coated granules, containing the active principles of certain roots and herbs, and which will be found to contain as much cathartic power as any of the old-fashioned, larger pills, without the latter's violent, drastic effects. The pellets operate thoroughly but harmlessly, establishing a permanently healthy condition of the stomach and bowels, and as an anti-bilious remedy are unequalled.

The experience of the manufacturers of the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco is a valuable lesson in political economy. Previous to their commencing that brand, the tobacco made of the finest Virginia leaf was always sold at fancy prices, and put up in some fancy style of luxury, being small, sugar-coated granules, containing the active principles of certain roots and herbs, and which will be found to contain as much cathartic power as any of the old-fashioned, larger pills, without the latter's violent, drastic effects. Antrim.

A fatal accident occurred at Belfast, on May 9, in Highfield Mill, by which a man named F. Robinson lost his life. The unfortunate man was acting as driver of a new engine, which had just been erected, and which was undergoing some preliminary tests. An explosion occurred, and Robinson was so injured that he died shortly afterwards in the Royal Hospital. The deceased leaves a widow and seven children, the eldest of whom is only 14 years of age.

The result of the election for the county Antrim, has proved a bitter pill for the Tories to swallow. The election lay between Mr. Sinclair, a Liberal, and the Hon. Robert O'Neill, a Conservative, and in a total poll of 7,803 votes the former was elected by the narrow majority of 180 votes. This is the first Liberal victory in the county for the past thirty-seven years.

The most enviable honor which the Royal visit has brought in its train was carried off by Mr. Harland, the Mayor of Belfast, when he "declined, with thanks," to be a member of the "Order of the Royal Visit," as the Order is called. The Belfast News-Letter states that Mr. Harland spent of his private means, no less than £18,000 on the occasion of the Royal visit, and the Orangemen are savage that a baronetcy was not offered him. He will, perhaps, be more frugal next time.

Mr. Thomas A. Dickson's desertion of Mr. Gladstone is an incident of Ulster politics, which may well be pronounced a very striking occurrence in prospect of a general election. He declares that "now that the Government have decided upon a policy of coercion instead of conciliation," he will vote against them. "I shall vote," he says, "against any renewal of the Coercion Acts, and shall do all in my power to influence English opinion in the same direction." Not only the particular matter of the Coercion Act, but the whole Irish programme of the Government to "be forewarned in the speech of the Prime Minister" displeases his quondam faithful supporter.

Armagh.

The National movement has been further strengthened by the establishment, in the county Armagh, of the Cullyhanna National League. The chairman at the inauguration was the Rev. Father McGuirk. A provisional committee was also appointed, and an order given to have the branch affiliated with the Central League in Dublin.

Tyronne.

An early indication of the part Ulster is about to play in the Irish National cause was supplied, on May 20th, by a splendid Convention of the League in Tyronne. The delegates met in Omagh, and no less than thirty-two districts of the county sent their representatives. Priest and layman, Protestant and Catholic were present, finding a common ground on the platform of the National League. Mr. Harrington, M. P., occupied the chair, and in the course of a thoughtful and earnest address, pointed to the vast legislative change which had now placed the people in their rightful position, and which called for a corresponding activity on their part to organize their strength that they might fully exercise their power. A series of vigorous resolutions, proposed by the Rev. James McConnaghe, C. C., Cappagh, and seconded by Mr. Wm. Graham, President of the Drumquin Branch, were unanimously adopted. Prominent in these resolutions, was a demand for a reconsideration of the Land Question, especially as to the power of the landlord to evict, and to the settlement of the estates of the London Companies in the county Derry. An immediate and valuable result of the Convention was the appointment of organizing secretaries for the different divisions of the county, and an agreement to establish a central body in Omagh. No county in Ulster has made greater strides in the National movement, within the past few years, than the county of the "Killyman wreckers." It has been a nursery for the discipline of the "pious and immortal memory" and under the old name of things a "good hazard" for backs of the two English parties in the House of Commons. This Convention inaugurates the new era. It reveals a much greater strength and power among the Nationalists than any one had ventured to believe, while the display of the dignity of the proceedings were worthy of the county of the historic Dungannon Convention.

Galway.

W. J. Paul, Esq., R. M., and Walter Seymour, Esq., held a magisterial investigation at Ballinasloe Courthouse, on May 18, in a charge preferred against Henry W. Cleary, Esq., Anasheigh House, of having, unlawfully, put a billiard named Lynch, who was in charge of the place, on a fire, from which he received very severe burns so as to endanger his life, on the night of May 12. A number of witnesses were examined, after which the case was adjourned for a fortnight. Mr. Jones, D. L., said the man's life was still in danger. Mr. Paul consented to allow Mr. Cleary out on bail.

"Throw Physic to the Dogs" when it is the old-fashioned blue mass, blue pill sort, and insist on using Dr. Fild's "Plantain Purgative Pellets," a modern medical luxury, being small, sugar-coated granules, containing the active principles of certain roots and herbs, and which will be found to contain as much cathartic power as any of the old-fashioned, larger pills, without the latter's violent, drastic effects. The pellets operate thoroughly but harmlessly, establishing a permanently healthy condition of the stomach and bowels, and as an anti-bilious remedy are unequalled.

RENOUING FREEMASONRY.

The following renouing and exposure of Freemasonry has just been made public by a Canadian Methodist minister:

CHARLOTTE, Ont., Sept. 30, 1883.

To the W. M. and Members of Lodge No. 38 of A. F. A. M. in session in Toronto:

DEAR SIRS—Permit me to announce to you my full and complete renouing of, first, my membership in lodge, and, second, my non-acceptance and rejection of the theories and professed religious character of Freemasonry. I may remind members who witnessed my initiation ten years ago, how I was troubled, when taking the first degree, at the horrible phyllophony of the obligation, "Under no less a penalty," etc., etc. So also my soul revolted with each successive degree until I was made a Master Mason in the lodge. Members will remember I refused to utter the words of the oath until the master of ceremonies offered an explanation that temporarily quieted my conscience. I talked with Masons of my inability to recognize the Masonic oaths, or make them sincere. I was told that the religion of the only religion I accept, viz., the religion of Jesus Christ. I furthermore am induced and emboldened to deny "The religion of Masonry" as anti-Christian in its character. Its Christless prayers, its bloody oaths, its lifeless promises of morality, (lifeless promises of Christianity), I must positively condemn. I wish also to announce my belief and purpose:

First, that having not "Of my free will and accord," (because I was ignorant of what I was called to pass through), but unadvisedly led into the taking of what I can only conceive to be murderous, horrible and wickedly anti-Christian oaths of the three first degrees of Freemasonry; and, second, having for the last eight or nine years been so persuaded concerning the character of said oaths; and, thirdly, chiefly believing that by the authority of the written word of the Lord Jesus, whose I am and who I serve, I am divinely authorized to discover and refuse to obey or observe said oaths, I proclaim to the lodge, and to all Masons everywhere, my freedom from all obligations to so respect and keep the obligations of the three first degrees of Freemasonry. My purpose is based on the conscientiousness that our Lord Jesus Christ maketh me free from all obligation to keep the unholy oaths I took in the lodge. "Thou shalt not swear thyself by the name of the Lord thy God," (Matt. v. 33.) Second, on the nature of my commission as an ambassador of Christ. "I will be every man," (see Ezek. xxxiii. 9, and Col. i. 28), which I am another so minded cannot do, and be true to these oaths. I hold it to be my bounden obligation in the sight of my divine Master, and my sacred purpose, to prevent by my advice, and by my example also (so far as I am able), to save men from the influence of the anti-Christian character of the institution. I do most positively affirm that in taking this course I have only what I understand to be love, Christian love, toward all men. I take my stand for God, in the name of His Son, my adorable Saviour Jesus Christ. I am aware of the consequences possible in connection with this step I take. "But none of these things move me." I believe myself true to a good conscience in the sight of the living God, in what I am now doing. I believe I sinned in the first instance towards the Christian character of the institution. I do most positively affirm that in taking this course I have only what I understand to be love, Christian love, toward all men. I take my stand for God, in the name of His Son, my adorable Saviour Jesus Christ. I am aware of the consequences possible in connection with this step I take. "But none of these things move me."
