Brown Will Address Big Rally in Fredericton
Friday Night

FREDERICTON, N. B., Oct. 12.—The echoes of the Stanley joint meeting are still grating harshly in O. S. Crockett's ears. The great success of Mr. Brown in meeting and vanquishing the 'boastful' Tory candidate is the talk of the city, and all through the Nashwaak Valley. It has given Brown's stock a rise of 100 per cent. It has enthused the Stanley Liberals and depressed the rise of 100 per cent. It has enthused the Stanley Liberals and depressed the Tories, who no longer talk of a two-thirds vote for Crockett at Stanley and who will be well pleased if they break even in that parish. The Liberal party in the constituency is so strong that the Tories are growing nervous over the outlook. They are not only not short of popular sympathy but are groping vainly for funds with which to stem the tide of Liberalism. In the city of London, where the Liberalism is more than a passing fancy, the Tories will need to root up a majority of 250 to 200 for Brown. Added interest will be given to the campaign on Friday night, when Mr. Brown is to address a big rally in the Opera House.

Provincial News

HARTLAND, N. B., Oct. 12.—Everything in this and adjacent parishes points once more to Liberal victory in the campaign. One well known Conservative was heard to remark to another that Smith will not have more than half the support in the villages that he had last winter. It is very well known here, as it is elsewhere that many Liberals voted last March that he had last winter. It is very well known here, as it is elsewhere that many Liberals voted last March for the present Conservative candidate with no thought of ever supporting him in an issue like the present.

Carleton county farmers are deaf to the appeal to denounce the government on the plea of increased taxation. They have thrived well under Liberal rule, many have become richer in the twelve years, and the only undue burden of taxation they know is the increased road tax. They realize that they buy more because they can have more. They know that some of the goods they buy are imported, and in this way they pay an indirect tax through the customs. But the farmers are a bright class and know well that it is easier to buy imported goods today than it was twelve years ago, and, moreover, they buy imported luxuries today that under Tory rule they were compelled by hard times to do without. Not, however, that imported luxuries are so much cheaper by reason of rearrangement of tariff, but because the general betterment of their condition enables them to buy.

the good times and the great hue and cry made by the spell-binders, does not impress them with a sense of being overburdened with taxation—excepting in the case of the road tax.

GREAT SALMON RIVER. St. John's County, Oct. 9.—A general holiday prevailed here today to celebrate the launching of a new barge by the Bay Shore Lumber Company. Among those present at the ceremony was the Hon. William Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, who drove from St. Martin's in the morning. At an open meeting this afternoon an eloquent and telling address was delivered by the Minister.

tor on the issues of the present campaign. The greatest enthusiasm was shown at the meeting, which was attended not only by the employees of the company, but by many farmers and residents of the surrounding country. A striking feature of the gathering was a speech by Daniel S. Cowles of Brunswick, Me., president of the company, who, after paying a tribute to the ability and high reputation of Dr. Pugsley, asked his men to give their Minister their hearty support. Ora F. King of Sussex also made a stirring speech, in which he exposed the false canvass of the opposition.

A significant incident occurred last evening at a meeting held by Dr. A. W. MacRae, the opposition candidate. As he spoke for an hour and a half, he was given the usual cheering and waving, but the vastness of the hall, where he proposed to deliver an address, on his arrival he found a fair sized audience prepared to listen to him, but no chairman. Despite all his efforts he failed to discover a supporter who would introduce him to the audience. At length Capt. David Turfitt, who is well known as a strong supporter of Dr. Pugsley and Liberal principles, in order to relieve Dr. MacRae's embarrassment, consented to take the chair, and the meeting proceeded.

It is almost needless to say it was devoid of enthusiasm. The settlement can be counted on to vote Liberal almost to a man.

The launch of the barge took place at 10.45 and in the presence of a large crowd, Dr. Pugsley, who was accompanied by W. G. Scovill and Councillor F. M. Cochran, arrived a few minutes before the time, and was an interested spectator. As the barge slid gracefully down the ways, Robert Connelly, the popular manager of the company, broke a bottle of champagne over the bows and the trim looking craft took the water amid hearty cheers. The building of the barge was begun last fall, and when launched this morning was ready to join the company's fleet in transporting pulp wood to Bath (Maine). She is 186 feet over all with 33 feet beam and a 12-foot hold.

MacDONALD DELIVERS ANOTHER SLASHING ATTACK ON FOSTER

Shows Up Foster's Arrangement of Union Trust Company and Quotes From Letter in Which Foster Asks Head of Foresters to "Turn on the Tap, Wheels of Union Trust Are in Need of Oil"

paign in this constituency had not Mr. Foster challenged the genuineness of the receipts, he would have no reference and described as "false" the allegation that he had taken a private commission a very large rake-off in the sale of the land to the Government as manager of the Union Trust Company. Taking up the first of the letters written by Mr. Foster to the late Mr. Macdonald, he said that he had reserved funds of the Independent Order of Foresters be drawn upon to relieve the financial distress of the Union Trust Company, and that in the management, Mr. MacDonald went on: "Mr. Foster tried to cast doubt on the fact and motive of those letters. He said that they were written for dates. He wanted to examine the signatures. But, sir, and this is significant, he did not deny having written them, and he did not deny having made such demands from the Foresters to be used in meeting land transactions unauthorized by the directors."

Turning to the matter of commission, a private rake-off, taken by Mr. Foster in land transactions as manager of the funds of the I. O. F. entrusted to him, he said that Mr. Foster's private commission he said amounted to $2,480. Mr. MacDonald read Mr. Foster's letter to Winnipeg solicitors who represented the vendors of land, showing that Mr. Foster had written to them to tell how to pay for lands, and directed how his rake-off should be paid. Pointing out that this letter is specific and signed by Mr. Foster, he said: "Now, sir, what audacity, what nerve, that gentleman must have to make the pretence and to put up the bluff he indulged in on Thursday night, and to say that he was not going to be to the dishonor of that transaction."

What an insult to the electors for him to ask an intelligent a constituency as in Canada to take him again as honest and upright, a business integrity and moral character."

ment of trust funds. He dared not make such a denial. And Mr. Foster need not vex his righteous soul about those letters. They are not lost. Their loss is a fact, but it is not a crime. He need not pretend to have forgotten them himself. Let me refresh his memory. Let me recall the letter he wrote to "Dear Dr. Oronhyatekha" in 1904. And now, Mr. Macdonald, I land. He remembers the date on which he discussed a critical condition of Union Trust Company. How useful it was that relief should be found. He is leaving Toronto. He is urged upon the Supreme Chief Secretary McGillivray the using the I. O. F.

A voice—"The money was not lost," Mr. MacDonald—"Why was it not lost? Not because of anything done by Mr. Foster, but only because the development of the West under the immigration policy of the Laurier government in those years had led to great expansion. But had the check come in 1904, had the financial stringency come a year or two earlier, what might have happened to the hard-pressed manager? The Union Trust Co. would have been in a worse position. It got rid of the man who imperilled its trust funds."

reserves and had left a memorandum giving his views. He remembers that, while he retained him of a series of letters he wrote to the Supreme Chief Ranger on his return to Canada urging with insistent emphasis the need for more money to meet payments which were coming due every thirty days. Does he not remember one long and careful letter in which he set forth the list of the largest of those payments, running far up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, most of which were guaranteed by the United States government? Does he not remember the land investments? Those payments the Union Trust, under his management, was at that date unable to meet, and upon the securities he confessed he could not borrow another dollar. He would not say whether, when facing that crisis, a crisis which in his opinion might eventuate in a catastrophe within three months, Mr.
