Rev. Mr. Rose's Discourse On Marriage and Home

Timely Discourse Delivered on Sunday Evening-A Warning to Parents in the Bringingup of Family.

Rev. C. W. Rose, pastor of Park Baptist Church, delivered a splendid sermon Sunday evening, which dealt with marriage, home and family. The sermon was particularly appropriate to the present season. In the course of his remarks, Rev. Rose said:

The Family in Peril.

In a number of cases come home after school to such places, or spend the streets. In other their time on the streets. In other their time on the streets. In other their time on the streets. Marriage, when t is real, is first the union of two souls by God and then the recognition and sanction of that by the laws of the land through a minister or some other duly appointed per son. When there is the union by man and not by God, you have mar riage which will be followed by dis tment, a family always n peril. I have reason to know tha are quite a number relatively who deceive each other at the tin of union. A man who drinks and has the habit formed, does not mentio it. In a short time, however, it be comes apparent not only that he drinks, but that he is unable to stop. The wife naturally finds it hard to trust him, and with such a habit upon him their happiness is at an end in the beginning. I married a Christian girl in the West to a young man who said he had a good pos ition. When the bride arrived at their home she discovered that his fine position was that of a saloon keeper. That was a rude awakenin
