Mr. E. A. Norton, a well-known citizen of Grimsby, Ont., was severely attacked with inflammatory Rheumatism some 20 years ago—After a time he recovered, but five or six weeks ago the dread ailment returned so violently that he had to give up work. For nearly three weeks he lay in bed suffering terrible agony. Another resident of the town who had been cured by South American Rheumatic Cure persuaded him to try it, and, to his great surprise after using the medicine

A DEFENCE OF MR. HORNER.

Editor Reporter.

SIR.—As you have been quite generous in giving space for anything that would have a tendency to cast reproach on the Holiness Movement, you will no doubt be willing to publish something that may be in its defence. The policy of the Movement and Mr. Horner in particular has been to ignore any slanderous reports that may have been circulated about them.

There has been a great deal of such which has simply been the product of bitter prejudice and evil imagination, and people that are in the matterial and truthful have repeated it regardless of its truth or origin.

I feel it my duty to explain matters in regard to Mr. Mallett's conduct while connected with the Movement and throw some light on Mr.

Horner's relationship to the Rochester Conference. When he applied to that conference for ordination their discipline was not read to him and he did not accept of it. His name was on the list of those who were to be ordained at the Rochester Conference, and neither was Mr. Horner working under the Movement at that time, nor was there any connection between them.

The Rochester Conference had nothing to do with the government of the Holiness Movement and therefore had no authority to question Mr. Horner's action in dismissing Mr. Mallett, providing he did so in a correct way. Mr. Horner and Mr. Mallett were amenable only in regard to ministerial conduct.

The facts are as follows: When Mr. Mallett sought admission into the Movement, he was subjected to a very rigid examination, and he went in with a full knowledge of the rules and of the authority he was under. He was sent to Inverary circuit, where there was quite a numerous society and some still wished to join but could not on account of the rules being too exclusive on some points, as they thought. Mr. Mallett proceeded at once to get the society into a state of revolt. He wrote to Mr. Horner on this line and in effect said he could

EXPOSURE BROUGHT ON AN AT-TACK OF RHEUMATISM.

Nervousness and Stomach Troubles Followed—Sleep at Times Was Impossible—Health Again Restored.

From the Amherst, N.S. Sentinel.

The little village of Petticoat is situated in the South-easterly part of New Brunswick, on the line of the Intercolonial Railway. Mr. Herbert

Yeomans, who resides there, follows the occupation of hunter and trapper.

His occupation requires him to endure a great deal of exposure and hardship, more especially when the snow lies thick and deep on the ground in our cold winters. A few years ago, Mr.

Yeomans tells our correspondent, that he was seized with a severe bilious attack and a complication of diseases, such as sour stomach, sick headache and rheumatism. Mr. Yeomans' version of the facts are:—"I became very ill and suffered the most excruciating pains in my arms, legs and shoulders, so much so that I could not rest in any position. I frequently could not sleep nights, and when I did I awoke pressed. My appetite was very poor, and I ate anything at all, no matter how light the food was, it gave me a bad, heavy feeling in my stomach, which would be followed by vomiting.

I suffered so intensely with the pains in my arms and shoulders that I could scarcely raise my hands to my head.

I tried different remedies, but all to no purpose. A neighbor came in one evening and asked "have you tried Dr.

Williams' Pink Pills?" I had not, but then determined to try them, and got a box, and before the pills were all gone, began to improve. This encouraged me to purchase more and in a few weeks the pains in my shoulders and arms were all gone and I was able to get a good night's rest. My appetite came back and the dull, listless feeling left me. I could eat a hearty meal and have no bad after effects and I felt well and strong enough as though

The question is being asked, what the cause of my illness was?

It was the result of exposure and ment in respect to the aged occupant, Mrs. A. Frost, who on that day verged to the last half score of a century.

Mrs. Frost is well and interesting in conversation, and we doubt not the event was an enjoyable one as they again mingled their voices in friendly intercourse or rehearsed the scenes and strange happenings of bygone days.

We think the event was a commendable one and we would encourage a repetition of the same, whereby the aged, who during the long winter have not been a league from their doors may be assisted to find new joys with return of the welcome springtime.

For many of the aged ones of our homes we and our country owe a debt which can never be paid until they are borne "in honor" due to their final resting place.

Where the cyclones fret and foam

Over the lands of the great Dakotas,

Bright wigwag fires would burn,

Or, too, some happy child would wait

For they lived and they loved, they
