Mrs. A. Stevens and two of her daughters, Millie and Louise, are attending camp-meeting at Lake Eloida this week.

On Thursday, August 23, Master Gordon Coon, while playing about the Mills, discovered the roof of the sawmill was on fire. He at once notified the mill men and for a few minutes there was quite a commotion. On hearing the bells ring, a large crowd gathered about the fire and after some hard work and brave deeds the fire was extinguished. We are glad that Mr. Coon's property was saved, as in a few minutes more the fire would have made such headway as to have burned the whole mills.

HOLSTEIN OFFICIAL TEST

Twenty-five cows and heifers have made official records sufficiently large to entitle them to enter the record of merit since my last report. All tests reported are for a period of seven days, and all were made under the superviion of and are vouched for by the On-

At the last annual meeting provision was made for conducting tests eight months after calving, and the first of these to be reported is that of Gretchen of Evergreen, owned by Thomas Dav-idson of Spring Valley, Ont. g In all these tests the amounts of

Norman Goderich, aged 40, a laborer residing near Frankville was terribly injured internally by a fall in the cheese factory near that place. He was taken to the Brockville General Hospital where an operation was performed in the hope of saving his life. He took a relapse afterwards and died So far as known the deceased had no

It is a fact, remarks a contempor ary, that you can read a proof of a newspaper article three or four times and repeatedly pass over the same error without seeing it. All newspaper men will tell you so. But just as soon as the press is started, and it is printed in its complete shape, there stands the error so big that you can-not see anything else. It is a strange fact, and it is probably the reason why it is so easy to edit a newspaper after it is printed.

BROCKVILLE FAIR

September 11th to 14th, 1906

If you were appointed judge of horses at the Brockville fair, and in judging you failed to see all the Horses, but gave your prizes without judging some at all, what would the people say of you? What would you think of yourself?

Now, Sir, we are not in the horse-business, but we have the Suits and Over Coats that you or any other man would give first prize to. We are in a class all by ourselves. All we ask is fair play—we want to be judged by you. The red ticket will be ours. Sir; if you have a look we will get your prize money on the merits of our clothing.

Look everywhere else, get the best prices you can and we will beat the best. Will you do it? Make up your mind to be fair—look at all the horses look at all the clothes—give your money (prize) to the man that deserves it, no matter who he is.
