BUY CANADIAN MADE GOODS

THINK IT OVER.
It will mean the employment of many thousands of men and women in the factories of the country.
It will mean greater activity and more independence in the industrial life of the country.
It will mean new factories for the cities and towns of Canada.
It will mean a more profitable home market than the present one for the farmers of Canada.
It will result in further inspiring the confidence of British investors in the stability of the business of Canada.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11, 1914.

A CONTRAST IN METHODS.

Time and time again when the Laurier Government was in power, charges of wrong doing in connection with the Government contracts were made by Conservative members, and ample proof of such charges adduced, to justify an enquiry into them.
Instead of doing the right thing, as any honest body of men, concerned in the least degree as to their good name and credit, would have done, and having the charges sifted to the bottom and if found proved, seen to it that the offenders were duly dealt with, the Laurier administration promptly not only shut down on any suggestion of an enquiry in every case and refused to hold anything of the kind, but the members of it even went out of their way to shield and justify the parties against whom the charges were made; and to cover up and hide all traces of them, till scandal after scandal was rolled up against that administration and the manner in which they mismanaged public affairs.

Now the scene is changed; and with a different set of men in control of affairs, we have a different set of methods. Twice in this session have members of the Opposition alleged that certain public matters have been improperly dealt with: first with reference to the Alert, and now as to the Southampton Railway subsidy. Do we find the Government shutting off discussion and the ministers shielding the parties against whom the allegations are made as their predecessors in office were wont to do? On the contrary we find them only too anxious to have these allegations inquired into and sifted to the bottom, and no time being wasted in doing so either. In the words of the Minister: "I am glad the hon. member has brought this matter before the House. I shall take it up tomorrow with the officers of the department and I shall go into it very thoroughly." Within twenty-four hours of the charges having been made with regard to the Alert, a Government official was on his way to hold an enquiry; within the same time the Minister takes up the matter of the Southampton Railway subsidy.

Of all the members of the Laurier party, none have ever been so persistent in their efforts to prevent the investigation of matters in which the honour of the Government which they supported was involved than Mr. P.
B. Carvell; yet the moment he raises a breath of suspicion as to the good faith of the present Government, and asks for an investigation in regard to it, he is met with a frank and ready expression of willingness to have the whole subject thoroughly gone into.
Even Mr. Carvell, unscrupulous and hide bound partisan though he is, should appreciate the difference in the treatment which the present Government applies to him, compared with that which he and his friends applied to their opponents. Mr. Carvell and his friends may rest assured that the Borden Government will not permit any matter which reflects upon the integrity of their administration when specifically made by a member of Parliament from his place in the House, with a full realization of his responsibility to the country, to pass unheeded; and should subsequent investigation show that the criticism is reasonably well founded, the Government will take prompt steps to rectify matters and punish the wrong doers. It will not "sidetrack" the matter every time as Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his friends did.

ORIENTAL IMMIGRATION.

Mr. H. H. Stevens, M. P., for Vancouver, in his utterances in the House of Commons and at the Social Service Congress, has thrown a lot of light upon a subject to which, perhaps, many in the eastern part of Canada do not give much attention, but which is fast becoming one of considerable magnitude, not only to the people of our Pacific coast, but to Canada as a whole.

The Oriental in Canada, with but few exceptions, is a singular man or at least he comes to this country without his family. He is able on this account to work for lower wages than the white resident with a family. For this reason the Oriental is liable to supplant white labor in the sawmills and fisheries of British Columbia. Already indeed Chinese and Japanese have displaced thousands of sturdy Canadians who formerly made a living in the fishing industry, a solid community of Canadian citizens with Canadian ideals of citizenship and standards of living and of education for their children, ousted by a lot of Orientals, who have no family life, no traditions of education or environment as these are understood in Canada. The Canadian fisherman has simply had to get out.

Chinese in British Columbia have gone into agriculture also to an extent which shows that in place of the white population might be driven off the land. Competition in agricultural operations with what is practically slave labor, it is impossible for the white man to stand up against.

Mr. Stevens' idea regarding some arrangement being entered into with the Chinese Government similar to that in effect with Japan is a suggestion along the right line, says a contemporary. To most right-thinking people something of this kind exists in the idea of a head tax on the Chinese. It is very necessary that their entry to this country should be restricted, but the head-tax method is degrading to the dignity of any country's citizens. It should be possible to have some arrangement with China which with its changed form of government and permeated with the spirit of reform and its advancement as a nation would doubtless be favorably inclined towards a proposition which would conserve the respect and dignity of its people. As Mr. Stevens has pointed out, the arrangement with Japan is on the whole a satisfactory one, and some similar arrangement with China should prove to be a solution of the Chinese immigration question without offending the susceptibilities of a nation which someday is likely to loom large in connection with Canada's trade.

With the Hindus the problem is one more difficult of solution. Citizens of another part of the Empire, clamoring for their rights as British subjects, the question is more complicated. What Mr. Stevens has said about Hindu agitators aiming to stir up trouble is more than hearsay, and if Hindu immigrants are using this country as a base for funds and operations to assist their disaffected fellow countrymen in India, then there would appear to be the best reasons why they should not be permitted here. Britain will no doubt have her hands full looking after discontented East Indians in India without having her troubles in that country added to by the assistance which Hindus in Canada are able to give. The mother country would no doubt prefer to deal with this problem in one portion of the Empire rather than in two.

MRS. PANKHURST BACK IN HOLLOWAY

Glasgow Police Elude the Throng of Suffragettes Who Waited at Station.

Glasgow, March 10.—Bands of determined militant suffragettes waited at the railway stations in Glasgow today, in readiness to fight for the release of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst. The militant leader, however, who had been arrested under dramatic circumstances while speaking in St. Andrews Hall last night, was removed by policemen from the station house, to a suburban railway station early in the morning, in order to avoid the attention of her supporters.

Mrs. Pankhurst was carried from the cell to a waiting automobile on a stretcher, and the motor car then dashed off at high speed to a station on the main line of the railway, where she was carried on board the express train for London. It is assumed that the militant will be placed in Holloway jail.

LIBERALS WANT BOUNTY RESTORED

Sharp Cleavage of Opinion in Opposition Ranks Over Tariff Question.

Ottawa, March 10.—The sharp and hopeless difference of opinion among Canadian Liberals on the tariff question, was strikingly revealed in the House of Commons today.
J. J. Carrick of Thunder Bay and Rafael River, advocated in the course of a lengthy speech on the steel industry, that the Government should pay a bounty of two cents for every unit of metallic iron in every ton of ore smelted in Canada. By this method a ton of ore which contained thirty-five per cent. of metallic iron would receive a bounty of seventy cents; if fifty per cent., one dollar.

Dr. Michael Clark, that uncertain disciple of Adam Smith, followed with a speech which contained all the wind mill and coach stage theories of the old Cobdenite school, and denounced bounties as a curse.
Mr. Frank Carvell, who since 1911 has become a real irresponsible cosmopolitan free trader, followed in an even more extravagant and flamboyant strain. He repeated assiduously with which he has bored the House on several occasions in the past about watered steel, but when quietly corrected by Mr. Carvell, admitted that he had no personal knowledge of a somewhat serious charge, which he had just made.

There was some little uneasiness on the opposition benches when William German, of Welland, arose to speak. Mr. German broke from his party on the reciprocity issue, and it is an open secret that he is not one of the mourners for the lamented policy of free food.
Mr. German took direct issue with Messrs. Clark and Carvell, and told the Minister of Finance that he was prepared to support any legislation which aimed to benefit the iron and steel industry.

This was a bitter enough pill for the opposition to swallow, but the worst was yet to come. It arrived when Macdonald of Picton followed the Minister of Finance. In the opinion of Mr. Macdonald, who has been in a fighting mood since the now famous clash which he had with Mr.
Crothers last week, the Government was recreant in its duty when it did not take immediate steps to grant further aid to the steel industry.

Mr. Carroll of Cape Breton South, another Liberal member who is pleased at times to champion the doctrines of the Cobdenite school, but who has also steel works in his constituency, preferred a veil of silence.
The sharp cleavage of opinion in the ranks of the opposition was not lost upon the Government benches.

The Lighter Side of Life

An impetuous inspector who was visiting a provincial school was much worried by the noise of the scholars in the next room. At length, unable to bear the uproar any longer, he opened the door and bawled upon the class. Seeing one boy taller than the others talking a great deal he caught him by the collar, hustled him into the next room, and placed him in a chair, saying, "Now sit there and be quiet." Ten minutes later a small head appeared round the door and a meek little voice said, "Please, sir, you've got out teacher."

Mr. Alfred Lester, who has made another hit as a gloomy comedian in the Pearl Girl, which is running merrily at the Shubert Theatre, tells the following story about a man who grumbled at everything. He wasn't satisfied even when they tried him for murder and sentenced him to be hanged. He grumbled about his cell by day and about his mattress by night, and on the morning fixed for his execution he grumbled about the way his breakfast had been prepared.
He grumbled when they led him forth about the distance he had to walk between his cell and the scaffold, and he said he was sure it was going to rain. At last they got him into position, and just as the hangman was about to perform his duty the condemned man grumbled out:
"Say, guv'nor, this plank don't seem too safe to me."

An amusing story is told by the vicar of Monmouth of a doctor who had been called in to attend a workingman. Having done his duty for the time being he told the patient's wife to take her husband's temperature in the morning. When the doctor called next day he asked if she had done as he told her. She explained that they hadn't a thermometer in the house. "But I put the barometer on his chest," she added, "and it went to 'very dry.' So I gave him a pint of beer and he's gone to work."

BANDITS ROBBED ROYAL BANK IN B. C.

Bellevue, Wash., March 10.—Seven armed men robbed a branch of the Royal Bank at Abbotsford, B. C., on the international boundary line, today, and escaped in an automobile with $2,000.
Three of the men waited outside the bank while four entered. The cashier and a clerk were cowed with revolvers, while the robbers seized a tray containing gold currency.
A posse recovered about a thousand dollars dropped by the men in their flight. The posse surrounded the bandits not far from Abbotsford and sent for reinforcements to Vancouver.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Alex. McLaughlin.
Staples Settlement, March 10.—The sad news of the death of Mrs. Alex.
McLaughlin came as a shock to her many friends of this place, as word had been received just a couple of days previous to her death that she was convalescent.
Besides a bereaved husband, she leaves seven children to mourn their loss: Mrs. Pickard of Gibson, Mrs.
M. Allan and Mrs. G. Merritt of Harrington, Me.; Oscar, of Bangor, Me.; Howard, of St. Marys; Fred and Grace, at home. One sister, Mrs. G.
Palmer, of Northville, and one brother, Mr. A. Hoyt, of Upper Queensbury.
Mrs. McLaughlin will be greatly missed both in her home and community. She was an affectionate wife and loving mother, and a most accommodating neighbor, who never refused assistance in times of need.
Funeral services held by Rev. Mr.
Springer. Interment made at Lower Cavehill.
Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.
Arthur White.

The death occurred at Grand Falls, on Tuesday March 3, of Arthur White, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs.
Robert J. White, of Grand Falls, formerly of Woodstock. He was in the thirteenth year of his age and his early death is a great blow to his parents and friends, who have the sincere sympathy of all in their bereavement.

Many taffetas are seen in low-necked, short sleeved gowns. and Conservative speakers were not woud to drive home the significance of the point.
Hon. W. T. White in a speech marked by careful study and moderation promised that the proposals of Mr.
Carvell, and other speakers, including Mr. German, would receive the consideration which their importance deserved.

GRAFT CHARGES IN WESTERN CITY

Vancouver, B. C., March 11.—The prosecution last night closed its case against Water Superintendent Maddison, charged with graft. Concluding evidence went to show that the firm of Robertson and Gosson received more orders in the open market from the superintendent's department than it did under contract and at much higher figures. The water superintendent will take the witness stand tonight and enter an absolute denial to the charges, as will also the firm concerned.

enough to be a novelty.
