

WHO WAS IT INTERFERED?

Juggling Over Reports on Railway Looks Suspicious.

Will Ask Board to Order Bridge Over Garth Street.

Might Employ Many Men at Beach During Winter.

"There will be nothing done this year as far as I am concerned. It would look too much like a play to the grand stand at this stage," said Chairman Sweeney, of the Board of Works, this morning, referring to the scheme to go after the Street Railway, with the big stick again. A Toronto expert has been going over the system preparing a report, which the fighting aldermen hope will meet more with their views than the one made by city officials. In connection with this city a tale that would bear a little investigation. The Board of Works some weeks ago instructed City Engineer Barrow to make a report on what the railway had done to comply with the Railway Board's order. Mr. Barrow detailed Assistant Engineer Heddle and Foreman Towers to do the work. Mr. Barrow received the reports, which were favorable to the company, and promised that they would be present at the next meeting of the Board of Works. Mr. Barrow was certainly serious in his intention, but evidently on the instruction of some one, who was disappointed at the time of the reports, they were chloroformed. Mr. Barrow was silent this morning when asked about the matter. Chairman Sweeney denied all knowledge of any interference.

When Mr. Heddle made his report he declared that the company had not only done what the Railway Board had ordered in the way of repairs to the tracks, but much more. "In my opinion," he said, "unless they built a new system they could not have made a better job of it." The special work in spots, he admitted, was bad, but the company was simply waiting for the arrival of the new special work to put it in. The assistant engineer's opinion was a terrible shock to the anti-railroad aldermen. An effort was made to shake it, but in vain. Mr. Heddle was courageous enough to stand by what he considered was the truth. Foreman Towers report on the cars was not quite so favorable, but nevertheless it sounded too good from the company's standpoint to suit the fighting aldermen. It was intimated shortly after that those two officials would make another report this week, interesting to see what view the Railway Board will take of it when the company calls on the city's assistant engineer to show that it has complied in every particular with the order regarding the tracks and Foreman Towers' report to show the improvements that have been made to the street cars.

City Engineer Barrow has completed the plans and specifications for the pumps and waterworks system to be installed on the sand strip by the Beach Commissioners. It is roughly estimated that $10,000 will be spent on this work, and Mr. Barrow thinks it would be a good idea if arrangements could be made to have it done on during the winter, as it would provide work for a large number of the unemployed.

The Board of Works aldermen yesterday afternoon inspected the Garth street crossing of the T. H. & R. and decided to hold a special meeting next week, when application will be made to the Railway Board for an order to have an overhead bridge erected. The crossing is considered one of the most dangerous in the city, on account of the heavy grade on both approaches. It is expected that the city will have to pay part of the cost.

Charles Mackinson was granted a permit this morning for two brick houses on Gibson avenue, between Barton and Princess streets, to cost $1,900 each.

Although there was some talk of J. W. Lamoreaux resigning, he has announced that he will be a candidate again in Ward 5 for School Trustees.

The City Hall officials are being paid in advance today for the month, so that they will have plenty of time to purchase their Christmas boxes.

The various civic committees will finish up what remains of the year's business next week.

A GREAT CHRISTMAS STORE.

Thousands Throng the Right House Each Day Now.

If one is to judge by the crowds, the Right House must be the chief reliance of the great majority of people in Hamilton and vicinity. Every day from morning till night this reliable old store is filled with Christmas shoppers. Their business is increasing by leaps and bounds. But that was expected by the Right House management, for Right House stocks are far larger and better and this season's values greater than ever before.

People are finding out more and more what a reliable and great value-giving store the Right House really is.

In this time of hurry during the Christmas shopping, it is well to pin your faith to a dependable store. You will make no mistake if you take every need to the Right House; and then people seem to appreciate Right House gifts goods because of the store's prestige.

Read the big Right House ad in this paper.

George P. Nichols, formerly Postmaster of Rye, N. Y., who absconded on Nov. 11, leaving a shortage in his accounts of $1,500, and who was arrested in Indianapolis last week, pleaded guilty in the United States District Court yesterday and was sentenced to eighteen months in prison.

The Italian state lottery has distributed as high as $10,000,000 in a year. The black sheep of the family may really be a blunder.

THEY LOOK FINE.

Christmas Decorations and Gifts At Grafton's Clothing Store.

Grafton's clothing store, James street north, has been specially decorated for the Christmas holidays and it presents a very pretty appearance. A number of arches with floral and electrical effects, have been put up and on all sides can be seen the handwork of the artistic decorator. Mr. T. M. Berry, the local manager, has come in for a lot of praise for the fine appearance of the big store. In addition to the artistic decorations there is a fine display of articles of wearing apparel, suitable for Christmas gifts. Among these the following may be mentioned: Fancy vests, knitted vests, house coats, lounging robes, neckties, mufflers, fancy sweaters and fur-lined overcoats. The firm has a fine line of lined coats, which have been reduced in price for the holiday trade.

HE LPLESS IN BOAT.

Two Men Stuck in the Ice, But Were Rescued.

Walkerville, Ont., Dec. 13.—Late last night people in Wolf's roadhouse, three miles above here, heard cries for help from the river. Two men were found helpless in a boat, which was sinking in the ice, after drifting down the river over half a mile. Several attempts to reach it failing, the boat finally drifted near enough to shore to enable the rescuers to get a rope to the men, who were pulled nearly ashore. They were nearly exhausted from exposure. They were two Windsor men who were working for the Ferry Company on Peche Island. They started a cross to the mainland, but got stuck in the ice.

EAST HAMILTON REVIVAL.

East Hamilton Y. M. C. A. building was well filled again last night with interested people representing all classes in the community. The singing, as usual, was a feature of the service heartily enjoyed, and it carried conviction and inspiration with it. Evangelist Turk gave a stirring address on three kinds of faith. A question drawer was opened, and a large number of questions were asked by the young converts and answered by Evangelist Turk. Several seekers went forward to the penitent form, and some very clear cases of conversion resulted.

The Revival Committee held a meeting afterwards, and decided that it would be wise to bring the present series of services to a close on Sunday next. A large meeting is expected to-night, when a band of workers from Zion Tabernacle will march down and join forces with the east end workers, and arrange matters for the closing service in Bennett's.

Paper Making in Japan.

Paper making in Japan has been very active for the past year or so. New companies have been formed and old ones enlarged. Most Japanese mills use steam for motive power, and nearly all the machinery used is of American make.

MUST GIVE 2-CENT RATE.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES AGAINST THE GRAND TRUNK.

Insurance Company Not Responsible for Fires Caused by Sparks From Engines—C. P. R. Not Responsible for Prairie Fires.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 13.—(Special).—The Supreme Court delivered several judgments to-day. The appeal of the Grand Trunk vs. Robertson was dismissed. The court was unanimous. This was an appeal from the decision of the Railway Commission which decided that the Grand Trunk Railway under its charter was bound to give third class accommodation on its line between Montreal and Toronto at cents or one penny a mile. The court upheld the decision of the Railway Commission. In the case of the Canadian Pacific Railway against the Ottawa Fire Insurance Company the appeal was dismissed with costs. This was for damages for timber burned down on the line of the railway passing through the State of Maine between St. John and Montreal. This is a victory for the Ottawa Insurance Company and means that the Insurance Company is not responsible for standing timber burned from sparks from engines along the line. It is out of this case that certain constitutional questions were raised. In the case of the Canadian Pacific vs. the King the appeal was upheld with costs. This case arose out of prairie fires started by sparks from the company's engines. The Crown claimed damages. The company held it was not bound by ordinances of the local government. This was a victory for the C. P. R.

ST. ANDREW'S CLUB.

Physical Culture Society Holds Its Annual Meeting.

The St. Andrew's Physical Culture Club had its annual election of officers last night. Mr. Russell Thompson was re-elected President, and under his careful guidance the club will no doubt have as successful a year as the past three years. He will be assisted by Mr. Fred Isard, Vice-President. Mr. Wm. Brown, who so carefully looked after the financial affairs of the club since it was organized, was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

The club will meet every Thursday evening at its home on Smith street, and any young man wishing to become a member may do so by interviewing the secretary or any of the officers. The basketball team, which has played a prominent part in indoor sport in the past, is practicing faithfully, and is ready to uphold the honors of the club. Arrangements for games will be made by interviewing the manager, W. G. Michael, at the Y. M. C. A., or addressing a letter to 330 Emerald street north.

A POPULAR SURVEY.

All Houses Built in Beulah Have Been Disposed of.

The beauty and accessibility of Beulah Survey, the quality of the houses which Mr. W. D. Platt has erected there, and the great advantages which they possess have resulted in all of the eight dwelling erected this year being disposed of. There are but 100 lots in the survey, and all are sure to have ready sale, as the section's popularity has been amply proven. All the lots are safeguarded by wholesome building restrictions; the streets are graded, have sewers, water, cement walks, natural gas, electric light and one of importance at this time, is that sidewalks are all cleared of snow free of cost. These advantages can be figured out to be worth not less than $3 a foot frontage. The lots are selling at $12 to $15 a foot. Next spring they will be higher. Persons desiring lots should see Mr. Platt of Mr. H. H. Davis, Federal Life Building, Phone 685.

HAYDEN'S "CREATION."

A full rehearsal of this beautiful work was held last night at the Conservatory of Music. The work is in excellent shape, even at present, with two rehearsals yet before the production. Those who were present last night and heard the mighty chorus, "The Heavens are Telling," were electrified by the grandeur of Hayden's style, and said such a chorus was surely inspired. As this work is given in aid of the Mountain Sanitarium for Consumptives it is certainly worth of the support of the general public, and a large audience is looked for.

POVERTY AND CRIME.

The Emerald Y. M. U. held its weekly meeting last evening, which was fairly well attended. The business being transacted, Mr. Menary gave a reading, which was very much enjoyed, after which a debate was held, "Resolved, That Wealth Tends More to Produce Crime Than Poverty." After a few minutes' reckoning the judges came to the decision that the negative had won by one point. Next Thursday Mr. Menary, the editor, will publish his paper, the Y. M. U. Bee, which will be read at the Union.

COULD A KING GET WORK IF HE LOST HIS JOB?

(By C. O. Smith.)
"Poor little thing!" says the average mother when she hears of an advent into the world of the future ruler of a kingdom; but if they only knew the kingling is liable to be much happier in his childhood than the offspring of a multimillionaire.

The child of the rich man is usually surrounded with pomp and circumstance from the opening of his eyes, whereas the children of kings, save in Spain, where even a British-bred mother is powerless against custom, are brought up in a practical, businesslike, "simple life" kind of way that must be for the good of both ruler and ruled.

The simplicity of the upbringing of British royal babies is well known; but the world of the future ruler of a kingdom; but if they only knew the kingling is liable to be much happier in his childhood than the offspring of a multimillionaire.

Makes It a Party Question.

(Toronto Globe)
If the power by-laws to be submitted in Toronto, Hamilton, Bradford and London cannot be supported by the ratepayers on business grounds they ought not to be supported for mere party purposes. Yesterday The Toronto World showed the eleven half of party politics in an urgent call to all friends of the Whittier Government to rally to its aid, as though this were a crisis in the affairs of the party. It says that "The Premier gave a call to his friends, not only in Toronto, but in Hamilton and London and Bradford to line up with him." And to this is added the threat of a dilemma: "Certainly no one who calls himself a friend of Mr. Whittier's in the House or out of it can justify voting against so progressive a measure."

Plans to make Sunday closing a political issue in Cook county and in several Illinois districts, and to close Chicago up tight as far as theatres, street railways, restaurants and barber shops are concerned, if the Law and Order League
