

The Charlotte Town Herald.

NEW SERIES.

CHARLOTTETOWN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, WEDNESDAY JUNE 26 1890.

VOL. XVIII. NO. 35

The Charlotte Town Herald
—IS ISSUED—
EVERY WEDNESDAY
—BY—
The Herald Printing Company,
FROM THEIR OFFICE:
Queen Street, Charlotte-
town, P. E. I.
Subscription: One Year, in Advance, $1.00
ADVERTISING AT MODERATE RATES.
Contracts made for Monthly, Quarterly, Half-yearly, or Yearly Advertisements, on application. Remittances may be made by Draft, P. O. Order, or Registered Letter. All Correspondence should be addressed to the Herald Printing Company, or to JAMES MEISAAC, Manager,
Charlottetown.

Calendar for June, 1889.

MOON'S CHANGES.
1st Quarter, 6th day, 3h. 49.1m. p.m., S. E.
Full Moon, 13th day, 9h. 45.7m., a.m., N. E.
Last Quarter, 20th day, 3h. 22.6m., a.m., S. E.
New Moon, 28th day, 4h. 41.1m., a.m., N. E.

Day	of	Month	Rises	sets	High	Water
1	Sat	1	4:41	1:01	11:14	11:14
2	Sun	2	4:39	1:01	11:14	11:14
3	Mon	3	4:37	1:01	11:14	11:14
4	Tue	4	4:35	1:01	11:14	11:14
5	Wed	5	4:33	1:01	11:14	11:14
6	Thu	6	4:31	1:01	11:14	11:14
7	Fri	7	4:29	1:01	11:14	11:14
8	Sat	8	4:27	1:01	11:14	11:14
9	Sun	9	4:25	1:01	11:14	11:14
10	Mon	10	4:23	1:01	11:14	11:14
11	Tue	11	4:21	1:01	11:14	11:14
12	Wed	12	4:19	1:01	11:14	11:14
13	Thu	13	4:17	1:01	11:14	11:14
14	Fri	14	4:15	1:01	11:14	11:14
15	Sat	15	4:13	1:01	11:14	11:14
16	Sun	16	4:11	1:01	11:14	11:14
17	Mon	17	4:09	1:01	11:14	11:14
18	Tue	18	4:07	1:01	11:14	11:14
19	Wed	19	4:05	1:01	11:14	11:14
20	Thu	20	4:03	1:01	11:14	11:14
21	Fri	21	4:01	1:01	11:14	11:14
22	Sat	22	3:59	1:01	11:14	11:14
23	Sun	23	3:57	1:01	11:14	11:14
24	Mon	24	3:55	1:01	11:14	11:14
25	Tue	25	3:53	1:01	11:14	11:14
26	Wed	26	3:51	1:01	11:14	11:14
27	Thu	27	3:49	1:01	11:14	11:14
28	Fri	28	3:47	1:01	11:14	11:14
29	Sat	29	3:45	1:01	11:14	11:14
30	Sun	30	3:43	1:01	11:14	11:14

BEST ON EARTH
SURPRISE SOAP
THE GREAT SELF WASHING TRY IT
The St. Croix Soap Mfg. Co.,
St. Stephen, N. B.

Boston, Halifax & P. E. Island STEAMSHIP LINE.

BE BEGINNING MAY 29th, the Steamer "CARROLL" or "WORCESTER" will sail for Halifax, Fort Hawkesbury, Pictou and Charlottetown

EVERY WEDNESDAY, AT 12 O'CLOCK, NOON.
Returning, will leave Charlottetown as usual.

EVERY THURSDAY, AT 6 O'CLOCK, P. M.
CARVELL BROS., Agents,
Charlottetown.

R. B. GARDNER, Manager,
"Law's" Wharf, Boston.
June 5, 1889.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

LIENIG'S EXTRACT OF MEAT.
FINEST AND CHEAPEST MEAT FLAVORING
Stock for Soups, Made Dish and Sauces.
As Beef Tea, an "Invaluable Tonic." Annual sale, 800,000 jars.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any preparation known to me." E. A. ARDEN, M. D.
211 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
The Castoria Company, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

STAPLE & FANCY Dry Goods
AT LOWEST PRICES
AT STANLEY BROS., BROWN'S BLOCK.
BE SURE YOU SEE PROWSE BROS., The Wonderful Cheap Men.
CLOTHING! CLOTHING! AT AUCTION PRICES.

PROWSE BROS.
The Wonderful Cheap Men, Queen Street.
NEW GOODS!
Perkins & Sterns

Perkins & Sterns
We are now showing our New, Large and Well-bought Stock of GOODS, for this season's trade. Our motto being "Quick Sales and Small Profits," you can depend upon getting the very Cheapest Goods by trading with us.

Perkins & Sterns
We have stocked this department brimful of the Cheapest Goods from London and New York—Bonnets, Hats, Frames, Feathers, Flowers, Laces, Ornaments, Beaded Goods, &c., &c.

Perkins & Sterns
The following incident in connection with the murder of Thomas H. Burke, under-secretary for Ireland, Phoenix park, Dublin, some years ago, is taken from the "History of Tiam," written by R. J. Kelly, B. L.

Perkins & Sterns
The following incident in connection with the murder of Thomas H. Burke, under-secretary for Ireland, Phoenix park, Dublin, some years ago, is taken from the "History of Tiam," written by R. J. Kelly, B. L.

Perkins & Sterns
The following incident in connection with the murder of Thomas H. Burke, under-secretary for Ireland, Phoenix park, Dublin, some years ago, is taken from the "History of Tiam," written by R. J. Kelly, B. L.

CREMATION.
THE BISHOP OF MIDDLESBROUGH WRITES A LETTER IN CONDEMNATION OF IT.
A large gathering at Middlesbrough, England, to discuss cremation, was presided over by Dr. Ellerton, J. P., who was supported by Father Butler and several members of the clergy. The following able letter from the bishop of Middlesbrough was read:
Bishop's House, Middlesbrough, May 23, 1889.
Dear Dr. Ellerton.—As I shall be unable to attend the public meeting which is to be held on Friday next, and over which I am glad to observe you are to preside, on the subject of cremation, I am sending you a letter in which I express my views on the subject, and also a statement of the resolutions lately passed by the Middlesbrough council.
1. No necessity whatever, whether sanitary or otherwise, has been shown to exist to justify so violent and revolutionary a change in our religious and national customs.
2. The ratepayers, who are the parties who will have to bear the cost of an experiment so repugnant to their feelings, should have been fully and freely consulted.
3. The present mode of burial in the earth is the most natural, the most economical, the most ancient and the readiest method of disposing of the unfortunated human body. Science, with all its pretensions, cannot here improve upon nature, for the earth, when not unduly impeded in its operations, is the best dissolvent of decomposing matter.
4. Information has an additional claim on the reverence of a Christian people, as it is, par excellence, the Christian mode of burial; whereas cremation is known to be pagan in its origin, arising as it did out of the agencies of military discipline before the Christian era. It was never accepted by the Christian Church. Indeed, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it. As Christian civilization advanced, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it. As Christian civilization advanced, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it.

CREMATION.
THE BISHOP OF MIDDLESBROUGH WRITES A LETTER IN CONDEMNATION OF IT.
A large gathering at Middlesbrough, England, to discuss cremation, was presided over by Dr. Ellerton, J. P., who was supported by Father Butler and several members of the clergy. The following able letter from the bishop of Middlesbrough was read:
Bishop's House, Middlesbrough, May 23, 1889.
Dear Dr. Ellerton.—As I shall be unable to attend the public meeting which is to be held on Friday next, and over which I am glad to observe you are to preside, on the subject of cremation, I am sending you a letter in which I express my views on the subject, and also a statement of the resolutions lately passed by the Middlesbrough council.
1. No necessity whatever, whether sanitary or otherwise, has been shown to exist to justify so violent and revolutionary a change in our religious and national customs.
2. The ratepayers, who are the parties who will have to bear the cost of an experiment so repugnant to their feelings, should have been fully and freely consulted.
3. The present mode of burial in the earth is the most natural, the most economical, the most ancient and the readiest method of disposing of the unfortunated human body. Science, with all its pretensions, cannot here improve upon nature, for the earth, when not unduly impeded in its operations, is the best dissolvent of decomposing matter.
4. Information has an additional claim on the reverence of a Christian people, as it is, par excellence, the Christian mode of burial; whereas cremation is known to be pagan in its origin, arising as it did out of the agencies of military discipline before the Christian era. It was never accepted by the Christian Church. Indeed, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it. As Christian civilization advanced, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it.

CREMATION.
THE BISHOP OF MIDDLESBROUGH WRITES A LETTER IN CONDEMNATION OF IT.
A large gathering at Middlesbrough, England, to discuss cremation, was presided over by Dr. Ellerton, J. P., who was supported by Father Butler and several members of the clergy. The following able letter from the bishop of Middlesbrough was read:
Bishop's House, Middlesbrough, May 23, 1889.
Dear Dr. Ellerton.—As I shall be unable to attend the public meeting which is to be held on Friday next, and over which I am glad to observe you are to preside, on the subject of cremation, I am sending you a letter in which I express my views on the subject, and also a statement of the resolutions lately passed by the Middlesbrough council.
1. No necessity whatever, whether sanitary or otherwise, has been shown to exist to justify so violent and revolutionary a change in our religious and national customs.
2. The ratepayers, who are the parties who will have to bear the cost of an experiment so repugnant to their feelings, should have been fully and freely consulted.
3. The present mode of burial in the earth is the most natural, the most economical, the most ancient and the readiest method of disposing of the unfortunated human body. Science, with all its pretensions, cannot here improve upon nature, for the earth, when not unduly impeded in its operations, is the best dissolvent of decomposing matter.
4. Information has an additional claim on the reverence of a Christian people, as it is, par excellence, the Christian mode of burial; whereas cremation is known to be pagan in its origin, arising as it did out of the agencies of military discipline before the Christian era. It was never accepted by the Christian Church. Indeed, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it. As Christian civilization advanced, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it.

CREMATION.
THE BISHOP OF MIDDLESBROUGH WRITES A LETTER IN CONDEMNATION OF IT.
A large gathering at Middlesbrough, England, to discuss cremation, was presided over by Dr. Ellerton, J. P., who was supported by Father Butler and several members of the clergy. The following able letter from the bishop of Middlesbrough was read:
Bishop's House, Middlesbrough, May 23, 1889.
Dear Dr. Ellerton.—As I shall be unable to attend the public meeting which is to be held on Friday next, and over which I am glad to observe you are to preside, on the subject of cremation, I am sending you a letter in which I express my views on the subject, and also a statement of the resolutions lately passed by the Middlesbrough council.
1. No necessity whatever, whether sanitary or otherwise, has been shown to exist to justify so violent and revolutionary a change in our religious and national customs.
2. The ratepayers, who are the parties who will have to bear the cost of an experiment so repugnant to their feelings, should have been fully and freely consulted.
3. The present mode of burial in the earth is the most natural, the most economical, the most ancient and the readiest method of disposing of the unfortunated human body. Science, with all its pretensions, cannot here improve upon nature, for the earth, when not unduly impeded in its operations, is the best dissolvent of decomposing matter.
4. Information has an additional claim on the reverence of a Christian people, as it is, par excellence, the Christian mode of burial; whereas cremation is known to be pagan in its origin, arising as it did out of the agencies of military discipline before the Christian era. It was never accepted by the Christian Church. Indeed, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it. As Christian civilization advanced, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it.

CREMATION.
THE BISHOP OF MIDDLESBROUGH WRITES A LETTER IN CONDEMNATION OF IT.
A large gathering at Middlesbrough, England, to discuss cremation, was presided over by Dr. Ellerton, J. P., who was supported by Father Butler and several members of the clergy. The following able letter from the bishop of Middlesbrough was read:
Bishop's House, Middlesbrough, May 23, 1889.
Dear Dr. Ellerton.—As I shall be unable to attend the public meeting which is to be held on Friday next, and over which I am glad to observe you are to preside, on the subject of cremation, I am sending you a letter in which I express my views on the subject, and also a statement of the resolutions lately passed by the Middlesbrough council.
1. No necessity whatever, whether sanitary or otherwise, has been shown to exist to justify so violent and revolutionary a change in our religious and national customs.
2. The ratepayers, who are the parties who will have to bear the cost of an experiment so repugnant to their feelings, should have been fully and freely consulted.
3. The present mode of burial in the earth is the most natural, the most economical, the most ancient and the readiest method of disposing of the unfortunated human body. Science, with all its pretensions, cannot here improve upon nature, for the earth, when not unduly impeded in its operations, is the best dissolvent of decomposing matter.
4. Information has an additional claim on the reverence of a Christian people, as it is, par excellence, the Christian mode of burial; whereas cremation is known to be pagan in its origin, arising as it did out of the agencies of military discipline before the Christian era. It was never accepted by the Christian Church. Indeed, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it. As Christian civilization advanced, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it.

CREMATION.
THE BISHOP OF MIDDLESBROUGH WRITES A LETTER IN CONDEMNATION OF IT.
A large gathering at Middlesbrough, England, to discuss cremation, was presided over by Dr. Ellerton, J. P., who was supported by Father Butler and several members of the clergy. The following able letter from the bishop of Middlesbrough was read:
Bishop's House, Middlesbrough, May 23, 1889.
Dear Dr. Ellerton.—As I shall be unable to attend the public meeting which is to be held on Friday next, and over which I am glad to observe you are to preside, on the subject of cremation, I am sending you a letter in which I express my views on the subject, and also a statement of the resolutions lately passed by the Middlesbrough council.
1. No necessity whatever, whether sanitary or otherwise, has been shown to exist to justify so violent and revolutionary a change in our religious and national customs.
2. The ratepayers, who are the parties who will have to bear the cost of an experiment so repugnant to their feelings, should have been fully and freely consulted.
3. The present mode of burial in the earth is the most natural, the most economical, the most ancient and the readiest method of disposing of the unfortunated human body. Science, with all its pretensions, cannot here improve upon nature, for the earth, when not unduly impeded in its operations, is the best dissolvent of decomposing matter.
4. Information has an additional claim on the reverence of a Christian people, as it is, par excellence, the Christian mode of burial; whereas cremation is known to be pagan in its origin, arising as it did out of the agencies of military discipline before the Christian era. It was never accepted by the Christian Church. Indeed, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it. As Christian civilization advanced, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it.

CREMATION.
THE BISHOP OF MIDDLESBROUGH WRITES A LETTER IN CONDEMNATION OF IT.
A large gathering at Middlesbrough, England, to discuss cremation, was presided over by Dr. Ellerton, J. P., who was supported by Father Butler and several members of the clergy. The following able letter from the bishop of Middlesbrough was read:
Bishop's House, Middlesbrough, May 23, 1889.
Dear Dr. Ellerton.—As I shall be unable to attend the public meeting which is to be held on Friday next, and over which I am glad to observe you are to preside, on the subject of cremation, I am sending you a letter in which I express my views on the subject, and also a statement of the resolutions lately passed by the Middlesbrough council.
1. No necessity whatever, whether sanitary or otherwise, has been shown to exist to justify so violent and revolutionary a change in our religious and national customs.
2. The ratepayers, who are the parties who will have to bear the cost of an experiment so repugnant to their feelings, should have been fully and freely consulted.
3. The present mode of burial in the earth is the most natural, the most economical, the most ancient and the readiest method of disposing of the unfortunated human body. Science, with all its pretensions, cannot here improve upon nature, for the earth, when not unduly impeded in its operations, is the best dissolvent of decomposing matter.
4. Information has an additional claim on the reverence of a Christian people, as it is, par excellence, the Christian mode of burial; whereas cremation is known to be pagan in its origin, arising as it did out of the agencies of military discipline before the Christian era. It was never accepted by the Christian Church. Indeed, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it. As Christian civilization advanced, it became a subject of reproach to the early Christians that they detested cremation, and "condemned the burial of the dead," as they termed it.

CONVERSIONS IN THE EAST.
Reports from the missions in the Balkans, are very encouraging. For a long time this has been the favorite field of the missionaries sent out by the Propaganda, and in a variety of ways the present Pope has succeeded in allaying the prejudices of the peoples of Servia, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Romania. The rule of a Catholic Prince in Bulgaria has borne blessed fruit for the faith. These people are Catholics, have a true and ancient priesthood, and are very devout in their way. They have a political hostility to Rome and everything coming from Italy, which has long paralyzed all efforts at their conversion. Thank God that hostility is fast disappearing. Father Gorin, Superior of the Bulgarian Seminary shows in his late report that the number of towns actually Catholic in Macedonia amounts to 52. The Catholic population is about 30,000, with 23 churches, 24 monks, 45 priests, 37 teachers and 1,022 pupils.
"These figures," adds Father Gorin, "have their eloquence, which is remembered that at the time Mgr. Bonetti took the direction of this village, nearly Catholic, containing hardly a hundred houses. Our progress is then satisfactory, if we consider simply the road traversed during the last thirteen years. But if we cast our eyes over the immense field to be still harvested, the result is still small. There are about a million Bulgarians in Macedonia, and we have, then, gained about a twentieth of them. It is true, nevertheless, that the harvest is ripening, and that, with the grace of God, whose action among this people is manifest, we are in direct preparation to the number of evangelic workers we may be able to dispose of. Father Faveyral, missionary at Monastir, tells me in that place and in the neighborhood, I could quote many other centres that are in the same condition. I prefer to wait for their definite conversion; this will give more certainty to the value of my present information. For this reason these expected converts do not figure in the list presented. I have not even referred to it in the correspondence, rapid progress made since the first of January last, the date on which I drew it up. Thus, at that period, the town of Janjevo-Vardar contained only 225 Catholics. To-day the number is over 1,500, whose piety is a source of the greatest edification."

CONVERSIONS IN THE EAST.
Reports from the missions in the Balkans, are very encouraging. For a long time this has been the favorite field of the missionaries sent out by the Propaganda, and in a variety of ways the present Pope has succeeded in allaying the prejudices of the peoples of Servia, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Romania. The rule of a Catholic Prince in Bulgaria has borne blessed fruit for the faith. These people are Catholics, have a true and ancient priesthood, and are very devout in their way. They have a political hostility to Rome and everything coming from Italy, which has long paralyzed all efforts at their conversion. Thank God that hostility is fast disappearing. Father Gorin, Superior of the Bulgarian Seminary shows in his late report that the number of towns actually Catholic in Macedonia amounts to 52. The Catholic population is about 30,000, with 23 churches, 24 monks, 45 priests, 37 teachers and 1,022 pupils.
"These figures," adds Father Gorin, "have their eloquence, which is remembered that at the time Mgr. Bonetti took the direction of this village, nearly Catholic, containing hardly a hundred houses. Our progress is then satisfactory, if we consider simply the road traversed during the last thirteen years. But if we cast our eyes over the immense field to be still harvested, the result is still small. There are about a million Bulgarians in Macedonia, and we have, then, gained about a twentieth of them. It is true, nevertheless, that the harvest is ripening, and that, with the grace of God, whose action among this people is manifest, we are in direct preparation to the number of evangelic workers we may be able to dispose of. Father Faveyral, missionary at Monastir, tells me in that place and in the neighborhood, I could quote many other centres that are in the same condition. I prefer to wait for their definite conversion; this will give more certainty to the value of my present information. For this reason these expected converts do not figure in the list presented. I have not even referred to it in the correspondence, rapid progress made since the first of January last, the date on which I drew it up. Thus, at that period, the town of Janjevo-Vardar contained only 225 Catholics. To-day the number is over 1,500, whose piety is a source of the greatest edification."

CONVERSIONS IN THE EAST.
Reports from the missions in the Balkans, are very encouraging. For a long time this has been the favorite field of the missionaries sent out by the Propaganda, and in a variety of ways the present Pope has succeeded in allaying the prejudices of the peoples of Servia, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Romania. The rule of a Catholic Prince in Bulgaria has borne blessed fruit for the faith. These people are Catholics, have a true and ancient priesthood, and are very devout in their way. They have a political hostility to Rome and everything coming from Italy, which has long paralyzed all efforts at their conversion. Thank God that hostility is fast disappearing. Father Gorin, Superior of the Bulgarian Seminary shows in his late report that the number of towns actually Catholic in Macedonia amounts to 52. The Catholic population is about 30,000, with 23 churches, 24 monks, 45 priests, 37 teachers and 1,022 pupils.
"These figures," adds Father Gorin, "have their eloquence, which is remembered that at the time Mgr. Bonetti took the direction of this village, nearly Catholic, containing hardly a hundred houses. Our progress is then satisfactory, if we consider simply the road traversed during the last thirteen years. But if we cast our eyes over the immense field to be still harvested, the result is still small. There are about a million Bulgarians in Macedonia, and we have, then, gained about a twentieth of them. It is true, nevertheless, that the harvest is ripening, and that, with the grace of God, whose action among this people is manifest, we are in direct preparation to the number of evangelic workers we may be able to dispose of. Father Faveyral, missionary at Monastir, tells me in that place and in the neighborhood, I could quote many other centres that are in the same condition. I prefer to wait for their definite conversion; this will give more certainty to the value of my present information. For this reason these expected converts do not figure in the list presented. I have not even referred to it in the correspondence, rapid progress made since the first of January last, the date on which I drew it up. Thus, at that period, the town of Janjevo-Vardar contained only 225 Catholics. To-day the number is over 1,500, whose piety is a source of the greatest edification."

CONVERSIONS IN THE EAST.
Reports from the missions in the Balkans, are very encouraging. For a long time this has been the favorite field of the missionaries sent out by the Propaganda, and in a variety of ways the present Pope has succeeded in allaying the prejudices of the peoples of Servia, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Romania. The rule of a Catholic Prince in Bulgaria has borne blessed fruit for the faith. These people are Catholics, have a true and ancient priesthood, and are very devout in their way. They have a political hostility to Rome and everything coming from Italy, which has long paralyzed all efforts at their conversion. Thank God that hostility is fast disappearing. Father Gorin, Superior of the Bulgarian Seminary shows in his late report that the number of towns actually Catholic in Macedonia amounts to 52. The Catholic population is about 30,000, with 23 churches, 24 monks, 45 priests, 37 teachers and 1,022 pupils.
"These figures," adds Father Gorin, "have their eloquence, which is remembered that at the time Mgr. Bonetti took the direction of this village, nearly Catholic, containing hardly a hundred houses. Our progress is then satisfactory, if we consider simply the road traversed during the last thirteen years. But if we cast our eyes over the immense field to be still harvested, the result is still small. There are about a million Bulgarians in Macedonia, and we have, then, gained about a twentieth of them. It is true, nevertheless, that the harvest is ripening, and that, with the grace of God, whose action among this people is manifest, we are in direct preparation to the number of evangelic workers we may be able to dispose of. Father Faveyral, missionary at Monastir, tells me in that place and in the neighborhood, I could quote many other centres that are in the same condition. I prefer to wait for their definite conversion; this will give more certainty to the value of my present information. For this reason these expected converts do not figure in the list presented. I have not even referred to it in the correspondence, rapid progress made since the first of January last, the date on which I drew it up. Thus, at that period, the town of Janjevo-Vardar contained only 225 Catholics. To-day the number is over 1,500, whose piety is a source of the greatest edification."

CONVERSIONS IN THE EAST.
Reports from the missions in the Balkans, are very encouraging. For a long time this has been the favorite field of the missionaries sent out by the Propaganda, and in a variety of ways the present Pope has succeeded in allaying the prejudices of the peoples of Servia, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Romania. The rule of a Catholic Prince in Bulgaria has borne blessed fruit for the faith. These people are Catholics, have a true and ancient priesthood, and are very devout in their way. They have a political hostility to Rome and everything coming from Italy, which has long paralyzed all efforts at their conversion. Thank God that hostility is fast disappearing. Father Gorin, Superior of the Bulgarian Seminary shows in his late report that the number of towns actually Catholic in Macedonia amounts to 52. The Catholic population is about 30,000, with 23 churches, 24 monks, 45 priests, 37 teachers and 1,022 pupils.
"These figures," adds Father Gorin, "have their eloquence, which is remembered that at the time Mgr. Bonetti took the direction of this village, nearly Catholic, containing hardly a hundred houses. Our progress is then satisfactory, if we consider simply the road traversed during the last thirteen years. But if we cast our eyes over the immense field to be still harvested, the result is still small. There are about a million Bulgarians in Macedonia, and we have, then, gained about a twentieth of them. It is true, nevertheless, that the harvest is ripening, and that, with the grace of God, whose action among this people is manifest, we are in direct preparation to the number of evangelic workers we may be able to dispose of. Father Faveyral, missionary at Monastir, tells me in that place and in the neighborhood, I could quote many other centres that are in the same condition. I prefer to wait for their definite conversion; this will give more certainty to the value of my present information. For this reason these expected converts do not figure in the list presented. I have not even referred to it in the correspondence, rapid progress made since the first of January last, the date on which I drew it up. Thus, at that period, the town of Janjevo-Vardar contained only 225 Catholics. To-day the number is over 1,500, whose piety is a source of the greatest edification."

CONVERSIONS IN THE EAST.
Reports from the missions in the Balkans, are very encouraging. For a long time this has been the favorite field of the missionaries sent out by the Propaganda, and in a variety of ways the present Pope has succeeded in allaying the prejudices of the peoples of Servia, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Romania. The rule of a Catholic Prince in Bulgaria has borne blessed fruit for the faith. These people are Catholics, have a true and ancient priesthood, and