

How a person can gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of Scott's Emulsion is hard to explain, but it certainly happens.

It seems to start the digestive machinery working properly. You obtain a greater benefit from your food. The oil being predigested, and combined with the hypophosphites, makes a food tonic of wonderful flesh-forming power.

All physicians know this to be a fact.

WISDOM.

BY THE REV. J. L. SPALDING, D. D.

A little more, a little less. A little patience, friend. And all thy pain, all thy distress, Shall surely have an end.

Catarah Can be Cured. By radiating from the blood the scrofulous taints which cause it. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarah, promptly and permanently, because it strikes at the root of the trouble.

Items of Interest to Catholic Readers in the Magazines. (From the Sacred Heart Review)

BOOKS THAT HELPED. In the very readable and entertaining article which she contributes to the current Catholic World on the lamented Richard Malcolm Johnston, and in the portion thereof where she describes the manner of the late literateur's conversion to Catholicism, Regina Armstrong says that there was much in that period of Mr. Johnston's life that was both beautiful and pathetic.

A Jew Who Saved a Priest's Life. Writing to the Catholic Sun, of Syracuse, a New York priest says: "The other night I got on the Third Avenue electric car at One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, and on my way to Forty-second street chatted with the conductor. His name is Joseph Jacob, and he is a handsome-looking Israelite. On every second or third block campaign meetings were being held. From wagons lit with flaming torches, flaming orators launched out in still more flaming phrases on the merits of their respective candidates. After deploring the evils that open saloons on Sunday bring to the poor working man, he asked me if I knew Father Habler, of Tacoma, Wash. I did not."

REWARDED BY THE POPE. (From the Church News.) A young infidel in Santiago, named Pletiado, stood up to make a speech at a public assembly, but, counting too much upon the non-religious principles of his audience, he began to speak in the most disrespectful and audacious manner of Our Lord and the Blessed Virgin, when one of the first gentlemen of Santiago (Don Macario Ossa) rose from his seat and made an indignant protest against the insult. He then knelt down on the platform in presence of all; so eloquent and soul-stirring were his words that all present were struck with awe and reverence and listened with bowed heads, while the young atheist slunk away and has not been heard of since.

Under the title of "Our Seaboard Islands on the Pacific," Mr. John R. Bennet contributes to the same magazine a very interesting and instructive paper dealing with the islands that lie off the Californian coast, and which are known as the Farallones. Of one of these islands, San Nicholas, he tells us that long before their discovery by Cabrillo, in 1542, this particular island was overrun by the Innuits Indians, who came down from the North, killed all the men, and carried off things that they thought of any value, leaving only the women and children behind them. The original inhabitants of these islands are described by Cabrillo as a mild, but vigorous race. The women and children left on San Nicholas maintained themselves after the Innuits' invasion, and the island again became peopled. In 1835 some Franciscan missionaries came to the island from California and persuaded the islanders to remove to the mainland and reside at the missions. When the boats had left the island one woman discovered that her child had been overlooked and left behind. She jumped from the boat and swam back to San Nicholas, where she and her child were the only inhabitants. The child died soon afterwards, but the mother lived to an advanced age, and near the end of her days she was brought to the Santa Barbara mission, at which her death took place.

KING MATAFAA A CATHOLIC. (From the Liverpool Catholic Times.) A correspondent signing himself "B" writes: From the United Kingdom to Samoa is a far cry. Some people may even ask: "What interest can we have in such a remote spot of mother earth? As inhabitants of this country we have, or ought to have, an interest in that island kingdom because this happens to be one of three great powers charged with its good government and most concerned with its ultimate destiny. However, it is as Catholics that I wish to interest your readers in Samoan affairs. A gratifying paragraph appeared in the papers some days ago to the effect that the ex-King Matafaa had been brought back by a German vessel from his enforced exile and reinstated in his position as native King of the Samoan group of islands. This old man is a Catholic, and from all accounts a good one. His claims to consideration were strongly urged by the late Robert Louis Stevenson, himself a resident in Samoa. The papers of the great novelist supporting King Matafaa were given to the world by, I think, Mr. Bogan, M. P., "the member for Australia." Some years ago the Samoan crown had two rival claimants, Malietoa and Matafaa. The powers that be decided in favor of the former. To prevent intrigue and possible rebellion, Matafaa was quietly shipped to a distant German possession. There he was detained until the death, a few weeks ago, of his successful rival. The incident has been passed over, apparently unobserved, by the Catholic press, hence this letter. Genuine kindly converts from paganism are rare. The Wesleyans are rightly proud of their Kama of Beothusland, so ought we to be of our Matafaa of Samoa.

RAW FROM EAR TO JAW. "I have been for years more or less subject to eruptions on my skin. The left side of my face from the top of my ear to half way down my jaw was in a very bad state—being almost raw, making shaving very painful. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters. One bottle perfectly cured me. I can honestly recommend B.B.B. to all who suffer from any skin disease." G. WHITE, Carleton, N.W.T. B.B.B. cures Salt Rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Shingles, Boils, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers, and all forms of Skin Diseases and Eruptions, from the smallest pimple to the worst scrofulous sore.

ST. ANDREW'S CROSS. The cross of St. Andrew is always represented in the shape of the letter X; but that this is an error ecclesiastical historians prove by appealing to the cross itself on which he suffered, which St. Stephen of Bergundy gave to the Convent of St. Victor, near Marseilles; and which, like the common cross, is rectangular. The cause of the error is thus explained: When the Apostle suffered, the cross, instead of being upright, rested on its foot and arm; and in this posture he was fastened to it—his hands to one arm and the head, his feet to the other arm and the foot, his head in the air.—Ave Maria.
