The Evening Chit-Chat

By EUTH CAMERON

Yes, but look out that you don't get complacent.

That came to me the other day when I was claiming praise for a bit of successful work.

Of course it hurt—quite terribly for a moment—but only as the caustic hurts that smarts cruelly for a few moments but cleanses the poison and starts the healing process.

So I pass it along to any who may need it.

Be as jubilant and thankful as you please for every bit of success that comes your way, but "look out that you don't get complacent."

Don't dwell on your successes. Thank God for the opportunity right-ly and the brains and the ability to have used the opportunity right-ly and then start looking for more opportunities and cultivating more brains and ability.

Don't get complacent. You have passed a road or two beyond some of your competitors, but look, what are those tiny dots way, way down in the road to success and attainment. Why those are men who have passed so far beyond you that if your life were to last a thousand years you could hardly hope to overtake them.

Don't get complacent. If you think you are in danger of it, try to meet or read or hear about some of the really great people. That's the best antidote for the disease of complacency.

Someone has well said that prosperity spoils many more men than failure.

In other words, fatal to success as discouragement is, complacency is infinitely more dangerous.

Don't get complacent. Even suppose your success has been something almost worth chortling over, think how little of the credit belongs to you after all.

You think your brains won't it?

Well, weren't you born with those brains?

Your steadiness and freedom from dissipation deserve some credit?

Well, weren't you born with these tendencies? Do you know what John Wesley said when he saw a drunken man making a fool of himself one day: "There but for the grace of God goes John Wesley."

You deserve credit for your will power in making good use of your natural tendencies and abilities?

Well, there you have me. Perhaps we are born with a stated amount of will power and perhaps we develop it ourselves. That's quite too deep for a woman's mind. Suppose we leave that to the scientists and theologians and come back to the original proposition.

Don't be complacent. Even if you have a right to, it's dangerous. Try instead to attain Milton's ideal which was:

"To be of the great men who are great because they continually compare themselves not with other men, but with that idea of the perfect which they have ever before their minds."

Ruth Cameron

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half a million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as to what fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

A plain salt gargle is very good for sore throat.

Gasoline is good to clean soft white leather shoes.

Tomatoes eaten once or twice a day will often rouse up a lazy liver.

All frozen puddings are improved by being served with whipped cream.

Use ammonia and water rather than soap and water for washing marble.

Milk is good to wash white paint; cold tea is equally good to wash colored paint.

In buying potatoes pick those that are firm and hard and have the fewest eyes.

Left over biscuits are much better cut in two and toasted than if merely warmed over.

When cooking mackerel or other soft fish see that the skin side is placed uppermost.

To lengthen the life of a tin wash basin, paint the inside with any good quality of paint.

Clean zinc with kerosene, rubbed on with a soft cloth, and follow with boiling water.

A whisk broom that has outlived its usefulness may be shortened and made into a sink brush.

A few chopped almonds, added to a custard or bread pudding will greatly improve its flavor.

A sprig of mint in the water in which potatoes or peas are boiled will add a piquant flavor.

When boiling cabbage the odor will be much less noticeable if the lid is left off the pot.

Cold drawn linseed oil, rubbed on with a soft cloth, is best for cleaning mahogany furniture.

When soup is poor, try the addition of grated cheese. It will give it richness and flavor.

To prevent green vegetables from fading, when they are boiled, put a pinch of soda in the water.

A cloth wrung out in ice water and applied to the back of the head will often relieve insomnia.

Salts of lemon will remove ink stains from wooden floors. Use two tablespoonfuls to a quart of water.

Tea can be given a piquant flavor by the addition of half a dozen cloves to a pitcher of tea.

At Last an English Chem-ist Has Discovered How to Grow Hair.

McMURDO & CO. HAVE IMPORT-ED IT.

In England the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing hats, which is due entirely to this new discovery.

It has been proven that Henna leaves contain the ingredients that will positively grow hair. That they contain this long-looked-for article is proven every day.

The Americans are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale.

This preparation is called SALVIA, and is being sold with a guarantee to cure Dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant hair dressing. McMURDO & Co., your druggist, is the first to import this preparation into St. John's, and a large, generous bottle can be purchased for 50c.

For sale by dealers everywhere.

Oiling the Atlantic.

Pouring oil on the troubled waters will be much more than a metaphor if a plan offered by the U. S. Hydrographic Office is carried out. Its serious proposal is to keep the path between New York and the northern European ports well oiled, so that the waves may be kept down and passengers may cross in perfect comfort.

The Hydrographic Office knows a lot about waves, and claims that nothing is so bad for them as oil. Moreover, oil spreads quickly and thinly over the water, and hence the calming can be done at small expense.

A quart of cheap petroleum oil an hour for each ship would they say, do the work in decent weather, and $5 per trip ought to cover it easily. With the big liners constantly passing, the part carried away by the ocean currents would be restored without delay.

Maybe some day we shall have a wrecking crew to repair mid-ocean washouts in the oil track. Meanwhile the Hydrographic Office will need more than crude oil to calm the storm of ridicule which this plan of theirs has awakened.

"Patrick," Duke of Cannaught.

Apologies of the probable appointment of H. R. H. the Duke of Cannaught to be Governor-General of Canada before very long, though not probably this year, some papers have credited the selection of the name "Patrick" as one of the many borne by His Royal Highness to the personal request of the Duke of Wellington, who acted as sponsor. As a matter of fact, Queen Victoria herself has explained that the suggestion came from a humble but patriotic daughter of Ireland. Her Majesty was out driving with two of her children when an old beggar wife hobbled across her path and cried with high-pitched fervor: "Oh, Queen dear, call the next one Patrick and all Ireland will die for ye!" In the royal family and among his intimates the Duke of Cannaught is always called "Pat," and it is related by one who knows him very well that he can tell the good stories he has collected in his travels and campaigns with a humour worthy of his Irish name.

Lame Back.

To have a lame back or painful stitches, means disordered Kidneys, and the sooner you have the Kidneys and Bladder in a perfectly healthy condition, the sooner you will enjoy life. As far as we know there is only one remedy that is guaranteed to cure you, and that is FTG PILLS. If they don't make you a strong, healthy person in two weeks, your money will be refunded. 25c. a box, at all leading drug stores. McMURDO & Co., wholesale agents.

Wonderful Escape.

Victoria, B.C., July 23.—To fall into one of the large furnaces at the Granby Smelter, to be enveloped for an instant by blue flames and sulphurous fumes, and to emerge alive and practically uninjured, was the thrilling experience of Jack Peak, one of the oldest furnacemen on the works, a few days ago. Two severe burns on his wrists and badly shattered nerves are the only evidences of his miraculous escape from instant death.

A trolley car laden with ore jumped from its cable and carried Peak into the furnace. There were several workmen around the furnace, and to their coolness Peak owes his life. The motorman reversed his lever, and before the car had entered half way into the furnace it had shot out again. Some one shut off the blast of the furnace. Peak caught one of the rails on which the car enters the furnace with both hands. Bill Emerd caught hold of the man's arm, and, with the help of another workman, he was instantly pulled out of the furnace.
