Evening Telegram Interviews SIR J. GODFREY ROGERS.

Delighted With Country, Climate and Scenery—Praises Hospitality of the People.

Last night a Telegram reporter called on Lieut.-Col. Sir John Godfrey Rogers, K.C.M.G., D.S.O., at the Crosbie Hotel, and he kindly afforded him some information as to his travels in Newfoundland and his impressions of the country, its capabilities and its people. Sir John came down by the Glenora from the S. W. coast Tuesday and arrived by last night's train. He arrived in this country from England on August 24th last, and going to Port-au-Pas he proceeded to Long Harbour, where he took three Mic-Mac Indians as guides and then went to hunt over the territory traversed by Sir John Millais with such success in two occasions. He traversed the country around Knicker's Cove Pond, Sandy Pond and Ingerschook, up country from Belleoram, going over the Shoe Hill Ridge and Mount Sylvestre. He saw a good deal of caribou but most of the heads were poor. He had a special permit to shoot five deer and secured four about Sandy Pond and the lakes contiguous to it. The best of these heads, however, had antlers which contained only 32 points. He travelled over 100 miles in this section of the Colony and shot over the ground about Jubilee, Hungry Grove and other lakes, and also enjoyed some excellent trout fishing. Altogether he spent nearly a month in the interior of the country, and observed that his stay in Newfoundland will be remembered by him as one of the most pleasant experiences of his life. He was enraptured with the beautiful climate of the country, enchanted with its "delicious" scenery, enthused with the splendid sport it affords and most favourably impressed with the kindness and hospitality of its people. As to the scenic beauties of the country which he traversed, he says that it compares favourably with Norway and Scotland. He was very much pleased with the Mic-Mac guides whom he found honest, faithful and obedient. Sir John is so pleased with Newfoundland that when he returns to the Old Country he says he will not be slow in telling his many friends there of its capabilities, so that in the future they may have the pleasure of an experience similar to his. Going through this country, said Sir John, is certainly living the strenuous life, but he is well rewarded for the energy expended and the labor entailed. He looks forward with pleasurable anticipation to another visit to the Oldest Colony in the near future. Sir John is a man of fine physique, a typical British Army Officer, and courteous and affable with all. His life has been an adventurous one and he has travelled in many lands, including India where he resided for years. He served with distinction in the Afghan campaign of 1878-81 in Egypt, the Nile, Soudan and Suakin, and received the D. S. O. in 1887. He was made a K. C. M. G. in 1879, and was Director-General of the Sanitary Department of Egypt. He retired from the Army in 1892.

Harvest Festival at George Street.

The Harvest Home Festival at George St. Church basement last night was a great success. There was a large display of vegetables, fruit and flowers sent by friends of the League. Amongst those who took part in the excellent programme of song and instrumental music rendered were Mr. Martin, Mr. Hatcher, Miss Russell, Miss Reid and Master Miller. Mr. C. R. Steer occupied the chair and performed the duties to the satisfaction of all present. The principal speakers of the evening were Messrs. H. E. Cowan, J. S. Currie and Rev. J. W. Bartlett. The addresses were patriotic and filled with enthusiasm and hope for the future of the country. The three great harvests of the Sea, the Land and of Human Lives were exhaustively dealt with by the speakers, who submitted facts and figures that sent the audience away thinking President Willie and the officers deserve great credit for the success of the arrangements.

A CADDIES' MATCH. — Yesterday by a misprint we stated that the ladies play a golf match, Saturday afternoon, at Bally Haly. It is the caddies who will play and an amusing match should be the outcome.

Continued Success.

The initial success of the Bazaar being held at the C. L. B. Armoury in aid of the fund for a new Church ship still continues, and last evening and night it was the centre of attraction for hundreds of citizens. The stalls have been restocked and a splendid variety of goods were displayed in them and attracted the attention of purchasers. The ladies in charge of each were kept very busy all the evening and night and the proceeds of yesterday's sales were $1,300, giving an aggregate total of upwards of $3,500. Some of the performers being unavoidably absent the concert set for last night had to be postponed until to-night. His Excellency Sir Ralph and Lady Williams were present yesterday with Miss Dean and Lieut. Lyon, and all who have to date visited the bazaar have expressed the pleasure it has afforded them.

McMurdo's Store News

THURSDAY, Sept. 29, '10. We have just opened a new stock of that excellent new tooth paste, Kolynos. Though only a year or two in use, and without extensive advertising, is now one of the most solidly popular tooth preparations sold in town. Four things, we think, contribute to its popularity. First, it is a good paste, cleansing well and refreshing the mouth antiseptic; second, it is a very agreeable flavor, a notable thing when tooth pastes are often of unpalatable taste; thirdly, the consistency is all that can be desired, it is never too soft, never sticky, never dry; fourth, it is economical, and will last longer than most pastes of similar size. There is no accounting for this, of course, but the most fastidious may well be pleased with Kolynos. Price 30c. a tube.—adv.11.

Cholera Bad in Naples.

Yesterday we expressed the hope that the cholera situation was not so bad as the cable message seemed to indicate. We regret to learn that confirmation of the serious outlook in Naples has been received in town today. As Naples is one of the principal Italian importing centres for our dried fish the news is discouraging to our fish exporters, as the presence of cholera has a most depressing effect on trade in fish. A steamer is in port at present loading fish for Naples. The appended message from Rome seems to show that the trouble has been exaggerated. It is, however, dated Sunday last:—
Rome, Sept. 25.—Official announcement was made to-night that one case of Asiatic cholera had been found in Naples. The Foreign Office has notified in accordance with the sanitary convention in Paris, the respective Governments adhering to it. It is also announced that the patient, the members of his family and all who were in contact with the disease have been isolated, and that further and more drastic measures are being taken to prevent its spread. The sanitary staff at Naples has been reinforced and all cases of Gastro-Enteritis have been isolated.

Seriously Hurt by Fall.

At 10.45 last night as Mr. Kenneth Andrews, tailor, of Plymouth Road, was passing along Duckworth Street East, he determined to take a rest on the railing at the top of the retaining wall opposite R. Kennedy's store, and on the south side of the thoroughfare. When he went to lean on the rail he did not notice that the upper part of it was gone, and he was precipitated to the ground 12 feet below. Andrews is a man who weighs 220 lbs., and the wonder is that he was not killed instantly. He was rendered unconscious by the fall, and some non-passing who heard the noise made when his body struck the ground, hastened to his aid, and getting him up brought him to the Eastern Station where Sergt. L. Cairns looked after him and apprised Supt. Grimes by phone of the occurrence. The man was then removed to his home, and the Superintendent, summoning Dr. Macpherson, with the doctor to the man's house and found that he was suffering great pain though he then was conscious. The man was badly cut about the face, his nose was smashed and the spine was badly injured up between the shoulders. Today Andrews is in a bad state and cannot turn in his bed. Dr. Macpherson did everything possible for the man who will be weeks prostrated as a result of the happening. Repeatedly complaints have been made of the condition of this wall and railing, but no attempt has been made to repair it. Presumably when some person is killed steps will be taken to secure this dilapidated wall and rail.

Died of Enteric Fever.

Mr. Hutchings, Deputy Minister of Justice, had a wise this morning from Magistrate Milfin, saying that J. Ficks, the messenger who died yesterday afternoon at Wesleyville, after being landed from the Fogota, died of enteric fever. All necessary precautions were taken, by the Magistrate and the steamer was to-day released from quarantine.

Special Evening Telegram.

PARIS, Sept. 28. Private advice from Italy asserts that Italian immigrants from the Cholera districts of the country are being embarked at Genoa for America, their original starting place being concealed.

Special to Evening Telegram.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. His friendship for several members of the Italian squadrons of the Detective Bureau, which the late Lieut. Petrosino commanded is believed to have incited black-handers to attempt the assassination to-day of Agnani Rini by hurling a bomb at him from a house top on First St. The missile struck him. He was shocked into unconsciousness, but he escaped serious injuries. The explosion caused a panic in the neighborhood. A similar attempt on Rini's life was made three weeks ago.

Special to Evening Telegram.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 28. The east wall of the First National Bank building from top to bottom for a distance of from 15 to 20 feet from the front sank in an excavation for a projected sky-scraper at that point last night. With it went the easternmost of the four columns at the front of the building, which faced southward on Main St. This fell across the car track in Main narrowly missing an approaching car almost miraculously. Nobody was injured by the collapse of the wall so far as can be ascertained. Had the accident occurred two hours earlier, the result might have been disastrous. The bank is moving to-day to another building. The loss is several thousand dollars.

Special to the Evening Telegram.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. Five trainloads of Tammany braves flew out of the railroad terminals to-day with bands playing and colors flying, bound for the Democratic State Convention at Rochester. Nearly 14,000 supporters of the Wigwag were on the specials. The delegation being the largest sent by the organization in years to a state convention. Besides the Tammany delegation 250 members of the New York county delegation of the State Democratic League left on a special train. Two other special trains carried the Kings County Delegation, of about 100 and the Queen's County delegation of more than 200. In all the eight specials carried approximately 2,000 political enthusiasts Rochester wards.

Editor Evening Telegram:

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. Sept. 28. Dominick Zovocki, a Polish saloon keeper from Gilbert, Schuylkill county, was bused out of $900 by an old scheme worked in new and clever way here according to police special to-day. Zovocki came here to collect a bill of $300 which was owed to him by a fellow countryman in this city. He collected this money which, together with $600 he already had with him, made a roll composed chiefly of old and dirty $20 bills. An acquaintance suggested that he go to a bank and get the money changed into new $1 bills to take home with him. Zovocki, though well of the suggestion and accompanied by his acquaintance he went yesterday to a prominent Trust Co. that is housed in an impressive looking building on Broad St. At the door they were met by a stranger who asked Zovocki what he could do for him. The saloon keeper said he wished $900 $1 bills. "Certainly" said the stranger, just sit down, and I will bring them to you. A few minutes later, according to the story told to the Chief of Detectives, the man returned with three neatly wrapped packages covered with read seals. He put the packages in a grip and never suspected that he did not have $900, until running out of change he opened one of the packages to get money with which to pay for his supper. Horrified to find that it contained nothing but paper, he hastened back to the Trust Co. to report that a mistake had been made. He was looking for the "Banker" when a sympathetic onlooker directed him to a Detective Bureau.

Cholera Epidemic.
A prominent mercantile firm in this city had a telegram to-day from business people in Naples with whom it has connection stating that cholera has been officially declared to be epidemic in Italy. This will have a most demoralizing effect upon the export of fish to that country, and especially to Naples, where the disease is particularly prevalent. Such information coming after a bad voyage fraught with dire possibilities to the trade, and as a result of it this forenoon the price of fish dropped according to grade from 20 to 50 cents.

TRINITY SCHOONERS HOME.
