Deaths at Salmonier.

have all seasons for your own.
"Oh Death!"
ever before in the parish of Salmonier has the meaning of these words been so forcibly brought to the minds of the people as when on the 23rd two of the inhabitants of North Side were laid in their last resting place. Death visited the home of John Dinn and claimed as his victim Catherine Dinn, his aged mother, wife of the late Laurence Dinn.
John, who was well known throughout the parish, both for his kind disposition and interest in his work, was 68 years of age.
At all the great circle of family surrounding her are her descendants as she leaves to mourn her children—three sons and five daughters, and forty-one grandchildren. Yet said to say not one of her was present at her death. There was not one of the large gathering of relatives that attended her funeral that of sympathy with her heartbroken sons, who arrived from various parts of the world at the moment when the funeral service was about to take place. Although the privilege of having her sons near her at her last rest was denied her, a greater privilege was hers, that of receiving her while before her death, the gift of her church. Let us hope that John is now enjoying that rest that is due a good and pious man.

His other victim was the dear child of William and Katie Dinn. The feelings of the little father on returning from the burial of the sudden death of his daughter, who was only six years old, can be better imagined than described. To know that his little one was enjoying a happier home than earth can supply her is a great consolation to the bereaved parents;
but the many incidents of her childhood are recalled, who try to sympathize with the grief-stricken parents when they give way to grief which is natural to parents. To the sorrowing of the two deceased members
of the family extend their heartfelt sympathy.

Thunder Storm.
A severe thunder storm raged Saturday night last. It began at 4 p.m.
and continued till after midnight. Rain fell in torrents. The lightning flashed ten times in ten minutes. The thunder was heard in the west and worked around the horizon to the east.
Flashes of lightning caused a great deal of daylight brightness.
The destruction so far reported as a result of the storm is the destruction of the church at Avondale.

Will Be the Greatest of All Sea Pageants.

LONDON, June 13.—The great naval review by King George at Spithead on June 24, two days after the coronation, will see gathered together in full commission the largest number of vessels of the Dreadnought class ever assembled. Most of them naturally will be units of the British navy, but the United States navy will be represented by the most powerful and up-to-date battleship participating in the review, the Delaware, which is considered in naval circles to typify the latest ideas of battleship construction. The system adopted in her case of placing the five masts in a single line is being followed in all the new battleships of the British fleet now under construction.

TEN DREADNOUGHTS.
There are to be ten battleships of the Dreadnought class in line on the review day. These are the Colossus, Hercules, Neptune, St. Vincent, Colingwood, Vanguard, Bellerophon, Temeraire, Superb and Dreadnought. To these will be added four cruisers of the Invincible class, the Indefatigable, Invincible, Inflexible and Indomitable.

Germany is the only other nation to send a Dreadnought. She will be the Von der Tann, which recently undertook a lengthy cruise to the ports of South America and is declared to be the fastest warship in the world.

FOREIGN WARSHIPS.
The other foreign naval powers are sending vessels of the pro-Dreadnought class, although in some instances they are of quite recent construction. France will be represented by the Danton, Japan by the Kurama, Austria by the Radetzky, Italy by the San Marco, Russia by the Rossiya, Spain by the Reina Regente, Argentina by the Buenos Ayres, Chili by the C'Vnacabuco, Sweden by the Flygia, Turkey by the Hamidieh and China by the Hai-Chi. Denmark, Holland and Norway are to be represented by small coast defence vessels, and the list of visiting ships will be still further increased by the presence of secondary representatives from Japan, Italy, and Chili. All the vessels at the review, including the foreign warships the passenger ships with spectators will be moored in lines supplemented by shorter lines for the torpedo boats and submarines. The boundaries of the review ground, as arranged by the Admiralty, inclose an area of about 18 square miles. There will be 170 British war vessels of various types.

The King and Queen will pass through the lines on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, which will be accompanied by two other royal yachts, the Alexandra and the Albion. On their first passage their Majesties will have on one side the representative vessels of the foreign powers and on the other some of the finest ships of the British navy.

As the royal yacht approaches each vessel in the line a salute will be fired, and at the same time the shore batteries will join in the greeting.

A Splendid Spectacle.

The grandest display of electrical illumination and adornment ever before witnessed in this city will be witnessed Thursday and Friday nights when the handsome station of the Held Nid. Co. is lit up. The building, from an architectural standpoint, is a fine structure, but when each pretty feature is traced in electrical brilliance during the Coronation festivities its beautiful appearance will be enhanced. Thousands of electrical bulbs have been placed in position around its many windows, over the main portico, along the roof and the eaves and even the railings which guard the top of the structure and around the illuminated clock and dome. Over the front of the building will be placed a large crown which will be illuminated with 846 electric lights, so that the building at night will present a radiant and unique spectacle to the beholder.

A Plucky Rescue.

Saturday night, as the Florizel was hauling off from Harvey & Co's pier, one of the firemen named Miller narrowly escaped being drowned, and a plucky rescue of the man was made by Jas. Bruin, a brother stoker of Miller. Miller tried to jump on board the ship as she was swinging off from the pier and mistaking his footing went overboard. Bruin promptly jumped from the ship's deck into the water, and grasping Miller by the arm swam with him to the pier, where both were quickly hauled out by the crowd assembled there. Bruin is a good swimmer and this is not his first time in saving life.

FIRES GONE WEST.—The S. S. FIONA, Capt. Placentia on Saturday night on Customs service along the S. W. Coast.

The Susu Arrives.

The s.s. Susu, Capt. Horwood, arrived here at 4.30 p.m. Saturday from Belleoram and had head winds and thick fog all the way here. She left Belleoram Thursday night at 10 o'clock and landed one passenger here. Upon arrival the ship went on the quarantine ground and hoisted the yellow flag. The reason for this was that the vessel brought Con Cluett from Harbor Breton to Belleoram, landing him at that place on Tuesday last, where his parents live. While he was on board the ship he complained of being ill, and on Thursday the illness from which he seemed to suffer was diagnosed as small pox by Dr. Fitzgerald. Cluett was a school teacher at Little Bay, Hermitage Bay, and walking down to Harbor Breton, boarded the ship to go to Belleoram. He is a pretty sick man and it is thought contracted the disease from a man named Rose, who was affected with it and lived near Cluett at Little Bay. Cluett's residence at Belleoram has been quarantined and Dr. Fitzgerald is looking after the patient. Dr. Campbell visited the ship on her arrival and had her thoroughly disinfected and fumigated, after which she was given a clean bill of health and hauled into Crosbie & Co's premises to-day. The ship reports a very poor shore fishery in Fortune Bay to date, but the bankers are doing fairly, their catches running from 70 qts. for 4 dorries to 1,100 for the larger vessels, while the average is about 800. The vessels are now away trying to secure a caplin baiting.

CELLARS FLOODED.

The cellars on Water Street, near Rankin's, were flooded in the storm of Saturday night owing to the gullies being choked.

WHITE HELMETS.

The Highlanders will wear their white helmets at the Coronation parade.

Coronation Honors.

Special Evening Telegram.
NEW YORK, June 19.
The list of Coronation honors, which will be issued to-day, will likely contain the names of two of the Royal Family, Prince Arthur of Connaught, the King's cousin, and Adolphus, Duke of Teck, brother of Queen Mary. Prince Arthur will be given a Dukedom, and the Duke of Teck, now His Serene Highness, will be raised to the rank of His Royal Highness.

Tim Shannahan on the Patriotic Concert.

MRS. TUCKER WANTS A CONCERT FOR THE PEOPLE IN THE PARK.
Mrs. Tucker is enthusiastic over the Coronation festivities, but she would like to have everything run on good old fashioned style. She says we ought to drop class distinction for two days at least and let the poor people forget that they are poor. She says we are going to have a Patriotic Concert, and she notices that there are two admission fees—you can get a bang-up seat for two-and-sixpence, and a seat a little further back for one-and-six; while if you're poor you can go in search of one of the Committee men, and he after scrutinizing you and making sure you are poor, will give you a ticket to get in for nothing and take a back seat. Mrs. Tucker doesn't think this is British; there's too much of the drawing the line about it. Let us have a free concert in a "Jack as good as his master" style. Let us all mix in one large enthusiastic gathering, and never mind how much money we can boast of. For goodness sake let us drop class distinction in a time like this, for ain't we all true British subjects honouring our Gracious Sovereign. Make the admission fee, if there must be a fee, the same price all over the rink; for, as Delaney says, there is no fear of contagious disease from mixing with the working man or the woman of Mrs. Tucker's class for one hour at a time like this. Mrs. Tucker says she understands from Tucker that there are about thirty-five thousand people in this city, and as the Rink can only contain about three thousand, she'd like to know what the other thirty-two thousand are going to do while the three thousand are in singing? Why not have a Patriotic Concert in Bannerman Park and have all the people assemble there and join in one wholesouled chorus of "God Save the King" that will be heard in Broad Cove?
TIM SHANNAHAN.

"Phoronone" Cough Cure will stop a cough in 24 hours. Price 25c. a bottle. Postage 5 cents extra. Prepared only by Dr. Stafford & Son, Theatre Hill.—June 13.11

A Patriotic Ceremony.

A very pleasing ceremony will take place in the grounds surrounding Gower Street Methodist Church Thursday morning when a large flag will be unfurled there by Rev. T. B. Darby, President of the Methodist Conference, who will act on behalf of the Methodist youth of St. John's. A flag pole about 70 feet high will be erected, the gift of prominent citizens will take place in the above church, when the Rev. T. B. Darby will deliver an address. A good programme of music will be rendered by the city choirs under the leadership of Mr. F. J. King.

LINES INTERRUPTED.—The telegraph line was interrupted by the thunder storm of Saturday. The repairs are very busy to-day effecting repairs.
