Something New!—We have before us a neatly printed and very nicely gotten up pamphlet published by the proprietors of the celebrated Pain Killer. Messrs. Perry Davis & Son of Montreal. The book contains 32 pages and furnishes some very valuable information which every lady and house-keeper ought to know but which very few do know, viz.: "How to Cook for the Sick." The large collection of recipes for broths, soups, drinks, and other nourishing dishes for invalids make the book a very desirable one in a family. Nearly all druggists and country merchants and other medicine dealers sell the Pain Killer and they all have the above publication for gratuitous circulation. It is called "The Pain-Killer Annual," and "Household Physician."

The gross absurdity we have ever seen in the conduct of the press of Canada is that while the newspaper proprietors of the Dominion, as well as their patrons, are deeply interested in putting an end to telegraphic monopoly, a portion of the provincial journals are doing their utmost to keep it up, and to prevent the success of the New Dominion Telegraph Company. It appears to us that some people connected in this denunciation are willing enough to make many hammers of themselves, or else they prostitute the press they control in the advocacy of monopoly.

The Melbourne Auctions of Jan. 4 states that wild horses are becoming such a nuisance in the Orange (New South Wales) country, that devices for trapping them at their favorite watering places, are resorted to. Those branded are impounded to be owned—the rest shot and skinned, if sold at auction. One hundred and eighty of them were sold at two cents a head at Blagney Point. Skins, at Sydney, were worth $1, and hair 50 cents per pound.

The Newfoundland authorities have transmitted to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury the sum of fourpence (we prefer to write it in full) on behalf of British authors, this sum having been received under the provisions of the Copyright Act 10th and 11th Victoria, cap. 95, for the preceding year.

Life's path is rough, the old man said,
"I'm weary, I would that I were dead."
I asked what ailed him, and he slowly sighed
In hoarse, broken tones, as he replied:
'Tis not that I am feeble, old, or lame,
Tis a tight knot and an internal pain,
Nerves—those who are similarly afflicted
Will please call at E. Harvey & Co.'s and get box of Briggs' Curative, and in a jiffy his or her Curative, with all its torments, will disappear. For sale by all druggists. C. H.

The summer comes and the autumn is past,
Jolly old winter has come in at last.
The snow drifts are falling quick like the air,
Covering the ground with a mantle rare;
The fog hangs in fogs, and the sun is bringing,
The merry snow-balls are gaily ringing;
And whether it be day, or whether by night,
Lamp, or candle, or clear moonlight,
The breeze doth whisper, "Tis winter, take care."
And the night wind doth bellow "Beware! Beware!"
But if you should suffer from asthma or cold,
Toothache, lungache, rheumatic pains bold,
Coughs, bronchitis, or other fatality,
Supposed to shorten our frail humanity,
Don't stop a minute, but hurry instant,
And purchase a bottle of Briggs' Curative.
For sale by E. Harvey & Co., and all druggists. C. H. Wright & Co., Hamilton, general
