SATURDAY, APRIL 5, 1913.

The labor legislation of the province of Alherta is more advanced than in any other province in Canada. In the recent session of the legislature several matters of very great importance to workingmen were passed. Most important was the mining act, which was very acceptable to the mining men. This includes some very important changes which mining men desired. It will protect the lives of the mining men and greatly improve conditions. The employers are required o make bi-weekly payment of wages.

THE LABOR LEGISLATION

Another law of very great importance passed during the recent session of the legislature gave added protection to the labor men working on buildings. This revolutionizes conditions and makes the lives of the working man much safer. There will be no further accidents due to poor scaffolding and that sort of

WHISTLING FOR COURAGE

The opposition is at the stage where they are whistling to keep their courage up. The Herald dilates with some appearance of hope on defeating the administration. In the meantime, the Conservatives themselves have no expectation of winning the present contest.

"We have some hope of increasing our representation in the house," is the way that one Conservative member of the late house refers to it. "I would not say at all that we expect to defeat the government." tives expect! A PARTY WITHOUT A POLICY The Calgary Herald, after diligent search, has found in the very bottom of the barrel an old copy of what was described at one time as the platform of the Conservative party in 1912. Though it is The government has been the friend of the of the Conservative party in 1912. Though it is only a year old, every person had forgotten all about it. It was never mentioned in the editorials.

It was not spoken of in polite society by the leader or any other member of the seven. It was whittled out one day in Calgary, framed, and placed away as a memento.

For instance, there is such a thing in it as a promise for a referendum on the question of prohibition. The Albertan invites the leader of the opposition to publish in these columns the resolution or resolutions which he, or any of his followers, introduced in the legislature at this session or any session asking for a referendum of the people on the question of prohibition. It further invites "Burr The Calgary Herald for any editorial that it, or its
