TEACHERS TOURING

One Thousand Delegates Gathered in Convention at Saratoga.

Toronto, July 7.—One hundred and sixty-five school teachers of the Province of Manitoba, chiefly from Winnipeg, spent a few hours in Toronto this morning on their way to England. After a drive around the city a reception was given the teachers at the city hall here. Mayor Geary formally welcomed them to the city. A luncheon was given them by the Toronto Teachers' Association in the Rosedale School. The tourist left early this afternoon for Montreal.

THE NALAL ACADEMY

Expected It Will Open at Halifax With a Class of Thirty.

Ottawa, July 7.—Arrangements are being made to open the Naval Academy at Halifax about October 1. Quarters are being fitted up and an instruction staff is being secured. The institution will open with a class of at least thirty and possibly more. There have been that many applications for classes as midshipmen, but a great many more inquiries, many of which no doubt foreshadow applications, a call will be shortly made for sailors to take places on cruisers Niobe and Rainbow.

ORDER TWELVE ELEVATORS

Government Commission Buys $150,000 of Material.

Winnipeg, July 7.—The Manitoba Government Elevator Commission today placed their orders for material for twelve elevators. The total amount of this order is over $150,000. Work on these elevators will start at once. Orders for more material and machinery will be placed in a few days as more sites are being inspected and approved every day and the commission is prepared to rush the work so as to have as many elevators as possible ready for the incoming crop. It was reported this morning in connection with the Dominion Government securing control of terminal elevators, that some very interested members who were connected with the Northwest Grain Dealers Association have intimated that they have sufficient influence with the powers at Ottawa to prevent the Dominion Government attempting to do anything in connection with the matter of acquiring and operating of terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur. They even go so far as to state that they have sufficient influence with the powers at Ottawa to prevent the Dominion Government attempting to do anything in connection with the matter of acquiring and operating of terminal elevators at Fort William and Port Arthur. They have the Dominion Government in such a position that they dare not break faith with them.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE

One Hundred and Sixty-Five From West En Route to England.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 7.—The 18th International convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America was opened here today with nearly 1,000 delegates present from Baptist societies in Canada and the United States. The sessions will continue through Sunday with elected speakers from the Baptist denomination. The report of the board of managers was presented by the Rev. George T. Wells, the general secretary of Chicago. In the report the managers recommend that state assemblies of the union be encouraged throughout the country. "With a view to training men and women for leadership in the varied work of the union," they stated. Efforts looking toward the unification of Baptist young people under a common name, were also detailed in the report.

MAC'S LUCK

The Young Woman's Reporter's Story.

The following food tale, written by a clever young newspaper woman, is a true story that came under her personal observation: "I have been with — (a paper in a California town) for nine years, and Mac has been with us all that time and I do not know how much longer. "Last winter and the winter before Mac, probably from constant night work and improper food, got badly run down, could not eat much, what little he did eat did not do him much good and he always complained he could not keep warm. "I missed him for awhile until yesterday I overtook him on the street going toward the office, and hardly knew the man; had it not been for the familiar walk I should surely have passed without recognizing him. He was stout, his face was round and ruddy and his eyes bright as I had never seen them before. "I said, 'Mac, I hardly knew you, what on earth have you been doing to get so fat?' He replied, 'Grape-Nuts. Nothing else. I started in on Grape-Nuts food three months ago when I weighed 125 and was feeling miserable, but now I weigh 160 and feel better than I ever felt in my life. I quit my old diet and went on Grape-Nuts and that's the whole story.' "Exercise is necessary, but there's no nourishment in it and proper food alone can supply that. Grape-Nuts for 10 days is a pleasant trial and proves big things. 'There's a Reason.' Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, 'The Road to Wellville.' "Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest. Canadian trade supplied by Canadian Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Windsor, Ont.

WHEN'S LOAF A LOAF AND WHEN A BUN?

Toronto Bakers in Court Explain Meaning of "Small Breads."

Toronto, July 7.—George Tate Blackstock, K. C., graced with his presence and dignified with his participation in the proceedings of the police court this morning. He was one of many prominent legal lights who seldom honor the court, but were present today to assist in settling the involved question of when a loaf is a loaf and when it is a bun. A long list of cases were on the court calendar, including the prominent bakers of the city, who were charged with selling bread under weight in contravention of the act respecting the manufacture and sale of bread.

The first case called was that of the Coleman Baking Company. The first witness was Inspector Aude. The first witness produced several loaves, each of which was made up of four small loaves. He had taken them, he said, from the bakehouse of the Coleman company.

Four Loaves in One. A loaf, consisting of four small loaves, he said, weighed two pounds, six ounces.

"How much over a pound and a half is that?" asked Chief Inspector Robert Wilson, of the medical health department, who conducted the prosecution.

The witness and the counsel all got busy with pencil and paper, but the question was left unanswered.

"What did you ask for?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"I asked him for light loaves."

"What did he show you?"

"He showed me those," said Mr. Aude, pointing to the array of loaves on the magistrate's and crown attorney's desk.

"You observed that each of these sections was labeled small bread?" asked Mr. Blackstock.

"Yes."

Inspector Vance gave similar evidence, and was the only other witness for the prosecution.

"Subject to my objections that there is no case," said Mr. Blackstock. "I shall call some witnesses."

The first one was Mr. Parnell, president of the Coleman Baking Company. Mr. Blackstock then plunged into a discussion of methods of baking. In answer to his questions Mr. Parnell said that all loaves were baked so that they adhered when they came out of the pans. They were broken up only when they were required by customers. There was no difference between the twenty-four ounce loaves and loaves to which objection was taken except that the individual loaves were larger in the former.

"Explain these labels," said the counsel.

"The labels says 'small bread,' replied Mr. Parnell.

Mr. Parnell went on to explain that the different pieces of dough were put into the pans separately, but that in the baking process they adhered.

Labels to Prevent Deception. "What is the object of these labels?"

"So that no deception can possibly take place," replied Mr. Parnell.

"What grievance has the public?" asked the magistrate.

"These four pieces," said Mr. Wilson, "are sold as one loaf. The whole case rests in the definition of small breads. The term 'small bread' was evidently intended to cover buns, rolls, and bread put up in that shape not loaves of bread."

"It is not a loaf," declared Mr. Parnell. "It is a small bread."

That represents the question in dispute.

What the Law Says. Mr. Wilson then read the section on which he rested his case, which was as follows:

7. Except as provided in sub-section 2, no person shall make bread for sale or sell or offer for sale bread except in loaves weighing twenty-four ounces or forty-eight ounces avoirdupois. Small bread may be made for sale, offered for sale, and sold in any weight not exceeding twelve ounces avoirdupois.

Mr. Parnell went on to explain that no matter what the size of the individual loaves they all adhered as the loaves on exhibition, and were only broken up when they were sold.

"How many small breads have you sold?" asked Mr. Wilson adopting Mr. Parnell's terminology.

"Several," replied the witness.

"Perhaps the public doesn't know about the small loaves," suggested the magistrate.

"I don't think they do," said Mr. Wilson.

Mr. George Weston was called and described baking methods as Mr. Parnell had done. A man had said to him: "I am glad I can get these three-cent loaves."

Ald. Bredin was called and gave expert evidence similar to that of Mr. Parnell and Mr. Weston.

The case was adjourned until July 11th.

Other counsel present were C. S. Kerr, R. L. Johnson and J. E. Jones.

450 Men's Suits Go On Sale Tomorrow And Will Last for 3 Days

We've grouped all the little lots left from the past few weeks' selling for quick clearance at amazingly little prices.

We're about to wind up what has been one of the most remarkable clothing sales we've ever had. It has been a record-breaking sale both as regards value-giving and volume of business, for it has brought to London men and boys the best clothing made—all brand new, thoroughly up-to-date in style, and guaranteed for satisfactory service, at unapproachable low prices. Of course, such tremendous selling has left a large accumulation of little lots, and these lots are made up of the best selling and most wanted styles and patterns, for the best always goes first. As we have already told you, we were selling this clothing at one-quarter to one-third less than our usual prices, and usual prices are at least 25 per cent under the usual prices of other stores.
