Butter Advances.
Creamery butter went up in price to-day, and is now selling retail at 30c per day, and is now selling retail at 30c per pound. The indications last week were that dairy butter was inclined to be cheaper, but the advance in creamery will likely steady the price of the other, and no further reduction is likely. Eggs are selling at 30c to 32c per dozen, and are very scarce.

Arguing from reason only the Catholic Church says that God has given to the world some authority on questions. It would be derogatory to God's wisdom to suppose that he would cast man into these intricate difficulties. In the last chapter of St. Mark's gospel he called his apostles before his ascension, and commissioned them to carry on His work. He did not exclude church authority for the greater part of the Roman Empire had been covered by these men before the Bible appeared.
