Controller Says Greater Credit Would Accrue Through Reduction of Prisoners' Money.

TAKE THE DRUNKS HOME

Thinks Golden Rule Should Prevail-Advocates Joint Station and Registry Offices.

If a plan revived by Controller W. G. Coles is carried into effect, a new joint registry office and police station will be rected on the court house grounds and handsome park surrounding the buildings, will be laid out. The present city registry office at the corner of Carling and Talbot streets, and the county registry office on Ridout street, are hopelessly out of date and absolutely inadequate to meet the demands of a growing city and county. The heating arrangements are of an ancient vintage, and the appointments which should characterize buildings of this kind, are conspicuous by their ab-

Controller Coles thinks that the city and county authorities should get together soon, to try and arrive at some satisfactory agreement whereby a modern building could be erected on the ample county property to house both the city and county registrars, and their ed. staffs. Controller Coles would also have the proposed new police station erected on the court house grounds, thus making sort of a second federal square, where all the departments concerned in the administration of justice, civil and criminal, would be centered.

Transformed Into Park. "The court house grounds could transformed into a splendid park," said Controller Coles to The Advertiser, "and the old wall at the rear could be torn There is no need for such a formidable-looking barricade. We have way. There is no need for the wall.

to a retreat or farm, whichever you choose to call it. Instead of sending a man to jail and giving him a deep-seated grudge against society and the law, why Most of the men who appear in our police court are arrested for drunkenness. We legislate to sell them liquor and then we fine them for taking too much of it. In this way we are getting a profit at each end, and it's not right.

Should Take Man Home. "Instead of arresting a man when he takes a drink or two too much, I would like to see the police instructed to take that man home. If a carriage is necessary, charge the cost of it to the hotelman who sold him the liquor. Many men who are perfectly good citizens in every other way are unable to resist the temptation of liquor; it is a disease with them, and we should not disgrace their wives and families by sending them to

"I think we have one of the best chiefs and one of the best police forces in Canada. They certainly do splendid work in keeping criminals away from London. But apparently they consider it their duty to see how many convictions they can secure in the course of a year. Instead of pointing to increased receipts in the police department through fines, would give the magistrate the greatest credit who could cut the fines down to $500 a year.

Golden Rule Idea. The idea of Controller Coles in this matter is exactly similar to that adopted by Fred Kohler, former chief of police Cleveland, Ohio. Kohler was called the golden rule chief, for he substituted the helping-hand treatment of drunks instead of lugging them to jail. Kohler was lauded from one end of the continent to the other for his inauguration of this system.

Assessor Alfred McCoubrey-Why not put the subway at Talbot street, or midway between Talbot and Richmond. Traffic south on Richmond street could turn west on York, and then through to Bathurst, in the rear of the Tecumseh House, if land could be secured. This would save spoiling the property on Richmond.

R. M. McElheran, secretary of the board of education-The city passed up its chance for elevated tracks some years ago, but there is no use crying over spilled milk. Subways are certainly needed.

Q. Chartrand, manager of the Argyle Land Company-We should certainly have subways. Why not call a mass meeting of citizens to protest against the crossing delays that we are now subjected to? Medical Health Officer Dr. T. V. Hutchinson-We spend large sums of money in safeguarding the public health, why should we not spend something to safeguard the lives of the public? I suppose that on an average four persons are killed every year in London on level crossings. It is monstrous, and it is time that we should protest against the Grand Trunk being allowed its own way all the time.

Stage Drivers Say Rural Residents Have Not Yet Fully Grasped Idea.

The recently-inaugurated parcel post is already beginning to assume considerable proportions in London and the surroundng district, and the number of parcels dispatched is rapidly increasing as people get more accustomed to sending their parcels in that way. Railway mail clerks assert that the ncrease is quite noticeable in the number of parcels handled on the mail cars daily, and in some case trains which formerly carried one mail car now have two attached.

Stage drivers also are getting their share of the extra work, although the increase has been comparatively small with them, due, they say, to the fact that many people do not appear to have United States Would Aid If fully grasped the rules and regulations of the new system. The daily loads carried by the stages running out of London has been about the same since the system was inaugurated, although fewer parcels are sent in the old-fashioned way. Those that are sent by the new system just about balance the decrease in the number of express parcels sent before parcels post was start-

An interesting feature that several of the stage drivers have noticed is that many more parcels are sent by city people to the country, in proportion to the population, than are mailed to the Demand Vergara's Body.

[Canadian Press.]
Feb. 26.—United States onsul Garrett and S. J. Hill, of Laredo, brother-in-law of Clement Vergara, were expected to reach the scene of Vergara's execution by Mexican federals near Hidalgo, Mexico, today. The consul's visit to Hidalgo today was largely to formally demand that Vergara's body be surrendered to the family for burial. Opposition to this was not expected, for, at last reports, the body was still hanging to a tree, and the Mexican troops have not denied the manner of his death. Personal responsibility for Vergara's death, however, hardly will be fixed until an extensive investigation is made. Col. Alvarez, commander of Nuevo Laredo has assured Consul Garrett that the guilty men will be punished.

A report that rebels were responsible for the seizure of Vergara on his island pasture in the Rio Grande, and his subsequent death was not given credence by those in touch, with border affairs. It was pointed out that rebels have not operated in that section of Coahuila for months, though there are several bands of federals opposite Vergara's ranch.

HELP EUROPEANS TO

Powers Would Warn Subjects.

Washington, Feb. 26.-The possibility hat Great Britain, Germany, France, and other powers may follow the lead of the United States in warning their subjects to leave Mexico, was discussed in official circles here today as a likely effect of the execution recently by the British subject. Some officials pointed out that while the United States has twice warned her citizens to leave the rebellion-torn country, European nations have taken no such precautions, making foreigners who insist on remaining in dangerous territory a burden that is giving the Washington Government much

Another feature of the situation which loomed up as of commanding importance was the fact that the Benton incident promises to develop into a test of Carranza's authority and influence as chief of the constitutionalist movement. Every sort of pressure. it is understood, is being brought to bear on Carranza, both by Americans and Mexicans, who have the confidence of Washington officials, with the purpose of impressing upon him the necessity of a clear and convincing explanation of all the circumstances
