PEACE TREATY HAS BEEN SIGNED.

When on Saturday the nations signed the peace treaty at Versailles, a great load was lifted off the minds of the world. The greatest of all wars was over and the reckoning made.

From August 1914 until November 1918 upwards of a score of nations had waged hostilities. They armed 50,000,000 men and directly employed ten times as many in supplying them with the food, clothing and munitions necessary to carry it on, while the whole of civilization was linked up in direct or indirect service and sacrifice.

The countries of the earth became pawns in the war game. Civilization was torn up by the roots and cast into the furnace. It is estimated that the Moloch of war devoured twenty millions of lives. The man who is being the sword and starvation and disease. The man who is blamed for losing Armageddon on the world is a fugitive, and his empire a republic, shorn of territory and resources.

It is too early to realize the changes which the peace treaty records and those which will follow the signing of peace. Civilization was churned in a terrible maelstrom and flung bleeding and exhausted upon the shore. It will take decades of time to recover from the experience and generations to pay its huge cost.

There is a strong hope that this will have been the last war between civilized nations; that counting the cost and anticipating what newer and more terrible weapons science may place in the hands of men, the world will submit another test of armed strength by agreeing to submit their disputes to arbitration. Were this obtained, the cost, huge as it has been, will not have been too great a price to pay.

Canada has played its part in the world tragedy, saving in a material sense nothing to gain, it cost 420,000 of its best blood and sinew overseas for principle's sake. With 56,000 of its sons resting beneath the poppies of Belgium and France, that soil will always be held sacred.

Broadly speaking there is now "Peace on Earth" and yet must come "Good Will among Men." Beginning at home, the heaven of right thinking should be introduced, which will hasten the day when the Brother hood of Man is an actuality and Tennyson's World Parliament realized.

Peace has come on the eve of the 52nd Anniversary of Confederation. Canada has borne itself manfully. It wears honorable scars. And emerges stronger and more self-reliant because of the trials and sacrifices of the long period of hostilities.

Canadians were sustained throughout by the thought that it was a war to end war and by the conviction that the foundation of democracy would afterwards be deepened and broadened and a better structure erected upon it and in which the humanities would be the brick and mortar.

No other country offers equal opportunities. Canada has the resources and the elbowroom for fifty or sixty million people. Providing its statesmen have the vision to adopt a broadminded policy, in which democratic government, personal liberties and fair play to all hold sway, this Dominion will not only become a great and prosperous nation but a land of happy, energetic people. Better a dry crust and contentment than a feast and disorder.

THE NEW LABOR LEADER.

On Friday last a new Labor Weekly made its appearance in Toronto. Its publishers are: W.J. Hevey, secretary, Toronto District Labor Council; James E. Miller, business agent, Railway Clerks and Freight Handlers' International Union; Harold W. Mackay, business agent, Sheet Metal Workers' International Union; James T. Gunn, business agent, International Electric Workers' Union; Herbert Wright, business agent, Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders' International Union; Charles O'Donnell, Theatrical Employees' Union and R.J. Stevenson, representative International Typographical Union.

Under the caption, Labor Leaders Makes its Bow, the new publication has this to say: "The Labor Leader comes to you the working men of Canada, seeking to voice the firm but moderate opinion of Canadian labor. Should it presume to guide, its voice will be raised to forward the prosperity of the Canadian worker as against the uncertain and unprofitable excitement of merely bumping the 'Other Fellow' for no reason except that he is the 'Other Fellow'. Canada to-day faces the storm of unrest blown across her borders from outside and brewed in the clouded intelligence of the Red Russian Bolsheviks, if one may say, the work in connection with so unintelligible a creature.

"For Bolshevism is perhaps the most threatening and violent Brain Storm, which has burst upon bewildered humanity in this or any other age. The Labor Leader believes that Canadian Labor stands firmly loyal to Canada to-day as she has shown beyond all doubt she stood when called upon to lay down the tools of peace and to take up the weapons of war.

Under the caption "Destruction or Construction" there is a cartoon by Lou Skuce showing capital and labor bargaining across a table and under the floor is a bomb. The cartoon is captioned "One Big Bolshevik." Under the cartoon are these words: "Surely for Canada, better the sunlight of prosperous and progressive industry than the gloom of industrial depression lightened only by the lurid glare of Bolshevik disruption."

The Labor leader is possessed of sanity and will strongly appeal to those who believe in negotiation rather than force, in Construction rather than Destruction."

While Jews are of course, subject to the ordinary ailments of life, they can boast of an average longer life, than any other race. They have always enjoyed remarkable immunity from tuberculosis, cholera and typhus. In the fourteenth century when the Black Death was raging throughout Europe, the Jews were exempt from the plague.

The penguins of the Antarctic region are the most human of all the bird family, walking upright, living in communities, quite unafraid of man, and possessing one trait almost unknown among any other of the so-called lower creatures. That is, the old birds will look after young ones that have strayed from their parents and tend them as carefully as their own.

The design adopted for the League of Nations has three broad horizontal stripes, the top and bottom being white and the centre blue. It is really the flag representing the letter "L" in the international code, which is the universal language of the sea—with the colors reversed. The design was selected principally because it clashes in no way with any existing national flag.

Former Mayor of Birmingham, Alta., Endorses Tanlac

"You Will Hardly Know Me When We Meet Again; For I Am Getting Well," He Writes a Friend.

One of the latest additions to the list of leaders of thought and action who have come forward with their unqualified endorsement of Tanlac is the name of Hon. Frank V. Evans, former Mayor of Birmingham, Ala., ex-State Examiner of Public Accounts of Alabama, and at one time editor of one of the South's greatest newspapers, The Birmingham Age-Herald.

Writing to a personal friend in Atlantic City, Mr. Evans says:

"Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 2nd. '---By the way, you will hardly know me when we meet again, because I am getting so well and strong again. As I told you while in Atlantic City last month, I have been suffering a long time with gastritis, as the doctors call it—really a disordered stomach with consequent nervous pains in the shoulders, headache, belching, heartburn, loss of appetite, loss of sleep and fainting spells. For weeks I could not sleep on my back. One week ago upon recommendation of friends who have tried the medicine, I purchased one bottle of Tanlac and began taking it. Since then, although the list of endorers is a long one I recall a few leading names that had both dignity and credit to the entire array. Some of them are: 'Hon. C. W. Mangum, of Atlanta, Ga., for three terms Sheriff of the Fulton County, Hon. Moses R. Glenn, Superintendent of Prisons for the State of Kentucky; Mr. C. O. Cooper, President of the Georgia Cotton Oil Company; Mr. J. P. Hill, Bank President of South Pittsburg, Tenn.; Mr. J. P. Correll, Cotton Mill Superintendent of Chattahoochee, Ga.; Hon. A. E. Anderson, of Houston, Texas, for seven terms Sheriff of Harris County; Hon. E. S. Shepard, ex-city Councilman of Atlanta, and many others whose names have heretofore been given to the public.'"

Signed, "Frank V. Evans."

Commenting on this splendid endorsement of Tanlac F. V. Evans, International Distributor of Tanlac said: "Although the list of endorers is a long one I recall a few leading names that had both dignity and credit to the entire array. Some of them are: 'Hon. C. W. Mangum, of Atlanta, Ga., for three terms Sheriff of the Fulton County, Hon. Moses R. Glenn, Superintendent of Prisons for the State of Kentucky; Mr. C. O. Cooper, President of the Georgia Cotton Oil Company; Mr. J. P. Hill, Bank President of South Pittsburg, Tenn.; Mr. J. P. Correll, Cotton Mill Superintendent of Chattahoochee, Ga.; Hon. A. E. Anderson, of Houston, Texas, for seven terms Sheriff of Harris County; Hon. E. S. Shepard, ex-city Councilman of Atlanta, and many others whose names have heretofore been given to the public.'"

Tanlac is sold in Kitchener by E. O. Titt and Co., in Galt by R. W. McKelham, in Hespeler by Jno. R. Phipps, in New Hamburg by W. H. Boullie, in Millbank by R. B. Hamilton, in West Montrose by A. E. Richter and Co., in Preston by H. L. Field, in Waterloo by A. B. Learn, in Doon by L. C. Eulack.
