Facts About Clothing!

We're in the midst of a trade revolution. The fact that we sell Clothing is no news to you, but almost nobody expects to find such values. The finest clothing stock and the lowest clothing prices are making things lively here and the enthusiasm is bound to be contagious. The more you hear about bargains the more you're apt to make comparisons. And the more you know about clothing prices and qualities the better

Saturday is clothiers' day the world over. To-morrow we'll show what we can do by selling:

Men's Double-breasted Tweed Ulsters, dark Oxford gley, deep storm collar, heavy wool lining.
Youths' Double-breasted Tweed Ulsters, dark Oxford grey, storm collar, heavy wool lining, sizes 31 to 35 chest.
Men's Tweed Pants, dark and light patterns, well made, sizes from 32 to 40 inches waist.
Men's Black West of England Worsted Coats and Vests, Venetian finish, neatly bound, in sacque or cutaway, all sizes from 36 in. to 42 in. chest.

Won't stop to say what the goods are worth. There's so much exaggeration in clothing advertising it's a hard matter to tell what's what. A saving of 50 per cent. will bring us all the trade we can handle. There's no sentiment about it. It's dollars and cents every time.

them, if the company is to be compelled to abandon its arrogant pretensions, if the company is to be compelled to obey the laws of the land, which it has set at deflance, and if, by reason of its arrogance and high-handed conduct in the past, it is compelled to concede a wider interference by the city and the consumers hereafter in the management of its affairs.

We're doing our level best to keep assortments complete, but that can't last forever. The best styles are going; some of the commoner sizes are going, and later on there'll not begin to be the choice there is now. To-morrow ought to be a banner day with these values at our disposal:

We're doing our level best to keep assortments complete, consumers ought to expect. They expect all that Judge Ferguson's decision gives them; they are entitled to restitution; they are entitled to a reduction of at least 25 cents a thousand, and they are entitled to remedial legislation as protective of the future.

Why does The Globe with the sell assistance of Ald. Scott. His other supporters were Ald. Hallam, Jolliffe and Burns.

Why does The Globe with the sell as all the consumers ought to expect. They expect all that Judge Ferguson's decision succeeded in pushing through the committee, with the able assistance of Ald. Scott. His other supporters were Ald. Dunn, Frankland and McMurrich. Those who voted in the interests of the people were Ald. Hallam, Jolliffe and Burns.

Of course it would be an awfully nice ner day with these values at our disposal:

At the next meeting of the City Council there will be presented a petition asking that proper steps be taken to prevent the Bell Telephone Company from infringing upon the ordinance regulations of four years ago, restricting the unnecessary erection of poles within the district bounded by Bloorstreet, one street east and west re spectively, of Sherbourne and Spadina-avenue, and the bay on the south. When the agreement was made, the company agreed to put its wires

The claim is made that the company is violating its agreement with the city and the provisions of the bylaw and the petition above referred to is in consequence of such violation.

men arrested Citizen Kelly for the terrible crime of driving himself and his family to church. The court now intervenes and orders an assessment of damages against the bigots for their reprehensible conduct. But the Mayor and the Inspector will get rid of their and the police of the Waterworks coal contract and since the holl. Our greatest regret in this matter is that the bigots who stood behind the Mayor and the police constables can not be reached and made to pay the damages for a trespass which they incited and for which they are morally responsible. One circumstance, however, makes the affair less vexatious. The arm of the law is circling round them, The bigots will soon be owerless to annoy and bully those who differ from them on religious matters. The remarks of Chief Justice will be a first the server of the surface of the sur business at any price they saw fit, and were under no obligations whatever to us not to do so.

Now, if an advance price is, as you can see from the above, most unjustly attributed to combination, why not also attribute the reduced price to combination? This, however, is unpopular, and, unfortunately for the dealer, is never done.

During the past summer there was a surplus of coal on the market, competition was extremely keen, and prices prevailed which were never heard of before in Toronto. You contracted with us for 1500 tons of coarse slack, of the highest grade, at $2.27 per ton, with the option on your part of increasing or decreasing this quantity 1000 tons. This, of course, was a very one-sided arrangement, but it was so specified in your specifications, and we had no alternative, if we tendered, but to comply with the conditions. Coal became scarce, the price advanced, and in September, when we had completed the delivery of the specified contract quantity or 1500 tons, and when the time limit of the contract should have expired, you demanded of us the additional 1000 tons at the above referred to low contract price, and this just on the eye of one of the worst The World is amused to see so many of its rivals claiming that our special despatch that Mr. Greenway's Government were preparing to compromise the school question was unfounded. The World has read all these despatches contradicting our report and Why does The Globe wish to get the company out of litigation? If you've got your opponent "in chancery," keep him there till he surrenders. Why doesn't The Globe join The World in insisting on Christopher Robinson being consulted? How that paper joined in the program of attack and defence that very properly was drawn up against the Street Railway Company when its franchise was up for consideration it will not be hard for the public to judge whose intertable the public to judge whose intertable to from Hon. S. H. Blake was duly respected! But now, Mr. Robinson's advice is not sought not even the advice of the City Solicitor is taken, but an undue haste is shown to "deplore" litigation and to get the company out of its plight.
