called themselves William Phillip O'Kelly and Thomas Bradshaw, were apprehended by subjoined circumstances. Early in the even-ing these persons went into the shap of Mr. Dully Bookseller in Water-street, and having mount being in the avenent of their purchase, Mr. Dully received the note, and, as we understand, not having by him at the time a sufficient amount of money to exchange for it, promised to procare the specie by a certain hour during the evening, at which time the parties agreed to call. Mr. Duffy then took the note to the Right Rev Dr. Fleming, either to have it exchanged, or to ask his opinion as to its gemeness, and was referred by His Lordship, Mr. Milroy, the Manager of the Bank of itish North America. Mr. Milroy de-British North America. Mr. Milroy de-clined to cash the note, being unwilling to isk of responsibility in the atter. and Mr. Duffy returned with it to Dr. Fleming.—During his absence, however, the Bishop remembered having lately seen an advertisement in the London Times, offering a reward for the apprehension of a person who had abstonded with Notes of the Manchester Branch Bank of England, to the amount of £1900, and upon reference to the newspaper he discovered that the number and amount of one of the notes there particularized corresponded with that in Mr. Duffy's possession, No. 38.458.

Upon recognising the identity of the note, Mr. Duffy immediately informed the authorities of the circumstance, and the two persons nentioned above were committed to custody.

On examination of their trunks yesterday morning the three first of the above mentioned morning the three first of the above mentioned notes amounting together to £1500 were found in one of them, so that out of £1900 were advertised, £1600 have now come to light. And further, the personal appearance of one of the individuals under arrest (O'Kelly), is said to answer, or at least to be little at variance with. the description in the advertised. They came here, we understand, 11 and for a comparatively trifling consideration, and declined house-keeping. [Phil, days ago from Forg, where they had arrived.] days ago from Fogo, where they had arrived a short time before from New York. They are both respectable in appearance, and during their stay here, have occupied rooms at of the best notels.

The prisoners have been allowed an attorney, and we understand it to be his intention apply for their liberation under Habeas Corpus to the Judges in Chambers, on the ground of the insufficiency of news aper evidence to warrant their detention.
