Her abla assistant, the ubiquitous, always cheerful and indomitable Nettie, also retires from hotel life, greatly to th regret of every regular patron of the Queen. The hotel has been sold to W. C. MacPherson, of Bridgetown, who will also continue to conduct the St. James in this place. Both Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson are giving the public an excellent service at the St. James Hotel, Bridgetown, and the Elm House, Lawrencetown. We know they will do well at the Queen, Annapolis, and mish them crown excessed
