A CROSS DOG STORY

An unusual law case came before Magistrate Crockett this week and it concerns a dog.

The story, as unfolded in the court, was that Mr. S. C. Turner, of New Glasgow, while passing the farm of Mr. C. D. McKay, by McLehans' Brook, in Plymouth, was asked by Mr. McKay to go into the barn and see a sick cow.

Mr. McKay also told Mr. Turner to look out for the dog as it was cross. The dog attacked Mr. Turner before Mr. Turner before Mr. McKay had secured it, and bit him in the stomach, tearing the flesh.

Mr. Turner brought action to have the dog destroyed, claiming that it bit him without provocation. Mr. McKay claims the dog to be a valuable one and necessary for protection.

The Magistrate took Mr. Turner's view, and issued an order for the canine's destruction. The order is stayed as Mr. McKay has appealed the suit to the County Court.—Eastern Chronicle.

Local Happenings

A large number left last week for St. John to go West on the harvest excursion. Very few from Bridgetown and vicinity joined the number.

A slight error inadvertently occurred in the box score of the Bridgetown--Yarmouth ball game, when Jackson was credited with four hits and Smith with one. The correct figures were: Smith four hits, Jackson one.

Warey in attendance, for the purpose of clearing up defects which exist in the teeth of school children. It is hoped also that children from the outlying districts will be in attendance.

The members of the St. Joseph's baseball team have arrived home from Annapolis and Bridgetown, having won in Annapolis and lost in Bridgetown. "We cannot say too much of the hospitality we received," remarked one of the party. "It was simply splendid. The people could not do enough to make our stay pleasant, and this was true of both places. We had a great time altogether.—Evening Mail.

St. Joseph's junior team which played the Bridgetown juniors here recently are anxious to come again to Bridgetown for a game, and the Socials of Halifax, champions in their class in 1921, are also looking for a date here. BRIDGETOWN WINS OVER WESTVILLE

Score 7 to 4 In An Interesting Game--Local Team In Splendid Working Shape

Wednesday afternoon's baseball match between Bridgetown and Westville was one of the most interesting of the season. Two good teams and both working well. There was considerable spectacular playing. Strikes outs were much less numerous than in many of the games and hitting honors were about easy between the two teams. Bridgetown scored heavily in the second and in the sixth innings. In the latter they had the bases full with no one down. Hoyt and Marshall having each connected for safe hits. Malcom was hit by the pitcher.

Jackson's hit brought Hoyt and Marshall home but Thompson struck out three men in succession and thus held down the score for the innings to two runs.

The game was followed throughout with great interest by the fans. Hoyt, of the Juniors, played a great game. He is a slick fielder and a clean hitter, and is certainly making good in senior company.

The Westville boys are a splendid lot of sports and will be warmly welcomed here at any time they can come. In the afternoon they defeated Middleton 12-9 and on Thursday tied Kentville 3 to 3.

Table with 5 columns: Team, A.B., R., H., E. Rows include Westville and Bridgetown statistics.

Score by innings. Bridgetown: 0 3 1 0 1 2 0 0 7. Westville: 0 1 0 0 0 2 1 0 4.

Struck out by Malcom four; by Thompson six. Hits off Malcom, nine; off Thompson, ten.

Two base hits: Grimshaw, Oliver. Umpires: At plate, H. T. McKenzie; Bridgetown, On bases, F. Budd, Halifax.

CLAIMED IMMIGRATION LAWS TOO STRICT

Discussing immigration in Canada from the British Isles, Mr. McConkey said the farmers, especially the farm laborers of the United Kingdom were very desirous of emigrating to Canada, but were too poor to pay the expense.

St. Joseph's junior team which played the Bridgetown juniors here recently are anxious to come again to Bridgetown for a game, and the Socials of Halifax, champions in their class in 1921, are also looking for a date here.

Miss Pearl Chute, County Health Nurse, has resumed duty after a vacation, and proceeded to Weymouth. Clinics are being held this week in the various centres in Annapolis County.
