

- (e) be capable of identification when exported;
- (f) be exported on the departure of that person or within such other period related to the purpose of the temporary admission; and
- (g) be admitted in no greater quantity than is reasonable for its intended use.

4. Neither Party may condition the duty-free temporary admission of a good referred to in subparagraph 1(c), other than to require that such good:

- (a) be imported solely for the solicitation of orders for goods, or services provided from the territory, of the other Party or a non-Party;
- (b) not be sold, leased or put to any use other than exhibition or demonstration while in its territory;
- (c) be capable of identification when exported;
- (d) be exported within such period as is reasonably related to the purpose of the temporary importation;
- (e) be imported in no greater quantity than is reasonable for its intended use; and
- (f) be accompanied by a security in an amount no greater than the charges that would otherwise be owed on entry or final importation, releasable on exportation of the good.

5. Where a good is temporarily admitted duty-free under paragraph 1 and any condition a Party imposes under paragraphs 3 and 4 has not been fulfilled, the Party may impose:

- (a) the customs duty and any other charge that would be owed on entry or final importation of the good; and
- (b) any penalties provided for under its law.
