INTERNATIONAL TRADE BROCHURE RELEASED

Ottawa, May 21, 1987 -- The Minister for International Trade, Pat Carney, today made public the first in a series of brochures dealing with Canada's international trade negotiations.

The initial document is titled Trade Negotiations: Securing Canada's Future. The 18-page booklet discusses the reasons behind Canada's two-track trade negotiations. It covers both the bilateral talks with the United States and multilateral negotiations with member countries of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Other documents on trade negotiations will be published shortly. They will include pamphlets discussing provincial and territorial interests in trade liberalization, particularly with regard to the U.S., and sectoral notes describing industry and consumer interests in free trade.
