

Commons
summoned.

101. On the day appointed, His Excellency being come and seated on the Throne, the Speaker, as on the day of the Opening, directs the Gentleman Usher to go down to the Commons and require their attendance. M. 206; B. 100.

Titles of Bills read.

102. As soon as the Speaker of the Commons has taken his place at the Bar, the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, bowing to His Excellency, says:

“May it please Your Excellency,—The “Senate and House of Commons have passed
“the following Bills, to which they humbly
“request Your Excellency’s assent.” B. 100.

After reading the titles of the Bills in English, he again bows to His Excellency, and addresses him in the same words, in French, and reads the titles in that language.

Bills assented to.

103. The Royal Assent is then pronounced in both languages by the Clerk of the Senate, the words used being, “In His Majesty’s
“name, His Excellency the Governor General
“doth assent to these Bills.” M. 207; B. 100.

Bills
reserved.

104. Should any Bill be reserved for the signification of His Majesty’s pleasure, the
